Mcfly Changing my Life : Chapter 1

I walked up to the venue and sighed I could'nt believe I was going to a Justin Lee Collins show. Better yet Mcfly were getting interviewed on it today. I love Mcfly. I have ever since they first came out when I was 16. I am now 24. I walked into the venue with the ticket in my hand. I handed the ticket to the security man. He inspected the ticket and then let me through. But befor I actually got into the room a man who was standing at the door asked me if I had any tatoo's for some strange reason. I said I had. So he pulled me aside and asked to see it. Once he had seen the tatoo he wrote something down on a piece of paper and let me through into the room. I found my seat and sat down just before it started.

Justin Lee Collins came onto the stage and sat down on one of the chairs that was set up on the stage. Then he introduced Mcfly and they came on and took up the space of the other couch on the stage.The audioence clapped and cheered as they came on. The interview was very funny and there was a lot of laughs in it. Then the interview took a turn to tatoo's. All four of the Mcfly boys had a strange tatoo. Then Dougies full arm tatoo came up on the screen above. I admired it for a minute. Then Justin Lee Collins started calling people's names from the audioence and they had to show them there tatoo. Then I realised why the man by the door was wanting to know if I had a tatoo. Then I heard my getting called out by Justin Lee Collins. So I stood up so he knew where i was. Then he asked to see my tatoo. So I turned round and pulled the back of my top up so they could see the tatoo. He asked what it was and what it meant. So I said it was a pair of pants with angel wings coming out the sides to make it look like the pants were covering the angel wings. He asked what it meant. So to be really cheeky I said that the Mcfly boys should know what it meant. Next thing I know Dougie is walking up the steps to where I was. He spun me round so he could see the tatoo and then he read the words beside it. The words said " Her tatoo's hidden by her underwear". The lyrics from the song 5 Colours in her Hair. I shoved my top back down and Dougie nodded and hugged me then ran and sat back down. Then Tom asked what it was and Dougie just said our little secret and I smiled at him.

Once the show finished I walked out of the venue with the bustle of people leaving as well. Then I felt something tapping my shoulder. But I just ignored it and carried on walking. But then I heard some one call my name. So turned round and fought my way through the people walking in the other direction. Untill i felt some one grab my hand and pull me out of the crowd and drag me into a room. I finally saw who it was and I let out a smile.

ï¿½

Chapter 2

I kept on smiling at him. He smiled back. He had a cute weird smile I liked it. "Hi I'm Danny" he said. He smiled and and held out his hand. I replied with "Hi I'm Jodie". I took his hand and shook it . I couldn't believe I was actually meeting and talking to Danny Jones from Mcfly. As much as I liked this moment I did want to know what he wanted. So I asked him what he wanted with me. All he said was to follow him. So I followed him.

He led me into a dressing room where I saw the rest of Mcfly sitting down and talking. As soon as I walked in the room Dougie stood up and said hi to me all over again. I introduced myself to everyone. Then I asked Danny once again what he wanted with me. Then Tom piped up "Aww Jodie has our Danny been harrassing you". Then Tom walked over to Danny and whaked him on the head. I couldn't help but laugh by then. "No actually" Danny replied "We want to see this tatoo you have about us, Dougie will not say a thing about it he only laughs when we ask him. I looked over at Dougie and he gave me this evil grin so I winked back at him. Then next thing I know Harry has grabbed my hands and has shoved me into a wall.

Then he spun me round so I was facing the wall. Danny then lifted my top up.They all gathered round and looked at the tatoo. Danny and Harry laughed as Tom sung the lyrics that was on my back. Finally Harry let go of me and I sorted my top. "You know you could have asked for me to show you it" I said sarcastically. "Yeah I know but then you wouldn't have been able to see my ninja skills" replied Harry. That was the first time I heard him talk since I came in. He had a lovely accsent. We then got talking for a few hours about music and stuff like that. Then I realised the time. " Dang I've got to go it's like 11:30" I said shocked at how long we had been talking for. I got up and grabbed my bag. As I was heading out the door. But before I left Danny shouted wait. So I stopped and waited for Danny. He handed me a piece of paper. I opened it up. It had four numbers written down. So I tore a bit of the paper off and wrote down my number for Danny. He hugged me then I left.

When I got home my phone started to ring. I answered it and all I heard was boys screaming into the phone. Then one of them gave me a address and told me to meet them there. I looked at the four numbers on the paper Danny gave me. I laughed at it. He didn't tell me who's number was who's.Guess I will find out one day.

Chapter 3

The next morning I woke up to my alarm clock ringing in my ears. I looked at the time. It was 9:30. I was to meet the mystry people at 10:00. So I got up and changed into jeans and a black top and my Ed Hardy hoddie. Before I left I grabbed my phone and the piece of paper with the address on it and left my house. When I got outside I called for a taxi. Well it wasn't like I was going to drive there and get lost in London. Once the taxi came I gave the driver the address on the piece of paper. It only took about 10 minutes to get there. Once we stopped I paid the driver and got out the taxi.I looked at the building. It was big looked about 2 floors.

I saw a door that has a sign saying reseption above it so I thought that there would be the best place to start. So I walked into the building and went up to the desk. It was a really nice lady working there. She asked for my name and I told her it. She looked something up on her computer and then told me to have a seat on a couch at the other end of the room. I walked over to the couch and sat down thinking how did she know I was coming here I don't even know I was coming here. My thinking was interuppted by something poking my neck. I turned to see four boys standing behind the couch about to poke me again. They started to laugh. It was probably cause of how shocked I was. I got up and greeted them. "So you four were the guys on the phone" I asked suspically. "Why did you think I wanted your number" replied Danny. I shook my head at him and he put on this puppy dog eyes and by then I had to laugh."So what do you want with me this time Mcfly boys"I had to ask. "You will just have to wait and see" Dougie replied. The four of then started to walk away so I followed along with them.

We walked into a recording room. Only then did I realise where I was. Gosh I am such a airhead. Tom gestured for me to have a seat on the couch so I did. What I didn't want to be rude. The four boys went into the recording booth and started to play their music. After about a minute of them playing that song I started to hum along to the tune. I think it was a new song that they were recording. I liked the way it went. The softness in Tom's voice but the edge in Danny's. It worked well. Once they had finished recording they came back through and sat with me on the couch. They asked me what I thought of the new songs and I said that I thought they would be a hit with the fans. They seemed glad to hear that. Then we went to get something to eat in the canteen. As we walked I spoke to Danny. We got talking for a bit then I pulled out a bit of paper and he asked what it was. I replied with "Oh it's the numbers you gave me last night but I seem to have a problem with them". " Ok what was the problem?" Danny replied. " Well you didn't say who's number was who's" I answered. All Danny done was laugh. Finally when he had stopped laughing he grabbed the paper off me and scribbled some things down on it with a pen that he had in his pocket and then gave it back to me. I decided not to look at it yet so I shoved it in my pocket and carried on walking with the boys.

We walked into a canteen and got some lunch. We sat down at a table and we all started talking. Then my phone went off. My ringtone was Silence Is A Scary Sound. I could feel myself starting to blush as I searched in my pockets for my phone. When I finally found my phone the ringtone suddenly got louder like it was trying to mock me. I quickly answered the phone before the stares from the four boys mede me feel more embarassed. "Hello" I spoke into the phone. "Hey Jodie can you get down here real quick the place is packed we need help" replied Ally my best mate. " Yeah sure I will be there in no time" I answered before hanging up. I turned back to the four boys who were now flicking bits of food at eachother. " Hey guys I have to go my mate needs help at work but thanks for everything it has been amazing". Aww don't leave". Danny pretended to beg. Tom who was more mature said" Ok cool it has been nice seeing you again Jodie have fun". I hugged all four of them then left. But did I know that this might be the last time I see them.

It had been five weeks since I had seen the Mcfly boys at the recording studio. I have been working with my friend Ally for the full five weeks non stop. Me and Ally owned a small bakery/cafe in the centre of London. I was always full of people wanting a coffee or to buy cakes to takeaway. Ally's boyfriend Jason also started to work here about a month ago. Ally was out serving customers who were sitting in. Jason was working in the kitchen baking a fresh batch of cakes and I was out doing the takeaway orders and the till. It was just like a normal day. I was serving at the till. I had my head down at the till. Then someone came up to me and asked if they could order some cakes to be taken away with them. I said yes and walked over to where the cakes were with my head down. I asked him what cakes he wanted. Then I looked up. I put my hand over my mouth and tears started to form in my eyes. He looked at me properly and then smiled. "Oh My Gosh" I pratically shouted. I went round the counter and hugged him. He laughed at my reaction."Danny what are you doing here?" I asked. "Well I was getting some cake". I laughed at him. Then Ally came out to see what I was shouting about. She stopped dead in her tracks.

" Your your " was all Ally could say. We both laughed at her. " Ally this is Danny from". I was then interuppted. " Danny from Mcfly Jodie of course I know who he is". Danny laughed at her control. " Danny this is Ally my mate" I spoke to Danny. Ally came out from the counter and shoke hands with Danny. " So what brings you here to Little Cuppa" I asked "I am here for cake can I get some?" Danny replied. " Sure" I answered. I walked back round the counter and gave him the cake to take away. The shop was closing up now so I offered him a cuppa. He accsepted. So Me, Danny, Ally and Jason sat down at a table. I introduced Danny to Jason. They seemed to get on well. Danny was telling us all about the music industry. Then Ally asked how I met them. I could feel my cheeks going red and then Danny laughed at me and told the story. At the end of the story Ally and Jason were staring at me. Ally then shoved me and I laughed. " I didn't know you had a tatoo". Jason piped in. " Haha I do" I replied. I then got up and showed him the tatoo. He read it and looked at the picture. I sat back down just as Danny looked at his watch. " Aw man guys I got to go now but I will see you sometime" He said. Ally and Jason said bye and carried on with what they were doing beforehand. I walked along with Danny.

We were walking along to the car park a few meteres away. He started to say that I should see them again and how it would be nice to hang out with a non crazed fan. We got to the car park. Danny handed me a bit of paper and told me to meet them there tomorrow. He seemed to have a thing with handing bits of paper. He then got in the car and drove off and left me there. I looked at the bit of paper and smiled. I could not wait until tomorrow.

Chapter 5

I woke up the next morning and got up and out of bed. I showered and got changed. I wore a casual but smart outfit. I put my hair up in a bun and grabbed my car keys and phone and headed out the door. But then I ran back and ran to my room and over to my bedside table and grabbed the note Danny gave me and ran back out my house and into my car. I drove across the whole of London to find the address. After a whole hour of driving aimlessly around the capital I had finally found where I was meant to be.

I parked the car and got out. I nevously walked up the path to the front door of the house. I pulled the paper out of my pocket and looked back and forth at the paper and house name. Ok I was at the right place. I got to the front door and rang the doorbell. I waited a little while but no one answered, maybe I was at the wrong place. I turned and walked back down the path when I heard " Oi where are you going, you only just got here litrally" I turned round and saw Danny standing in the doorway wearing baggy jeans and a black and white T-shirt. He smiled and came out over to me at the end of the path. I looked down and realised he was in bare feet. I could feel myself getting redder. "Hey are you coming in?" asked Danny. My reply came as "Why are we whispering?" He just laughed and walked back up the path. "Well you coming in"? I obeyed and followed him up the path for a third time and walked in.

Chapter 6

I walked through the front door behind Danny and the first thing I saw was a T-Shirt lying on the stairs that face the front door. Danny also seen the T-Shirt and hesitintly grabbed it and threw it away in a cupboard. Next thing Danny is raising his voice into the the empty akward silence but not to speak to me. "Oi Dougie, I thought I told you to clean up around here mate" calls Danny.
Next thing I heard a groan and fumbling coming from upstairs. Next thing I saw was someone come down the stairs in only a pair of black boxers. I quickly looked down to the floor. I felt myself blushing and going hot. The second thing I felt was two hands appear over my eyes and cover them. I tried to move my head to free myself from the hands but I give up to easily and stopped.
"Oh I didn't know we had people over" said an embarrased Dougie. I laughed a little at that.
"Yeah mate just go upstairs and get changed" replied Danny.
Then I heard footsteps leading to the ceiling above me. The hands of Danny finally got taken away.
"Sorry you had to see that", exclaimed Danny.
"Well I didn't get the chance as you covered my eyes so quick", I replied.
Danny looked shocked at my answer to him, like he thought I wanted to see Dougie naked. Eww!! He soon started laughing though, to my relief. Then Danny walked through into another part of the house. I stayed where I was.
"Are you coming or what?" Danny asked. I smiled, nodded and let him lead the way.

We walked into the living room I think. I was surprised at how clean it was for four boys to live here. This must have shown on my face cause the next thing Danny said was "Just cause we are four boys it doesn't mean we don't clean our own house."
I just laughed it off. Danny gestured for me to have a seat on the sofa. I sat down on the black leather sofa and took in my surroundings. The walls were cream coloured but with what looks like water stains I hope. There was also a few beanbags lying in the corner of the room they were also black. They had a T.V and a D.V.D player at the corner opposite. Around it was stacks of D.V.D's and videogames. There was also a couch the same size as the one I was sitting on. Once I had finished scanning the room I realised that Danny had left the room. Cheers Danny.

I sat uncomfortably on the sofa wondering where Danny went and why he would leave me on my own in his house. I wanted to get up and look for him but I figured I would look stupid doing that so I stayed seated. Then I heard some footsteps coming down the stairs. Shit! How the hell was I supposed to explain why I was sitting here alone. I could hear the footsteps getting closer. Well there was nothing I could do but sit here and be so embarrased when the person finds me.

The footsteps reached the bottom of the stairs. I looked away from the door and looked out the window. I heard the footsteps get closer to the room and then finally stop.
"Hey" they said. I turned to see Dougie standing at the door frame.
"Danny rejected you all ready?" Dougie asked.
"Yeah, have you seen him?" I replied.
"Yeah I saw him in the kitchen as I walked past", Dougie answered. "Just over there," he pointed.
"Thanks", I gestured

I walked into the kitchen to find Danny pulling mugs out of a cupboard. I watched him as he placed them gently on the worktop. I decided to scare him. I tiptoed over to him without him noticing, suprisingly. I then put my arm around his neck and got him in a headlock.
"Thats what you get for leaving me", I laughed.
His face started to go red so I let go.
"Well then", he replied with a evil grin.

He grabbed me by the waist and spun me around as I screamed.
"Danny put me down please", I begged.
"Your wish is my command", was what he replied with.
I slowly felt the spining slow down which was a good sign. But then I was being seated, on the work top. How nice. I looked down at as he looked up at me.

We met eye to eye...

Chapter 7

I looked right into his eyes. His deep blue eyes. I melted. He leaned forward, not taking his eyes away from mine. I could'nt do it. I moved further on to the worktop, tearing my eyes from his. He understood and backed away.

"Sorry, I just can't", I stuttered.
"It's ok, I don't know what I was thinking", replied Danny shyly.
"It's fine", I said awkwardly. Then we heard a click.
"Water's boiled", shouted Danny.
He sure knew how change the atmosphere in a room quickly. I laughed as he spun round, boyband like and poured the tea. I watched him while he got the milk and finished making the tea. He turned round agian and placed the two cups of tea beside me on the worktop. He then jumped up on the worktop beside me causing the tea to spill over the edge of the cup a little. He grabbed a cup and took a sip.
"Ahh nothing like a good cup of tea", sighed Danny, "I hope yours is ok".
I took a sip of my tea "Nope this is shit", I laughed.
Danny sulked and I laughed. I hopped down from the worktop and grabbed the sugar which Danny had left out and put another two teaspoon fulls in and stirred.
"Sorry didn't think you needed sugar, I thought you were sweet enough", Danny flirted.
"Aww that's cute", I replied.
My heart melted. I jumped up on the worktop and moved back until my legs were crossed on the worktop. I grabbed my tea and took a sip.
"Much better" I smiled.

Me and Danny just sat in the comfortable silence, only hearing the occasional sip from us drinking our tea. I enjoyed it. I finished my tea so I placed it carefully beside me. I looked at Danny who turned just as I did. I smiled at him and he smiled back. I grabbed his mug and mine, got up and shoved them in the dishwasher. I took Danny's hand and pulled him off the worktop. He groaned as I did so.
"I need to go", I spoke.
"And you had to pull me up why?" Danny questioned
"So I could get a hug", I simply replied.
Danny pulled me into the hug I wanted. I took in his sent. It was sweet but not to sweet. I liked it. I didn't want this hug to end. But I suppose it had to. I let go and took a step back. He walked me out of the house
"Thanks", I said.
"No bother, I shall see you soon", Danny replied
I smiled in return.

Once Danny went in I walked down the path and into my car. I just sat there for a minute. Am I in love?

Chapter 8

"No I can't be it's stupid of me" I sighed

I drove through the centre of London. Looking at all the shops around me and sighed. Then I heard my phone start to ring "Heart Skips a Beat" by Olly Murs blasted through my phone. Luckily I was coming up to traffic lights so I could answer it.
"Hello" I spoke into the phone.
"Hey" Danny replied.
"Oh hey Danny, why are you calling cause I am in traffic?" I asked.
"Ok well it was just about today". He rushed "Look I really need to tell you something it's really important,"
"Look I'm sorry but I'm driving now", I interuppted, "I'll phone you later, Bye"
I hung up the phone and concentrated on the road.

I finally got home after about an hour, cause of all the traffic. I threw my keys and phone on the coffee table and headed to my room and got changed. I was going to work for a 4 hour shift. 6 till 10.
