Immortal Love Will Always Be Dead(werewolves pov)

By : IceBreaker

Adrianne is a seventeen year old girl who has to face complications in her life of being a werewolf.

Published on Booksie

booksie.com/IceBreaker

Copyright © IceBreaker, 2014
Publish your writing on Booksie.com.

Table of Contents

Immortal Love Will Always Be Dead

Your thoughts say differently

Your Mine....Only Mine

This is it

She's just too much

The Plan

Can't be trusted

It's Todd's world

What Todd wants

A hot mess

Nothing but the rage

Unbreakable

Can't fight any longer

Breakable

Epilogue

Chapter 1: Immortal Love Will Always Be Dead

Sorry for any spelling errors

ï¿½

His fangs slid out of his gums and he growled at me. I gasped as he charged at me. Before I had the chance to scream, his body fell on top of mine. "Get off me!" I yelled. I was just as strong as him. I felt myself about to change. I growled back at him. His hands grabbed my neck and he squeezed. I felt the familiar burning feeling filling my body. My eyes turned a dark crimson. My inner wolf was coming out. I finally managed to push the vampire off of me. He flew across the field and got up the second he fell down. I got on all fours and screamed out. It felt like my body was ripping apart. The vampire smiled and came over to me again but not before my wolf ran to him. My mouth opened and my teeth sunk into his skin. He didn't scream, he pushed me off. "Come here, doggy." He teased and then ran off deeper into the woods. I ran after him. My claws dug into the earth and I snarled as his scent seeped into my nostrils. I felt nothing but anger. I growled at him and caught up with his fast speed that was until I was knocked out by something. I fell onto my stomach and instantly got up looking around. Another wolf-one I immediately knew the second I saw him was growling at me. I growled back at him and continued chasing after the vampire. I stopped when he ran out of the woods and ducked into the edge of the lake. I growled angry that I couldn't catch him. The same vampire has been coming around my pack for months and he's too fast for everyone. Even me and I'm the fastest wolf in my pack. The wolf came beside me and his emerald eyes stared into mine. I growled at him. Why was he following me? It's his fault the goddamn vampire got away. I ran away and hid behind a tree where I phased back. My black hair hung down covering my breast. I stood up and walked until I found the bush where I placed my clothes before I phased. I slipped on my black shorts and black tank top. I almost never wore shoes. I was comfortable walking barefoot. I looked up at the moon. It was a half. I sighed and turned as Eric's wolf stopped in front of me. His body shook and he let out a low dark growl and then transformed into his human form. He got up. His eyes turned back to hazel.

"Why the hell did you tackle me?" I asked trying to keep my eyes on his face. I've always wanted to fuck him and he always wanted to fuck me but it never happened and it never will. "You can't go chasing after that vampire. He could've killed you, Adrianne." He said. "I am not your concern." I growled. He sighed and looked down at his feet. I closed my eyes. "Can you put some clothes on? It'll be easier to look at you if I didn't have to make sure my eyes don't wander down to your cock." I opened my eyes and Eric smirked. He slowly turned and grabbed some fabric from behind a tree. He slid a pair of black jeans on and looked back at me. "As I was saying, you don't know what vampires are capable of. You have to be careful." There was true concern in his voice but it hardly affected me. "Why do you care so much? You hate me." I reminded him. He shook his head and sighed.

"You're not the most likeable person in the world." I shrugged. "Am I supposed to change my personality because one person doesn't like my attitude?" I asked.

"I love your attitude. But the way you act towards your family is a different story."

"Don't even mention them to me." I said as I turned and walked away. Eric followed me. The moon lit up the woods but it was still kind of dark. Because of my wolf, I could see in the dark. ï¿½"Why do you hate my family?" He asked. I laughed quietly to myself. "I don't hate your family. I hardly hate you. It's your goddamn sister that gets on my nerves. She feels that just because she's alpha that she can tell me what to do." Eric was quiet for a second. I heard his feet crunching down on the leaves so I knew he was still there. I looked over to him and his eyes met mine. "Well.....she can tell you want to do because she is alpha." I rolled my eyes. Just the mention of her made me angry. Lana was the alpha of our pack. I and Eric's family were two separate packs at first but when we all met each other, we became one pack. There were nine people in my pack and now....it was over thirty. "She's such a bitch." I commented. I suddenly felt my arm being grabbed tightly. I turned and looked at Eric in shock. "That's enough! Stop talking about my sister like that." I snatched my arm away and glared at him. He glared back at me. It wasn't even anger we felt towards each other. It was Lust. But we rather not act on that. I began to walk away but I felt myself being pushed against a tree and Eric's lips closed over mind. I gasped in shock. I was a virgin and this was new to me. But my fingers moved throughout his hair, gripping it tightly and then they slid over his chest. My body was pressed hard against the tree. His tongue explored my mouth. Every inch of it. Shivers ran down my body as his hands moved over my breast and then down to my waist and over my ass. A growling sound rose from his throat. He was getting turned on. I could feel it through his pants. I opened my eyes and pushed him away. "Don't ever do that again." I said clenching my teeth. Eric smiled. "Or what?" He asked. I pushed him again and started making my way back towards the pack. "Or what?" He asked again following me. I ignored him until he stepped in front of me. "Or I'll cut off your dick and make you eat it." I threatened. Eric smiled. "I'd like to see that." He challenged. I sighed. Suddenly, Eric picked me up and slammed me onto the ground. My head hit the ground hard. "Ow!" I yelled. Eric climbed on top of me and held my hands down and looked at me. "I'm stronger than you. You can never hurt me." He said. His eyes were excited. "Fuck you and your sister." I couldn't hurt him physically but I can hurt him emotionally. "Say it again and I'll kiss you." He smiled. I didn't want that anymore. He leaned down. His hazel eyes turning back emerald. Our lips were inches apart. "I didn't say it again." I said looking up at him. He didn't answer. His lips kissed mine. Small pecks at first and then he deepened the kiss. This was basically like lip rape. I didn't want this. I bit his lip and he quickly sat up. A small amount of blood was trailing down his lip. He licked it away with his tongue and then smiled at me. "You got quite a bite. I like that." He whispered. His voice turned me on and made me sick at the same time. "Get off of me before I call my brother to come here and kick your ass." I said. My brother, Kevin, was taller than Eric and much stronger. Much older and faster. Eric was scared of him. I saw the immediate fear in his eyes. He got off of me and I got up and looked at him. "I'm still going to tell him about what you tried to do."

"Oh please, Adrianne. You wanted it." He said. I walked ahead of him and held my hand up and stuck up my middle finger as I continued walking away from him.

Chapter 2: Your thoughts say differently

Sorry for any spelling errors

Chapter 2: Your thoughts say differently

Eric's footsteps were still following me. I sighed in frustration. "Admit it, Adrianne. If my pack decided to leave one day, you'd be heartbroken." I scoffed. Yeah, right. I would love for his pack to leave. They already take up too much goddamn space. "Actually I would be happy. My family hardly likes yours."

"But you like me." He said. So fucking cocky. That's the main thing I hated about him. "Who said I did?" I asked looking at him. He shrugged. "I can tell you do. You didn't pull away when I kissed you. You liked it." He grinned. I wanted to hit him. I fucking hated him.

"You don't know anything about me." I assured him. He grabbed my waist and made me turn to him. I pulled away from him. "I know everything. Your favorite color. Your favorite song. When you're angry, your eyes become darker. And you hate your family. That's basically what you're about." He shrugged. I pulled away from him. "All of that is irrelevant. I'm sick of having to deal with this. I'm leaving and I don't want you to follow me." I left him behind as I came back to my pack. My heart was beating fast. My pack came into view and I frowned as I saw my mother. Her eyes looked into mine and I glanced away. I and my mother haven't been getting along. Ever since I finally phased four years ago. It took me thirteen years to phase which is quite late for most werewolves. Four years ago my dad got attacked by a vampire. He got killed and I had to watch.

I got so angry that night that I phased right there in the house. That night was scary and confusing. But it was in the past. My brother, Kevin walked up to me. "Did you catch him?" He asked. I looked at him confused. "Who?"

"The vampire." He answered. I shook my head. "He's still wandering around like a little bitch." I said. Kevin chuckled. "Don't worry about him. He won't get near the pack." He patted my shoulder and then growled. His head suddenly turned to the woods. I turned my attention to where he was looking. Eric was walking out of the woods towards us. "Oh, calm down." I said to Kevin. His growls deepened. I rolled my eyes and walked away from him. I didn't want to get in the middle of their fighting. A hand suddenly grabbed me. I turned to see Eric. "Would you stop walking and talk to me?" He asked. "No. Stop talking and walk away from me." Eric led me away from my pack and back into the woods. I sighed. "I know that all you want to do is get me alone so that you can take advantage of me." I said. He led me to the lake. "Take your clothes off and get into the lake." Was he serious? "No." He let go of my arm and unbuttoned his pants and pulled them down. I looked away from his naked figure. His gorgeous naked figure.

"Come swim with me." He said. I shook my head and looked up at the moon. I felt his hands force my shorts down. I looked down at him shocked. My shorts were down at my ankles and I reluctantly stepped out of them. He stood up straight and then grabbed my shirt. "I can do it myself." I snapped at him. He smirked. I sighed and then lifted my shirt up over my head and threw it down on the ground. Eric stared at my figure and smiled. His hands brushed my hair out of my face. I pushed his arm away. "Keep your hands to yourself." I said turning and walking towards the lake. "That's a large request, Dri." I turned to him. Anger was burning in my muscles. This fucker gave me a nickname? "I'm not yours. You call me by my name." I said. He held his hands up as if he was surrendering. I walked in and put my feet in the water. It was a warm temperature. Eric grabbed my hand and intertwined our fingers together. I looked at him and he didn't have that normal cocky smile on his face. There was something else in his hazel eyes. Love.

Resist him, Adrianne. Resist him. I turned to him and grabbed his hair. His lips touched mine instantly. He tasted likeâ ¦..cinnamon and strawberries too. It was intoxicating. His hands slid up my body. His hands unsnapped my black bra. I gasped when the straps slid down my shoulders. I stepped away from him and folded my arms over my chest to hide my breast. Eric grabbed both of my arms and pulled them apart. I was a little embarrassed. Nobody except for me has ever seen my breast. Eric smiled and leaned his head down. His tongue touched my nipple. I gasped. Chills ran down my back. I closed my eyes and sighed. But my breaths were shaky. It felt so good. But this was wrong. I could feel regret approaching. I will not let Eric take my innocence. His head snapped up. "Why not? You want me to." He said. My jaw dropped. A wolf couldn't hear another were unless they were in love with each other. I gasped. Butâ ¦â ¦I don't love him. I mean I think I don't. "You know what this means." He whispered. I shook my head. "No. No. I don't love you." I said as I turned at walked into the lake. I swam at the deep part. He was right behind me. "Why don't you just admit it? You do have feelings for me. And don't say you don't because I can read your thoughts and you know that can only happen if two wolves are sharing love."

I swam away and after a few minute, I looked back and Eric was nowhere to be found. I suddenly felt hand grab my ankles and pull me down. The water was dark blue and I came face to face with Eric. He pulled me over to him and pulled me tight against his body. I pushed him away from him and got back up to the surface. I let out a heavy breath and wiped water from my eyes. I felt my panties being pulled down. I kicked him but I missed every time. He suddenly came to the surface and smiled at me. "Where are my underwear?" I asked. He shrugged. This is why I don't love him. He's so annoying. "No I'm not. You love me." I glared at him. "Stop reading my thoughts!" I growled. He just laughed and swam around me in circles. "Make me." He challenged. I swam over to him and stared into his eyes. "No. You make me sick. Just looking at you." I said he smiled because deep down inside, he knew it was bullshit. And for some reason, even I knew it. 'You can hear my thoughts, can't you, Dri? That means you love me.' My head hurted. I could feel him in my mind. "Ow! Get out of my head!" I yelled. He smiled and grabbed my waist and pressed his erection against me. A surprising heat was burning inside of me. Then I realized we were both naked still. "Oh! Get away from me." I said pulling back.

I swam back to the woods and got out of the water. Eric grabbed my arm and turned me and kissed me. I tried pushing him away at first but he was stronger and he managed to get me down to the ground. My eyes were closed as his lips were on mine. I wrapped my arms around his neck. I felt his cock against my stomach and I instantly got scared. I pushed his shoulders. "No. Get off me." I moaned as he kissed my neck. He held my hands drown to the ground and continued using his mouth to explore my body. I closed my eyes as his lips landed back on mine. "Don't tell me to stop." He said against my lips. I fucking hated him butâ ¦â ¦.I wanted him. So bad. Eric pulled back and chuckled. His hands brushed over my womanhood. I shivered from his touch. "No. Eric. You have to stop." I said trying to push him off of me. "Why?" He asked. "Because I don't want to be the mother of three cubs at my age." I said. Eric smiled. "We don't have to be in our human form to have sex, Dri." He reminded me. Right. Of course he was right. Two werewolf lovers have to be in human form in order to conceive a cub. If they're in the wolf form, they wouldn't be able to make a child. Never understood the rules. "I don't want to be in wolf form during my first time, Eric." I said looking up at him." He smiled. "I love your innocence, Dri. That's what attracted me to you. The fact that you haven't experienced anything sexual and I will be the first to be able to rock your world." I rolled my eyes.

The cockiness was back. "There are plenty of other wolves here that I'd rather them take my virginity." I said. Eric snickered. "Like who?" He asked. Still pinning my hands down. "Like your brother." I snapped at him. His smile disappeared. He knew his brother, Kier, had a thing for me and it pissed him off. Eric got up off of me and sighed as he walked into the woods. I got up suddenly missing the warmth of his body on mine. I followed him. Great, now I'm the follower. "You know I didn't mean it!" I said. He started running and I knew what it meant. I ran after him. Eric's body shook and black and golden fur sprouted from his body as he got on all fours. He didn't stop running as he was fully in wolf form. I sighed as he ran away. I'll never be able to catch up with him in human speed. I thought of something. Anything that pissed me off. My dad's murderer.

My eyes grew dark and crimson again. I got down on all fours as the familiar burn rippled through my body. I let out a scream as the fur ripped out of my skin. I closed my eyes and opened them back as I was in my wolf form. In this form, everything in the woods was brighter and sharper. I dug my claws into the earth and took off running after Eric.

Chapter 3: Your Mine....Only Mine

Chapter 3:You're Mine....Only Mine

I ran after Eric. His running wasn't faster than mine. There was no way. I pounced on him and he growled in anger. I growled back at him. I crawled off of him and stared into his emerald eyes. He bared his teeth at me and before I knew it, he was on top of me. I was laid down flat on the ground. I felt his hot body on mine. He positioned himself above me and I felt his huge member at my entrance. He was about to take me from behind? In wolf form? Was he crazy? I phased back into my human form and rolled over on my back. Eric was still in his wolf form and was still on top of me. His head leaned down so it was inches from my face. I was so scared. I gulped. His teeth were sharp and his eyes were piercing green. "I'm sorry for what I said." I said in a shaky tone. "I didn't mean it. I only want you." I admitted. Did I just say that? Oh god. Eric phased back. His human form naked and on top of my body. He didn't speak. He just crushed his lips against mine. His hand traveled all over my body. Over my breast down to my womanhood. Down to my thighs. "I have to take you. Please let me take you right now." Eric breathed against my lips. I wanted him too. I wanted it so bad but what would Lana say? She was the Alpha and if she didn't want me near her brother, I was supposed to stay away. But oh well. "Okay." I answered. Eric looked at me with a shocked expression on his face. "Really?" He asked. I nodded yes to him. His lips nipped at my bottom lip and sucked it and bit it. All of this made me wetter and wetter. A pleasurable heat was rising out of my body. I wanted him to take me. I wanted it so bad. He kissed my neck and I felt his tongue lick it sending a shot of heat down 'there'. I let out a low moan as he sucked my breast and sucked at my nipple. My fingers gripped his hair. He left kisses from my nipple, up to my chest and to my neck. He smelled like fresh grass and strawberries. He pulled back to look at me. "This is going to hurt a little. You may even start bleeding." I nodded. I was okay with that, I just needed him inside of me. I never yearned for someone so much.

His eyes stared into mine and I suddenly felt something enter a little. I stiffened. "Relax." He whispered softly to me. I let out a shaky breath and looked up into his hazel eyes. He pushed in a little more and I felt him force through something. I gasped. I felt a stinging pain. I wanted him to stop but at the same timeâ ¦.I really didn't. I whimpered as tears rolled out of my eyes. "I'm sorry baby." He whispered. He brought his lips to mine. He didn't move. I guess he was waiting until I could adjust to his size. The pain wasn't fading at first. "Go ahead." I said against his lips. He sucked in a breath and pulled out slowly. He softly pushed back in. I dug my nails into his back and cried. "Want me to stop?" He asked. I shook my head. I wanted this and if he'd stop now, I would probably die. His strokes were painful at first but then the pain started to fade slowly. His eyes never left mine. That's when I realized that maybe I did really love him.

How couldn't I? His lips went back to mine and he thrusted in and out slowly. I gasped and moaned unable to hold it in. Fuck. It felt so good. I gripped his hair with my fingers. I could hear his moans in my ear as he slowly but deeply pushes in and out of me. My nails dug into his back drawing blood. 'I love you. I love you. I love you.' I told him in my mind. Because I was too embarrassed to say it out loud. 'I love you, too. You're mine, Dri. You're mine now.' He growled in his mind. My heart pounded fast. I felt something. Almost like a tickling feeling inside of me. The feeling became more intense and soâ ¦â ¦..unbelievable. My moans were cries now. 'Cum with me, Dri.' He moaned. I threw my head back and gripped his ass. "Oh! Oh!" I cried. Oh my god. My whole body shook with pleasure and I never felt anything soâ ¦â ¦â ¦.amazing. I let out another scream of ecstasy. Eric was panting and he grunted as he squirted inside of me. He held my arms down onto the ground and he was breathing hard into my neck. I looked up at the dark sky. I tried to calm my breaths down but it was taking a while. 'You're mine.' He growled into his mind. I closed my eyes. I was and am his and I actually didn't mind it.

Eric slowly got off of me and rolled onto his back beside me. He looked just as dazed as I was. "You're bleeding." He said. I nodded and turned my head to look at him. "Soâ ¦..you were my first." I said. I knew it was a weird conversation to have afterwards but I didn't know what else to say. "Yes." He breathed. 'Your first and your last and your only.' He said in his mind.

I looked at him. He turned on his side and pulled my waist against his body. "I love you." He whispered in my ear. 'You're never going to get me to say it out loud, Eric.' He sighed and pressed his lips against mine. He smelled so good.

'I want you to ride me'

'Who said we were ever going to have sex again?'

'I did.'* He suddenly rolled me on top of him. I looked down at him in shock. He smiled and rubbed his cock against my entrance. A low growl escaped out of my mouth.

'I'm sore.'

'You're a Were. You'll heal soon.'* I leaned down and kissed him. This kiss wasn't filled with Lust. It was 100% Love. I suddenly heard footsteps and smelled the scent of another wolf. But I ignored it. Could have been a random wolf passing through. Damn Weres. But then I recognized the scent of coconuts and vanilla. It was Lana. Eric's sister and Alpha of the pack. Before I had the chance to get off of Eric, she saw us. I gasped and got off of him. Eric glared at Lana. "What do you want?" He asked. Lana's dark long hair stopped at her lower back. Her eyes were dark brown and her skin was a little darker than ivory. She was beautiful but I hated her so much.

"We're all going out to hunt. And we need you two." She said. I wonder what she was telling him in her mind. Family members can automatically hear each other's thoughts. I'm sure she was saying something bad about me. "What exactly are we hunting?" I asked. Lana didn't even look at me. She kept her eyes on Eric. "That damn vampire that keeps coming on our land. We figure that if more wolves were helping us chase it, then we might catch it this time. We wouldn't want any more wolves killed by vamps like your daddy was." Lana looked at me when she said 'daddy.' My eyes watered. That was like a kick in the stomach that would cause internal bleeding. She turned around and disappeared back into the woods. Eric looked at me and sighed. He grabbed my body hugged me tightly. "Don't worry about Lana. She'sâ ¦â ¦â ¦I don't know. She's just Lana." I nodded and pulled back from him. He wiped the tears that rolled down my cheeks. "Come on," I grabbed his hand. "We have to go catch that goddamn vampire before he kills one of us." We grabbed our clothes and pulled them on. Eric, once again, intertwined our fingers together as we walked through the woods to get back to our pack.

We all had our land. Us wolves had a certain part of land. Vampires have a certain part of land and the Werepanthers and Shape shifters had a part of land. It was illegal to cross it. Well as far as the supernatural rules go. But the only problem my pack has ever had was with the vampires. The beautiful, yet dangerous, cold, heartless vampires who invaded our land and was only able to because they was too fast for us to catch.

Me and Eric walked in silence throughout the woods. "Soâ ¦I was just thinking about something." He said. If I wasn't lost in my own thoughts, I could have heard what he was thinking. "What?" I asked. He scratched the back of his head with his other hand and I stopped walking and looked at him. "If you say something stupid that's going to piss me off, I suggest you don't say it." I warned him. He shook his head. "No. It's justâ ¦â ¦Iâ ¦um. I came in you." He said. I nodded. I was smiling inside because of the amazing memory. "And?" I asked. "And you could easily be pregnant right now." Those words echoed in my head. Why the hell wasn't I thinking about that? Oh my god. I'm so stupid! My mother did always tell me that unprotected sex had its consequences. "Iâ ¦.didn't even think about that." I whispered looking down at the ground. He lifted my chin with his finger and stared into my eyes. "But would having my baby be so bad?" He breathed. No. It wouldn't. "I don't know." I said out loud. He chuckled. "You just said it wouldn't be bad in your mind." I sighed. "You know, just because we haveâ ¦â ¦.feelings for each other don't mean I want you to read my mind 24/7."

Eric shrugged and grabbed my hand again. "Why don't you read my thoughts? They're not that bad." He assured me. "I don't want to. When I hear them, it's not on purpose." He looked at me and smiled.

' I want to throw you down on the floor and fuck you so hard until I make you scream.'* I rolled my eyes. Of course that's what I wanted to happen, but we had something more important to do. As we got back to our area where our family stayed, we saw most of them in wolf form. Kevin walked near me and Eric. He was in his wolf form. Silver and white mixed in with black fur. I smiled at him and patted his head. He swung his head to look behind him and then ran off as he heard a howl come from Lana as she turned into a black wolf. "She's ready." Eric said pulling his pants down. I pulled my shirt over my head once again and from my peripheral vision, I caught Eric staring. I shook my head. Horny teenage boy. Eric chuckled and pulled his boxers off next. I tried not to look. But it was hard.

I pulled my shorts off next and then my underwear. Eric closed his eyes and growled as he got on all fours. A violent growl escaped from his mouth as I heard the ripping sound coming from his body. His beautiful gold and black fur sprouted out and covered his body and his eyes turned emerald again. I unsnapped my bra looked at Eric's wolf. His eyes were on my body.

'Stop looking at me.'

'It's hard to.'* He replied in his head.

I shook my head and closed my eyes and relaxed. Anger. Think of something that pisses me off. Ummmm. That goddamn vampire that keeps coming on our land. I growled as I felt the burning feeling again. My back burned violently. My eyes watered as I fell onto the ground on all fours and panted as I felt my fur come out of my body. When the pain stopped and I was my gray and black wolf, I nuzzled Eric's neck. He growled. I smiled on the inside.

'Come on. I read Lana's thoughts; she wants us to go north.' Eric said as he shot away from me through the woods.

I followed him. Thank god he was her brother. She wasn't a part of my family and I damn sure didn't love her so If I couldn't read her thoughts, I wouldn't know where to go. The woods were much brighter as me and Eric ran through it. I smelled the Vampire's scent. We were close to it. There was more than one vampire. I smelled five. I gasped on the inside. Oh god. We couldn't take five vampires. For once, I needed to know Eric's thoughts.

'Oh shit. I smell six vampires. What the hell? Did Lana send us this way on purpose? I have to protect Adrianne. No matter what. Fuck this. Vampires aren't shit. I can take them.'

Oh no. Eric was about to get himself killedâ ¦..for me.

Chapter 4: This is it

Chapter 4:This is it

I was right beside Eric. We ran together north as the vampire scent got stronger and stronger. I'm scared, Eric. Maybe we should turn back.' I said telepathically.

'No! We can't go back now. They can smell our scent. Even if we do turn, they'll chase after us. We have to keep going.'

My anger increased as I ran faster. I was suddenly tackled to the ground and not by Eric this time. I hit the ground with a hard thud. I saw Eric get tackled by something that was fast. I rolled back onto my feet and growled at the vampire I saw. The same one that I've seen earlier. He smiled. His eyes became dark. "Come here, girl." He whistled. I growled again and charged at him. He suddenly disappeared and was on top of me. I whined. I heard him laugh. "Not so tough. Are you dog?" He asked. I heard Eric's growls and whines.

'I'm going to distract them. I want you to run as fast as possible.'

'No! Eric....No! I'm not going to let you do that.'

'Adrianne, don't argue with me. Run in 5....4.....3.....2..

'No!'

'1.....Go!' Eric growled.

I took off running even with the vampire still on top of me. I growled as he pinned me back down to the ground. I rolled over to my back, making him fall off of me and then I got back on my feet and ran back towards the Main Area. Oh my god. Why did I leave Eric? Why? I'm so stupid. I love him and I left him like he was nothing. I turned back to my human form.

'Eric? Eric can you hear me?' I didn't get an answer. Oh no. Something must have happened. 'Eric.....Answer me...please.' I begged in my mind. I never beg for anyone. But.....for Eric, it's different. He still didn't answer. I had to go back. I just had to.

'Answer me, please!' There was nothing. Just as I was about to go back towards the vampire's territory, Eric was coming toward me in his human form. Blood was pouring down his chest. I gasped and phased back. I ran over to him and grabbed his face with both of my hands and kissed him hard with passion. He wrapped his right hand against my back pushing me against his body. Once I broke the kiss, I looked down at his chest. "What happened?" I asked. "I phased back mistakedly and they just started biting me. But they didn't realize that wolf blood is poisoness to vampires." I smiled. "Vamps.....they are so stupid." Eric snickered. "Yeah. The bites will heal soon. We're going to have to go back out there." I shook my head. "No. No. There's no point. It's almost six in the morning. The vampires will have to go to their 'hideout' soon. We might as well stay here." I said. He hesitated but nodded anyway. "Get your clothes on." I said. He walked away from me for a second. I then realized that I was still naked. I grabbed my clothes and placed them on. He came back to me with his clothes on and a small smile on his face. "What?" I asked.

"I can't believe that when you realized that I wasn't dead, you couldn't even tell me you love me." I rolled my eyes. He can't be serious. "I've told you."

"Yeah, in your mind.....while we were having sex." He answered. There goes the irritating Eric again. "You better be happy I said it at all." He sighed and pulled me against his body. "I am happy you told me, Dri." He kissed the top of my head. I wrapped my arms around him, closed my eyes and breathed in his scent. He smelled like honey , roses and apples. I didn't realize we were being watched until I opened my eyes. I gasped and stepped away from Eric. He looked at me confused and then turned his head and saw Lana.

"You too are suppose to be out, hunting." She said. I wish she'd put some clothes on. 'me too.' Eric said telepathically. I chuckled and looked at him. "What's so funny?" Lana asked. I just shook my head. "We were out, until both of us almost died." Eric said glaring at her. She raised her eyebrow and looked at me. "You let my brother almost die?" She asked. She thought I did it on purpose? That fucking bitch. "I didn't do it on purpose and he told me to run. I wanted to stay but he told me to leave." Lana scoffed.

"And you listened?" I nodded. "We'll you're the omega, of course you would have to listen to the brother of the alpha."

I'm sick of this. I stepped to her so we were face to face. "Lana, I don't give a fuck that you're alpha. I don't. So stop trying to rub it in my face because it doesn't fucking affect me." I said. She smiled. "You want to be alpha more than anybody, Adrianne."

"Lana, just go. Now." Eric said. She looked at him and then turned her head back to me. "Stay away from my brother." She grabbed Eric's hand and led him away into the woods. I sighed. God I hate her. I wonder where everyone else was. I suddenly heard a growling coming from behind a tree. I slowly turned. I breathed in the air and smelled the scent of.....death. There's a fucking vampire around, before I had the chance to shift, the same vampire we've been chasing was walking towards me. He had a smile on his face. "I thought the 'lone wolf' was just a saying." he said. My heart pounded fast and hard. "My family is out right now chasing you and your little friends."

"And you're here alone." His fangs slowly slid out of his gums. "What do you want from me? You can't have my blood. You'll die from it." I said. "I don't want your blood for me." He said.

"What do you want it for then?" I asked. "That's my business. I just need a little wolf blood, and I won't come back to your side of the land." Was he serious or was this a trick? Trusting a vampire was stupid. Right? I have to do this.....for my family. Even though I disliked them....I had to do it for them. "Promise?" I asked. He nodded once. "How are you going to get it? I asked.

He stepped closer to me and pulled a small clear vial with a small red top out of his pocket. He held it in his left hand while he pulled out a small knife with his right hand. "Hold out your arm." He said. I hesitated for a second but then held out my arm and look into the vampire's eyes. His pale, cold hand wrapped around my arm while the vial was still in his hand. The knife lowered and then touched my arm diagnally. He pressed down and I could feel my skin rip as he drove the knife across. I bit my lip to keep in the cries of pain. As the dark red liquid emerged from the cut. The vampire placed the knife back in his pocket and grabbed the vial, and placed it against my skin. Drops of blood filled the vial quickly. Soon, the vial was filled completely and he let go of my arm. He placed the top back on the vial and placed it in his pocket. "Thank you, dog." He said to me.

"Your welcome, bitch." He chuckled and turned around. I felt a whoosh and he was suddenly gone.

I looked down to my wound. I decided to lick it myself. When you're a wolf, your mate is suppose to lick your wounds. It's like an act of compassion. The taste of my blood was salty but it had a small sweetness to it that I enjoyed. The sun was about to come up and that made me excited knowing that we won't hear or see the vampires for at least twenty hours. The vampires can only come out at midnight. No time before. My mother was walking out of the woods. Dirt and leaves were in her hair. She looked at me and she looked apologetic. "Can we talk?" She asked. "No." I answered walking away from her. She grabbed my arm and made me turn around to look at her. "Listen to me, Adrianne." I sighed and listened.

"I know you're mad at me. And I'm sorry. I thought by now, your grudge would be over. But I guess not." She shrugged.

"I just don't understand where we went wrong. You know? I hate that my daughter hasn't even attempted to talk to me in over half of a year." It was longer than that. "We don't have to talk. It's not nescessary. You made your decision." I snatched my arm from her and walked off. I hated my mother and it was because she got remarried only a few months after my dad died. Fucked up. Right?

When I smelt Eric's scent and Lana's, I got closer. I heard them talking away from the main pack area. I hid behind a tree to listen.

"You're unbelievable, Eric. Mom doesn't like her. I don't like her."

"But I love her. She's my mate rather you like that or not."

"I'm the alpha. I can make you stay away from her." Eric grew quiet. Why did Lana want to mess up me and Eric's relationship? Why is she such a bitch?

Lana suddenly turned and I could have sworn she saw me. I hid more behind the tree. "Not only can I sense you, Adrianne. I can smell you." I sighed and got from behind the tree. My eyes were locked on Eric's. "I'll give you two some time. Eric, do what you have to do." She said before turning away and running off. I sighed and turned to him. "What does she mean by that?" I asked. His eyebrows were pulled together in an angry expression as he looked down to the ground. "Eric?" I asked.

He let out a deep sigh and his eyes finally looked into mine. "She doesn't want us together, Adrianne. And she can make us break up. She's alpha."

"You're going to listen to your sister just because she's alpha?" He didn't answer.

"You can't be serious."

"But I am." He replied.

"Why are you listening to her? Don't let her push you around. You're stronger and faster than her. You could kill her easily if you wanted. Don't let her control you."

"You think I want this? She's the fucking alpha, Adrianne! She can do whatever she wants. Even if none of us likes it."

"Don't let her break us apart." I placed my arms around his neck. He just looked down to the ground and grabbed my arms putting them back to my sides. He really wanted nothing do with me? Now I am the one begging for him to love me back.

"Ir's already done." He said. I felt tears come to my eyes. I just don't understand how after such a short time after we decided we were mates, how could I be so deeply in love with him that it makes my heart hurts?

As tears escaped my eyes, he looked away. "Okay. Okay. You want to hear me say it?! I love you! Okay! There. I said it! Now please don't do this." I said placing my hand on his cheek. His eyes turned dark for half a second. He stared into my eyes and then after a while, he placed his lips against my forehead. I closed my eyes. "Go find another mate." He whispered. My eyes snapped open and looked at him. He slowly turned and walked away from me. I felt myself about to break down. My heart was broken. Eric was my first love and yeah, it felt stupid to love some one so deeply, so fast but I couldn't help the way I feel. Werewolves fall in love fast.

But suddenly, my tears didn't come down because of sadness and heartbreak. It was because of anger. I dropped to my knees and growled. I felt my body burn and sting and the familiar ripping sound of my skin filled my ears. My growls got lower covering my screams of pain as my fur sprouted from within me. Lana was dead fucking meat.

Chapter 5: She's just too much

Chapter 5: She's too much

I growled loudly as I spotted Lana in the main pack area. She turned and looked at me. '"You wouldn't dare." She said glaring at me. I snarled at her. I jumped and flew to her at an instant. Before I could reach her even an inch, she shifted and knocked me down to the ground. I growled and pushed her off of me using my body. She growled as she glared at me. "Stop it!" My mother yelled as she ran in between us.

'Move out of the way before I end up killing you.'

I told my mother telepathically. She looked at me and shook her head. "Both of you stop it. Right now." Without warning, Lana charged towards me, pushing my mother back a few feet and bumping into me slamming down into the ground. I growled out of anger and pushed myself up to look back at her. I wasn't in any pain. Any scars or bruises I see when I'm back in my human form will heal almost immediatley. She paced back and forth measuring my next move. I didn't have to read her thoughts to know that.

"What the hell is going on?" Asked Eric as he came near us.

'Go away. This is between me and your stupid ass sister.'

He looked at me.'No. You have to stop this. Stop it right now, Adrianne.' I calmed down a little. I was happy because if he could hear my thoughts, this meant he still cared for me. He looked back at his sister and glared at her. "Stop it, Lana. Both of you calm down."

I sat down on the floor and felt my form vibrating as I shifted back to my human form. Eric looked at my body and then down to the ground. "You can't keep me and your brother away from each other." I said grabbing Eric's arm and looking at Lana. I was happy when he didn't push me away. Lana growled and turned back into her human form. "I'm the alpha. And what I say...goes."

"We're not hurting you by being together.Or are you just jealous because everyone in the pack has someone but you and you just don't want to be the 'odd one out'?"

"My brother cannot be with a weak wolf. Do you understand how that makes our family looks? Me having the position that I have, I cannot have a weak family or I will be reposted as lower than alpha and I'll be damned if I'm going to lose my position over you."

"I'm not weak." I said clencing my teeth. She rolled her eyes. "Yeah right. Could have fooled me. You're the weakest of us all. And it won't be much time before you realize that. You and your pathetic family are the weakest of anyone." I was about to walk over and grab her by her hair and pull until her whole outside of her head comes off.

'Calm down. Please, for me.'

'What's the point? You obviously don't care anymore.'

'Of course I do. Would I be able to hear your thoughts if I didn't?'

He had a point. I tried to calm down but my body was still shaking with anger. "We're going to be together if we want. And not even the fact the you're the leader of us all will stop us."

"Actually, you may want to rethink that, Adrianne."

"What are you talking about?"

A small smile appear on her face. "We've-me and mom have been thinking about leaving. Our packs separating. And you two wouldn't want to be too far from eachother now would you?"

"What are you saying?" Eric asked.

"I'm saying that as long as you two stay away from eachother and find other mates, we'll stay here but if otherwise, we're gone, Eric. And I do have the power to do that." Where the hell does she get all of her wikedness from? I mean her mom is nice. Her dad is nice. Eric is.....amazing. And she.....she is just a bitch.

Eric sucked in a breath and looked down to the ground. "Mother wants us soon, so finish whatever business you have with her and come on. I'll meet you at the cottage." She turned and ran off deep into the woods. It was lighter outside as the semi-circle of the sun appeared from behind the clouds. Eric looked down at me. "We don't have to listen to her." He sighed.

"Yes.....we do. We don't have a choice. Would you rather be broken apart or broken apart 3,000 miles away from each other?"

"Neither." I answered.

"Let's just obey her for now and find out what to do, later. I'll see you later." He said walking away from me. As he reached the woods, he got on all fours and changed into his wolf form. I stood there looking after him. I was heartbroken and upset. Upset that I had to obey a girl who only takes joy in making people's life a living hell. I have to get away from here. I have to. I went into my cottage that was in the middle of the woods. I opened the door and slammed it shut. Kevin was snoring on the couch. I rolled my eyes and went to the bathroom. I took a quick shower and placed on a long sleeved shirt. dark blue jeans and black boots. I walked out of my cottage and sighed as I breathed in the air.

I suddenly smelled the scent of Oranges and grapefruit and grass and something else I couldn't identify. I turned to see a guy leaning against a tree watching me. I stared back at him. "Um...who are you?" I asked. He smiled, "Todd." He answered.

"Well, Todd, you standing here watching me is kind of freaking me out so can you just go back from where you came from?" He ran his fingers through his hazel colored hair and smiled as the sun glistined off of his dark eyes. "I've been watching you for a while and you didn't notice."

I suddenly felt a little nervous. "Why were you watching me?" I asked. He grinned. "Well, let's just say I've been admiring you. You stand up to the vampire that comes to your land. You fuck your boyfriend or should I now say ex- in the woods with no fear of being caught and you stand up to the alpha of your pack. What's not to admire?"

I never thought of all those things as admiring. I thought of them more as irritating. "You seem to get irritated fast." Did he just read my thoughts? How can that be possible? Does he love me? Are we related?

"Not exactly to the first one and to the second-well....we definitely don't have the same bloodline."

"So what do you want exactly?" I asked.

"I want to join your pack." My eybrows pulled together as I looked at him. "Are you sure because there's alot of drama all the time."

"I love drama. My middle name is drama."

I laughed but he frowned. "No. I'm not kidding. That's really my middle name." I stopped laughing and became serious. "Oh." Was all I could say.

"Todd Drama what?" I asked.

"King." He answered. I nodded and put on a smile. "Well, fine. I guess you're in. But you'll have to talk to the alpha."

"Yes. The bitch- as you call her- that you dislike. Can't wait." He said indifferently. I led him deep into the woods to the cottage that Eric, Lana and their parents lived. I knocked on the door and Eric opened the door. He glared at Todd. "Who is he?" He asked.

"Todd King." He answered. Eric looked at me. "It's amazing how short of a time it took you to find someone else," I stared at him in disbelief. "I'm not with him. How could you think I'd find anyone else?" Lana then came at the door and as soon as she looked at Todd, she was in love. I could see it in her eyes. An automatic smile appeared on her face. "Um...Hi.....wh-who are you?" She asked. He flashed a sexy smile. "Todd. Todd King." she began to walk down the small stairs and almost tripped as she came face to face with Todd's perfection of a face. "So.....you're a werewolf too?" He nodded and tried to hide the smile that was on his face. I wonder why.

"Yeah. I want to join the pack. I stumbled upon the scent of wolves and followed it and ended up here. I watched you guys for a few days just to make sure you were all safe. And here I am." he said.

"Yep.....here you are." Her black hair blew in the wind.

"So am I in?" She nodded and smiled. He smiled also. "Great. Where do I sleep?" He asked.

"You can sleep at my place. I have an extra bedroom. Lana and Eric's house is all crowded." Todd smiled. Almost deviously. "I will be more than happy to stay at your place with you."

"I don't like that idea very much." Eric muttered. I sighed in frustration.

'Nothing is going to happen. Trust me.'

'Make sure he keeps his hands off of you. You may not be mine anymore but I will still make sure you're safe.'

'I know and thank you for that, Eric. Your name will always be permanently tattoed on my heart. You know that.'

'Same here.'

I smiled as I led Todd away from Lana and Eric and towards my house.

Chapter 6: The Plan

Author's Note: I've been feeling a bit under the weather lately so...I have no idea when i'm going to update next chapter.

Chapter 6: The Plan

I led Todd to my cottage in the middle of my woods and opened the door. "Kevin was still snoring on my couch. I rolled my eyes. "This is Kevin, my annoying brother. If he irritates you at any point, just break his nose." Todd flashed me a smile.

"That sounds like fun." He commented. "Doing it is more fun than talking about it." I led him through the small hallway and into an empty bedroom. The floors had a dark brown wood. With a small beige rug in the middle. There was a queen sized bed with brown sheets and a comforter. Across from the bed was a fireplace and two small windows beside it. "Wow....this is...."

"I know," I answered. "Believe it or not, my room is nicer than this." Todd smiled as his eyes romaed around the room and looked at me. "So....Lana is single?" He asked. I nodded. As far as I'm concerned. I don't know anyone who would want a wicked bitch from the west.

"I think I like her. And you too."

"You barely know either one of us." He shrugged. "I've watched the both of you. I know just about everything I need to know about you two." I looked down at the floor.

'I know you still have feeling for.....Eric.'

Todd said telepathically. I looked at him and smiled slightly. "Of course I do. But Lana won't let us be together. She thinks I'm weak and it'll cause her to lose her position of Alpha."

"I can distract her." He said. I raised my eyebrow. "What?"

"You saw how she was when she looked at me. If I spend alot of time with her, then she won't bother you and your boyfriend." This Todd King was smart and devious. I swallowed and looked to the floor. "Would you be okay with this? Like anytime I want to spend with Eric, you'll be with Lana?" He nodded once.

I smiled slightly. This could work. "Okay. Let's do it." He stepped closer to me. "I want something in return though."

"What?" I asked. He took another step closer until we were face-to-face. "A kiss." He said. My smile vanished and I stepped back. "No." I answered. He stepped closer to me. "One kiss or you'll have to deal with Lana for the rest of your life." He was right. I would have to deal with her. He had a cocky smirk on his face. I closed my eyes and breathed deeply. Kissing another guy makes me feel.....like a slut. Todd chuckled. "We're not going to be fucking. It's just a kiss. Harmless and innocent, Dri."

I winced at the sound of the nickname that Eric gave me. "I can't." I whispered. Todd walked over until I was pressed against the wall.

"I'll be the solution to your main problem. All it takes.....is one," He leaned in close. "Touch of the lips." He whispered as his lips slowly closed over mine. I felt weird. His skin was warm. And that was odd. Normally, all wolves would have hot skin. But Todd didn't for some reason. He pressed me against the wall and his hands were on my ass. That's when I decided that enough was enough. I pushed him away with as much force as I had. He smiled at me as he licked his lips. "You taste good, Dri. I can understand why Eric loves you so much." I stared down at the floor. I just kissed another guy. Another guy that was not Eric. I felt so ashamed of myself. I spoke softly as I said, "Can you distract her tonight? I want to be alone with Eric tonight." I said. Todd nodded. "Sure. Would like to go out for a run?" I looked him in his eyes and nodded.

He followed me outside and began to unbutton his pants. I felt a little embarrased. I was about to change right in front of this guy I hardly knew. I pulled my shirt over my head and turned as I unsnapped my bra. I pulled my pants off and then my underwear. I got down on al fours and closed my eyes as the burning transformation took over my whole body. I screamed in pain. I felt my fur sprout from out of my skin. My hands turned into claws. My eyes burned as they became a crimson color. I growled and turned to see Todd in his wolf form. I never seen the color of a soft white furred wolf. His eyes were black. He growled at me.

'Follow me, Adrianne.'

He told me in his mind as he took off running with extreme force. I ran after him as fast as I could and couldn't keep up. It was weird. I was told that next to Lana, I was the fastest wolf in the pack but Todd took of with blinding speed. I kept up as much as I could. The wind whipped through my fur. Adrenaline pumped through my veins. I felt so much energy as I ran faster and faster. This is the one good thing about being this.....creature. The speed. The strength. The running just calms you down way more than a hot bath would. Todd finally stopped running and turned to look into my eyes. His eyes were now white. How did that change colors? I mean, my wolf form and my human form had two different colors. And so did Eric's. But Todd.....he had one eye color in human form and two eye colors in wolf form. What's up with that? He slowly walked over to me. His white eyes turned back to black. He nuzzled my neck and I stepped away.

Don't even think about it. He growled at me and then turned looking at something farther out in the woods as if he was expecting something to happen. I walked and stopped beside him looking in his same direction. A black and golden wolf was running towards us rather gracefully. I smiled on the inside knowing exactly who it was. The wolf stopped in front of us.

'So you like spending time with him huh?'

My internal smile disappeared. He thought I liked Todd. I really don't.

'You can't be serious, Eric. I only want you. You know that.'

Eric's wolf head swung to look at Todd who was standing on his hanuches looking up into the sky.

'I want us to meet tonight in the woods. Near the lake. The exact same place where.....'

'We first made love?' He finished my sentence.

'Yes. That place.'

'Lana isn't going to be happy about that.'

'That's where Todd comes in. He'll distract your sister while me and you are together. You saw how she looked when she first saw him. She looked like she was in love.'

'You sure about this?'

'Beyond positive.'

I answered. Eric stepped closer to me and pressed our noses together.

'I love you.'

hearing those words made my heart beat quicken.

'I love you more. Meet me at nine tonight.'

'Gotcha, babe.'

Eric turned around and ran back through the woods and I saw his black and golden fur diassapear. I hoped to god that this whole thing works.

****

I was sleeping heavily when I felt something touch my cheek. I opened my eyes and saw that it was night time. I couldn't see who was touching me because it was so dark in the room. "It's Todd." He said. I sat up and rubbed my eyes. "Oh. Hey."

"Are you ready?" He asked. At first I was about to ask, 'ready for what?' But then I remembered. A small smile appeared on my face. "Yeah, let me just take a quick shower. I'll be out within seconds." Todd sat down on my bed as I got up and grabbed my towel and took a quick shower.

I threw on a black bra and panties. Along with a white tank top and white shorts. I combed through my hair and then went back into my bedroom.

Todd smiled when he saw me. "Eric sure is a lucky motherfucker." I blushed and placed my towel on top of my dresser. "Ready?" I asked. He nodded.

"You know what to do right?" He stood up. "Of course." We both went outside. He went to Lana and Eirc's cottage while I went out into the woods and by the lake. I could smell his scent already and it got me immediatley wet. "I missed you." Said a deep voice that was suddenly behind me. I smiled as I turned to him. He only had on a pair of jeans. "I missed you more." I said. He smiled and pressed his lips against mine. I felt dizzy. Almost high from the touch of his lips. He pulled back and unbuttoned his pants. Then he stopped and looked around in the darkness of the night. "We're kind of out in the open don't you think?"

"That didn't stop us before, did it?" He smiled and pressed me against the bark of a tree as his lips began to kiss my neck. I closed my eyes and moaned. I missed his touch. His taste. And I needed him inside of me right now. His lips went to mine and I gripped his hair in my fingers as I enjoyed the taste of his tongue in my mouth.

He pulled back only slightly and slipped his fingers beneath my tanktop and rose it up. He pulled it up over my head and placed it on the ground. My white tanktop on the dirty ground. Thanks alot baby.

Eric chuckled at my thoughts. "I hope you know that you're washing that."

He shook his head. "Make me." He challenged, I smiled back and turned so that he was now against the tree. "Oh, I'll make you. I'll make you do whatever I want you to." I said licking his bottom lip. He smiled. "That sounds like fun." I placed my hands on his chest and began leaving sucker bites on his neck. I pulled back only enough to look into his eyes. "If your sister asked what this mark is on your neck, tell her it's a rash from a tree." Eric rolled his eyes. "As if she'll even notice. With that Todd guy around, she'll only be focused on him."

"Stop talking and kiss me." I whined. He smiled and placed his lips down to mine. Our kissing got out of control and we both fell down on the ground still kissing. He was on top of me biting and sucking on my lips. He was in between my legs and I could feel his erection against my stomach. Eric broke the kiss and sat up on his knees and licked his lips. It was so sexy. I looked up into his eyes as he unbuttoned my shorts and pulled them down. He chucked them somewhere into the darkness.

His hands traveled over my body. His hands rosed up my legs, to my thighs and then my inner thighs and over my panties. But the panties was so thin, the small touch brought a great plaesure to my clit. I moaned and he smiled as if he was happy with my erection. He sat me up, reached around and unsnapped my bra. I laid back down onto the dirt and leaves as his fingers slipped under the fabric of my underwear. I felt them slide down my legs.

He stood up, unbuttoned his pants and pulled them down. He didn't have on any boxers and I smiled up at him. He laid back down on top of me, between my legs. I ran my fingers through his hair and looked into his eyes. "I love you." He grinned.

"I love you." His eyes stared deeply into mine and I felt him push inside of me. I automatically wrapped my legs against his waist to feel him more inside of me. I moaned as he pinned my wrists to the ground and kissed my lips as he rhythmically pushed in and out of me. I gripped his hair in my fingers and closed my eyes.

I heard a growl deep in his throat. Once again, I felt high from all the love he was giving me. Like there was no end. I didn't want there to be an end. I was suddenly on top of him, pending him down. I didn't know what to do considering the fact that I never rode anybody before.

Eric smiled at my thoughts and guided my hips back and forth and threw his head back and moaned. I loved hearing him moan. It just sounded so sexy and it made me get closer to my orgasm. "Eric!" I moaned as I also threw my head back. I was losing control. I never been this way before. It was slightly embarrasing. He sat up and still guided my hips as he kissed me.

I never felt so.....safe So good. So right with a person. Eric was the one person, the only person who made me feel shy, or happy, or angry before. Yes the anger was bed but I was always numb since my dad died and Eric actually made me feel again, even if he was annoying when we first met.

Eric nipped my bottom lip while his hands removed from my hips to my ass. He grunted as I rode him faster and harder. Me and Eric cried out as he came seconds before I did. I stared into his eyes and breathed deeply. He was breathing fast and hard. I leaned my forehead against his and closed my eyes. "I love you." He breathed.

"I love you more." I responded. He kissed me deeply and we both laid down. I fell asleep on top of him.....in the woods.

Chapter 7: Can't be trusted

Chapter 7: Can't be trusted

I felt large hands rubbing my back slowly back and forth. My eyes opened and I noticed that I was still laying on top of Eric. I turned my head slowly to the other side. "Are you woke, baby?"
"Yeah." I whispered. He grabbed some pieces of my hair and played with them in between his fingers.
"I had the weirdest dream." He said. I turned my head again and rested my arm on his chest and rested my chin on my arm. "About?"
He took a deep breath. "I don't know....it was more like a nightmare." My eyebrows pulled together. Eric looked like he was in pain. "What happened?" He turned his head so he wasn't looking me in my eyes. He licked his lips and then closed his eyes. "You.....you were laying down on your bed. I believe you were sleeping. It's like I was there but I wasn't. Anyway, your door opened and then it shut. Everything was dark at first until somebody placed their hand over your mouth. You screamed and screamed and whoever it was that snuck into your room....they....."
"They what?" I asked. I had a feeling that I knew what he was about to say. He sat up with me still on him. His lips attacked mine right away and I was suddenly down in the ground with him on top of me. "I love you and you belong to me. Do I make myself clear?" I nodded and forced his lips back down to mine. "Want a quickie before we have to go back?" He asked against my lips.
"Yes." I responded. Without any hesitation, he was inside of me. It was quick,dirty and so damn good. I didn't want to moan too loud. Werewolves have good ears. I could hear Eric's moans in my ear. And they turned me on. I was seconds from coming. Just a few more thrusts and I will be there.
"Fuck. Eric." I moaned. I felt his cum filling my body and he moaned while kissing my lips. I moaned in ecstacy as I came also. Eric continued kissing me agressively but blissfully. He held me tight in his arms.
"Well that was definitely entertaining." Said a voice. Eric immediatley got off of me. and I looked up to see Todd leaning against a tree with his hands in his pocket and a smirk on his face as he looked down at me and Eric.
"Well it wasn't a show for your benefit." Eric said holding me close again.
"Still entertaining." He said looking up at the sky. Me and Eric got up. But Eric made sure I stood behind him. I had a feeling that he didn't want Todd to see me because I was naked. "What are you doing out here anyway?" Eric asked.
"I was coming out for a run and to hunt." I grabbed my clothes and slipped them back on and threw Eric his clothes. "Hunting what?" I asked. I never saw Todd eat. So it made me curious about what he eats.
"Just....hunting." He said as if it wasn't a big deal.
Eric pulled his clothes on and grabbed my hand. "Well sorry that we couldn't do an encore for you but we have better things to do." Eric said as he led me away. I look back at Todd who was still smiling at me. I turned back and Eric placed an arm around my waist.
When we got back to my cottage, Kevin was sitting on my couch talking on the phone. I rolled my eyes. Doesn't he have anything better to do? Me and Eric walked pass him and went into the bathroom and took a shower. We had another quickie in there and got out. We laid under the covers naked and just began talking.
"So what are we going to do?" He suddenly asked. I looked over to him. "About what?" His eyes slowly met mine. "This Todd King guy. What are we going to do?" I sat up on my elbow. "Why would we do anything? He's a good person and he makes Lana happy."
Eric shook his head. "I don't trust him and have you smelled his scent? Werewolves don't smell like that."
"Yeah I noticed the wolf scent was slightly off but maybe he's just a different wolf. One that we never knew existed." I shrugged.
"Yeah....maybe." He responded with a low sigh. I reached over and turned his face to mine and kissed his lips. It was a short but meaningful kiss. When I pulled back, he smiled. "We fucked twice today."
"And?" I asked straddling him.
"And, twice is not enough." He said. I smiled as I leaned down and kissed him.

Lana's Pov

I smiled as Todd once again was at my door. I couldn't help but blush everytime I saw him. "May I come in?" He asked. I nodded and moved out of the way as he came in. His scent was different somwhow. Werewolves have three scents tops but he had more than three. He smelled good but unusual. I didn't understand it.

"Where's your parents?"

"My dad died a while ago and my mom is out somewhere." I said. Todd had a big smile on his face as he sat on the couch. I sat down on the chair across from him and cross my legs.

"Can I confess something to you?" He asked. I nodded.

"You are one of the most beautiful people I've ever known." He said. I blushed. I wasn't use to a guy making my heart jump excitedly. "Really?" I asked. He smiled and nodded.

"Well same to you." He ran his fingers through his hair and stared me in my eyes. "Lana, how long has it been since you last got fucked?" He asked. My blushing got deeper. I mean, any asshole ask me that and I'd bite his head off but with Todd saying that to me, it turned me on.

"A while." I admitted. It has been a while. When you have alpha duties and to keep everyone in control at all times, you don't exactly have time for romance. "How about, we go to your bedroom?" He asked. My smile slowly disappeared. "No, Todd. We just met. I'm sorry but....no." I said. Todd didn't look disappointed. He just kept the smile on his face. He got up and grabbed my hand. He looked deeply into my eyes and something happened. I felt dizzy. Almost drunk. I couldn't tear my gaze from him almost as if he was keeping my eyes locked on his. I suddenly wanted him. I needed him bad. He kissed me forcifully and grabbed bunches of my hair as his tongue danced with mine. He picked me up and forced me onto the couch where he got on top of me and pinned my wrist to the couch. "Do you love me?" He asked. I couldn't answer. It was a sudden question that I was at lost for words. He looked deeply into my eyes which gave me that drunk feeling again. "Do.You.Love.Me?" My heart beat quickened and I smiled and nodded. I did. I do. I loved Todd and I refuse to hold it in any longer.

"Do you love me?" I asked. He didn't answer. He just continued kissing me which as much agression. So much agression, it was painful and rough. I was suddenly being thrown onto my bed and I felt my shirt disappearing. Next were my pants. I looked up to see his light eyes were now dark with lust and danger. He rips my bra off and then my panties. I felt both scared and excited about how rough Todd was being. He suddenly turned me on my stomach. How the hell was he moving so fast? He placed his weight on me and I could feel him pulling his pants down and then his boxers. He was breathing hard in my ear and he let out a low moan as he entered inside of my pussy. His cock was huge. Too huge. I gripped the covers in my hands as I let out both moans of pleasure and whimpers of pain.

"Am I hurting you?" He breathed in my ear. "No." I lied. He pushed in deeper as if he wanted to hurt me. He placed his fingers in my hair and pulled hard. I gasped as my head jerked back. He began to kiss my neck and his teeth began nibbling my skin. His teeth were sharp. "You smell delicious." He whispered as he kept fucking me.

He placed his hands on my wrists and fucked me harder. He was almost hurting me but for some reason.....it felt good. I was nearing my orgasm. "Cum, Lana." He whispered as his lips were against my neck. Seconds before I felt one of the best orgasms I've ever had, I felt a sharp pain in my neck. I gasped and cried out in pain. Todd was.....biting my neck. I tried to push him off of me but he was stronger and continued to hold me down as my conciousness slipped away.

Adrianne's POV

The sun was going down soon. Eric went back home and I just went outside for a run. I was carrying a pair of pants and a t-shirt in my mouth. I can once again feel the adrenaline and it relaxed me. But that relaxation disappeared as I smelt the scent of a vampire. I slowed down my running and growled. I knew that scent quite well. That same goddamn vampire that's always coming around. I growled as I saw him sitting on his knees feeding from a girl that was laying against his chest. His eyes were closed and blood was around his mouth. The girl wasn't screaming in pain but moaning in pleasure. I must be in the vampire part of the land.

It's hard to not run fast and far when it relaxes you. The girl looked at me wide eyes and reached back to grab the vampire's dark hair.

"What?" He growled as he looked down at her. The girl pointed to me. The vampire looked up and smiled as he saw me. He pushed her off of him. I wanted to run back but....i knew the vampire would chase me and I didn't want him near The Pack. So I changed back into human form and put my clothes back on. The vampire looked down at the girl he was feeding from. "Angel, go wait for me at Aries's house. I'll be there when....I'm done here." He didn't leave my eyes for a second. The girl, Angel, got up and went deep into the woods until I couldn't see her anymore.

"Isn't this a lovely surprise?" He asked. I rolled my eyes. "I didn't come here for a purpose. I must have ran too far." I said. His eyes roamed over my body. "Still good to see you here. It's fun when you chase me."

"Yeah, well to me, it's.....annoying." I stopped because I suddenly smelled something. Something that smelled familiar on the vampire. I slowly walked towards him and stopped.

"You.....you smell like someone I know." I said.

"Uh....thank you?"

"No. I mean, there's this werewolf that just joined our pack and he smells slightly like how you smell."

"A werewolf that smells like a vampire? Are you sure its a werewolf?"

I nodded. "Yeah, he turned into a white wolf right in front of me and he's fast. Beyond fast. And his eyes were changing colors and....."

The vampire's eyes grew big. "He's a hybrid."

Chapter 8: It's Todd's world

Author's Note: The next chapter isn't going to be so pretty. Something bad is going to happen to Adrianne. I didn't excatly plan for this part when I first wrote the story but as the story progressed.....I got a whole new plan for it. Thanx for reading this story guys. Not sure how many chapters there are going to be. But enjoy this.

Chapter 8: It's Todd's world

"What?" I asked. "A hybrid. A werewolf/vampire hybrid." The vampire said. "A what?" I was beyond confused and scared to death. "You need to stay away from this guy." I ran my fingers through my hair. I didn't know rather or not I should tell Eric and the rest of the wolf pack.
Todd was a vampire and a werewolf.
How the hell was that even possible? "You need to get as far away from him as possible. Do you understand?"
"Yeah. Yeah I do but what if he doesn't let me leave?"
"Then I don't know what to tell you because it's hardly my problem."
"But still. I mean if he's a hybrid, wouldn't he have control over both vampires and wolves?" He thought for a second. "You're rather smart for a dog." He said as he began to pace.
"What is this guy's name?" He asked.
"Todd King." I answered. His eyes grew wide. It looked like he was about to cry for a second. "Todd?" He asked. I nodded. He had a look on his face as if he was about to pass out but that wasn't possible for vampires.
"Do you know him?" I asked.
He looked like he was in pain. "Todd.....King is my.....dad." He whispered.
"What?" I asked.
"That fucker is my dad." He growled. I never saw someone so angry.
"Wait, then why aren't you part.....werewolf?" He shrugged. "I don't know. I just never gotten the trait and neither has my sister or brother."
"So what do we do?" I asked. He thought for a second. "Well...maybe if he serves his purpose here then he'll leave. I doubt if your pack and my coven can kill him. I heard that werepire hybrids are more powerful than at least forty wolves and fifty vamps put together."
"Werepire?" I asked.
"Ignore the name and be serious. This is a serious matter."
"I know but I just don't know what to do." The vampire sighed and leaned against a tree. "Well should I pretend like I don't know anything until we know what to do?" I asked. The vampire slowly nodded.
"Or you can get the hell out of there. But either way is the smartest. Just don't piss him off." I nodded. "I won't."
He looked down to the ground. "What exactly does he want?" He asked to himself. Yeah. What did Todd want from my wolf pack? Or was it me that he wanted something from? Or Lana?
"Okay, so you should meet me back here tomorrow night around midnight. We'll form a plan but make sure until then that you don't know shit about what he is." I nodded.
"Okay." I said. He nodded once. "By the way, My name is Aeryn." He said.
"Adrianne." I said. He smiled slightly but in a way it was fake. He didn't like working side by side with a werewolf and I felt the same but Todd is a danger to both wolves and vampires.
"I'll be here around midnight." I said. Aeryn nodded once. I turned and instantly phased back not giving a shit if I tore my clothing. I can't think about it. Todd can read my thoughts. I have to think about anything but that.
As I ran through the trees with fast speed, I got back to the main pack area where everyone was acting tense.
My eyebrows pulled together. What was going on? My mother came over to me along with Eric.
Eric looked angry. Almost like he was ready to shift but trying his hardest to keep the process down.
"What's going on?" I asked. My mother bit her lip. I looked to Eric he looked heated. "Tell me." I whispered.

"Todd is alpha of the pack now." He said. My eyes grew wide with fear. "What?!" I asked. Eric nodded. Why would Lana give up her title for Tod?
'He probably charmed her and convinced her to let him have her title.' Eric said telepathically. I shook my head. That explanation isn't good enough. I walked pass Eric and my mother and tried to sniff out Lana's scent. When I smelled the familiar scent of coconuts and vanilla, I followed it.
I spotted Lana sitting on a chair watching the wolf pack. She didn't look angry, she looked.....high. "Lana?" I asked. She slowly looked up at me. "How could you give a postion like that up? And for a guy you barely know?"
"I love Todd." She said standing up face to face with me."
"How? You don't even know him! He could easily be evil!" I yelled.
"Can I?" Said a deep voice. I looked over to see him coming out from behind a tree. "It's rude to make assumptions about someone before you know everything them, Dri." He smiled. I swallowed. My throat felt dry and I felt nervous.
"I wasn't making assumptions. I was just saying....."
"Saying what exactly?" He asked. I bit my lip afraid to say another word.
"Well, if you have nothing to say, I suggest you keep your mouth shut." He said as he forced Lana out of her seat and they disapeared into her small house.
"What was that about?" Eric asked as he came near me. I looked at him in disbelief. "You know you heard the conversation even from all the way over there." He sighed and placed an arm around my waist. "I have to talk to you later, not here." I said. He nodded and kissed my forehead before walking away. I looked after him for a second before turning my head back to Lana's cottage. What the hell was happening?
****
It was two in the morning and I still haven't told Eric about Todd. It was impossible. Because if he finds out everything, he's going to charge in his family's house, try to fight Todd and Todd just might end up killing him. I couldn't risk that.
Eric turned the shower off and I heard him step onto the tile floor. I was sitting against the headboard of my bed and looked at him as he came into the room with a towel wrapped around his waist.
He dried himself off and threw the towel onto a chair and climbed into bed with me. He began to kiss me and when he noticed I wasn't kissing back, he pulled back and looked at me. "What's wrong?" He asked. I closed my eyes and shook my head.
"'Nothing." I responded. He slightly smiled and began kissing me again. I kissed him back this time to show him there was really nothing wrong. He pulled me on top of him. He placed his hands on my thighs and through my hair. I just stopped. I couldn't do this. I got off of him and he looked at me, confused. "Did I do something to piss you off?" He asked. I shook my head.
"No. I'm just tired." I said.
"You want me to hold you until you fall asleep? I have to get back home soon anyway." I smiled at him.
"Yeah, hold me until I fall asleep." I said. He laid down and pulled me into his arms. My head was under his chin and my leg was over his. I closed my eys. I loved the feeling of his body against mine. "I love you." He whispered. I smiled.
"I love you too." And I was off to sleep.
****
When I woke up, the sun was rising and I was in my bed alone. It made kind of upset that I didn't wake up in Eric's arms but I got over it and got up. I got on a pair of shorts and a tanktop and went into the kitchen where Kevin was sitting eating a bag of chips.
"Can you not eat all my food? You've got a house too."
"Yeah but mom is there with you-know-who and I am not going home if they're doing what I think they're doing. Fuck that."
I rolled my eyes and got out the ingrediants to make a sandwich. "Did you go out for a run this morning?" I asked putting a slice of ham on the bread.
"Yeah, with that Todd guy. He's faster than any other wolf I've ever seen." I turned to him. What was Todd up to? Was he trying to get close to my brother only to manipulate him? Or am I being paranoid?

"Kevin, you have to promise me that you'll stay away from him." I said. His eyebrows pulled together.
"Why?"
"Because I said so."
"Last time I checked, I was older."
"Only by two years. It's not that big of a difference. But seriously, promise me Kevin." He sighed and nodded while looking down at the floor. I turned back, made my sandwich and sat down at the table across from Kevin.
After I was done eating, I took a shower, threw on a pair of clothes and went outside. I heard yelling coming from Lana and Eric's house so I ran as fast as I can. When I got there, Eric and Todd were yelling at eachother. What the hell is going on? I ran and placed myself between them too. "What's the problem?" I asked. Eric looked mad. His eyes were that emerald color they always turned when he was in wolf form. And Todd's eyes were white.
"Tell your boyfriend to get the fuck out of my face." Todd growled. I looked to Eric who glared at Todd.
"He put his hands on my sister. I'm going to kill him." Eric retorted.
"I'd like to see you try you fucking prick."
"Stop it!" I yelled. They were both quiet and glaring at eachother. Lana slowly walked towards us and I can see a mark on her neck. I squinted my eyes. Don't think. Don't think. He can hear my thoughts. I couldn't make assumptions about the marks. Not yet any way. Without warning, Eric managed to reach over and punch Todd in his jaw.
Todd touched his jaw and it was red but changed back to his original skin color. "Okay. Okay. You'll see, Eric. I'm going to hurt you in a way you never imagined." Todd said.
"Lana, come with me." He demanded as he walked away from us and grabbed Lana's arm. She winced in pain as he pulled her away.
I looked back at Eric who's fist were balled up at his sides. "He's doing something bad to her. Lana doesn't take shit from anyone and now all of a sudden, this asshole took her postion and is taking control over her."
"Calm down."
"No. He has to go. I'm sick of him. I want him gone. Now."
"He will be.....soon. Just give it some time." Eric's eyes turned back to normal. He let out a low sigh and he unballed his fist. He took a deep breath.
"What do you mean give it some time?" He asked. I was hoping he wouldn't ask that. I reached up and gave him a kiss to distract him and luckily, it did.
Eric's POV
I loved the taste of Adrianne's lips. It was sweet and intoxicating. To me, she smelled like bananas, hazelnut, and freesias.
Whenever I kissed her, it blocked everything else out. All my problems. Everything bad that's happened. It clouded my thoughts. The bad ones and the good ones. I guess that's how it is when you're with your mate.
She curved her fingers into my hair and I pulled her tight against my body. I needed to feel all of her.
She pulled away from me and looked down at the ground. "What's wrong?" I asked. She shook her head. Something was wrong. I could feel it. I had to get into her head.
'Don't think about it. Don't think about it. Don't think about.'
"What are you hiding from me, Adrianne?"
"Nothing." She said.
"Okay." I said nodding casually. She narrowed her eyes as she looked at me. She knew what I was up to. I bent down and picked her up and flung her over my shoulder.
"What are you doing?!" She screamed. I just smiled as I started to run towards her cottage. She was hitting my back as I got the door open.
Kevin wasn't here which surprised me. I closed the door and took her to the bedroom. I closed the door and threw her onto the bed. She looked up at me angry. I pinned her hands to the bed and stared down at her.
"What are you hiding from me?" I asked again. She shook her head. "Nothing." She whispered. I leaned down and began to nibble on her neck. She moaned and giggled at the same time.

I stopped and pulled back to look at her. "Tell me." I breathed. She shook her head. I leaned back down and licked her bottom lip. She tasted sweet like candy. We kissed each other agressively and my grip on her wrists had tighten.
"Eric....fuck me." She said against my lips.
"Tell me what's been on your mind and I'll fuck you day and night if you want." She frowned and turned her head to the right looking out of the window.
"I can't." She whispered.
"Why can't you?" She looked back at me. "It's not important. Can we just continue the whole foreplay thing?"
"If something is bothering you-"
"Nothing! Nothing is bothering me for the last damn time!Now can you just shut up and fuck me?" It's amazing how quick she can piss me off.
I got off of her. "Why don't you just go fuck yourself?" I asked. I opened the door and slammed it shut.
Adrianne's POV
I sighed and got up. I made Eric mad and him being mad made me mad. I wanted to tell him so bad about everything. But Aeryn said not to tell anyone. We had to keep it a secret until we find out what we can do about it. If only we knew the reason Todd was here in the first place.
When it was ten o clock, I was laying in my bed, naked. I missed Eric and I wanted him here with me. To hold me. To make love to me. To do anything but be mad at me. I soon fell asleep.
I was in the state where I was half sleep but half woke.
I had my eyes closed and was halfway through a dream but I was also aware of the things around me. I slowly heard my door open. My eyes opened. I was facing away from the door. I smiled. I knew Eric would come back. When I turned, it was Todd standing there by my bed completely naked smiling down at me. I gasped and sat up. I was naked in my bed and Todd was naked right here next to me.
"Todd. What are you doing here?" I asked. My voice trembled. "I want something from you, Adrianne. And I 'm going to get it." He said. My eyes grew wide from fear.
"Wh-what do you want?" I asked.
His smile disappeared. "I want a child."

Chapter 9: What Todd wants

Chapter 9: What Todd wants

I tried to take in what Todd just told me. He said the words 'I want a child.' Goose bumps were suddenly on my arm. I was on the verge of tears.

"You know what I am, Adrianne. I heard you and my son talking, trying to think about what to do. The answer is....you can't do anything except let everything I do.....happen."

"But Todd..."

"But Todd...nothing." He ripped the covers from on top of my body and he was suddenly on top of me.

"Don't try to reach your boyfriend with your thoughts. He won't be able to hear them." He whispered as he kissed my cheek.

He pulled back to stare into my eyes. He opened his mouth and I saw sharp pointy elongated fangs. My eyes widened in fear. He grabbed my hands and pressed them down against the bed as he leaned to kiss me. I turned my head so that he couldn't but he forced his lips on mine anyway.

"Don't make this hard, Dri." He breathed.

"Fuck you." I said. He smiled and I noticed that my sentence had a double meaning. He wasn't going to stop. Not until he gets what he wants and what he wants is for me to give him a baby.

So many things mixed in my mind at once. "Get off of me." I tried pushing him away. He smiled at my weak attempts. "We can play this game all night, sweetheart. But I'm still going to get what I want." He growled.

"Please don't do this Todd. Please. Please. I'll do whatever you want just don't do this to me. Please." I begged.

With one quick motion, I was on my stomach. I gasped as I felt Todd breathing in my ear. "This is going to make us both, very, very happy." He whispered and I felt him painfully slide in. I let out a cry of pain and he moaned in my ear. "Shh." He whispered kissing my ear and then my neck. "Todd.....please." Warm tears escaped out of my eyes. "Shh. Just give me what I want, Dri. That's all you have to do." He said.

"No!" I yelled. His nails dug in my skull. I gasped in pain. "Stay quiet!" He growled. As he started sliding in and out of me, I can hear his moans echoing throughout the room. I closed my eyes. I wanted him to stop. It was hurting so bad. I had to somehow contact someone. Someone to help me.

'Mom? Mom? Kevin? Eric?' I asked in my mind. There was no answer. I suddenly felt something sharp go into my neck. I screamed out and clutched the sheets in my hand. Todd's fangs were inside my neck and he growled in satisfaction. His thrusts were faster and harsher.

"Stop." I cried.

His fangs disappeared out of my neck and went to the other side. I screamed again unable to say a word. He was taking so much from me. How could he do this?

Todd pushed in harder forcing a cry of pain from my lips.

He grunted as he thrusted in harder than ever. Eric was never this rough with me. He didn't make me cry out in pain every few seconds.

"Owww!" I cried. I felt some kind of wet liquid inside of me but I knew he didn't cum yet. It was coming from me. Was I wet? Or was it.....blood?

"Oh! Adrianne." He moaned as I felt his cum spill inside of me. I buried my head into the bed as I realized what just happened. I continued to cry as he slid out of me. I was ashamed of myself. It wasn't my fault but I still felt guilty for all of this. Todd placed his hand on my back and rubbed it softly.

And it made me cry even louder. "I'm sorry I had to do that to you but I knew you would say no if I asked."

"Get out." I muffled through the covers. His hand disappeared and I heard his footsteps walk away. The door opened and then slammed shut. I didn't want this. I wanted Todd dead. I wanted his fucking heart to be shoved down his throat. He's evil and pathetic and a prick. I sat up slightly and pulled the covers over me and then laid down staring up at the ceiling with dried up tears on my cheeks.

Lana's POV

My house has basically became Todd's house within days. He was alpha now and so whatever he says, goes. I forgot how he became alpha again. One second, I was alpha and the next, he is. It just didn't make sense to me. The door opened and Todd walked in the house with a satisfied smile on his face. Why was he so happy? He kissed my lips softly and then sat down in a chair. His shirt was messy with dirt and so was his black pants.

"Where have you been?" I asked. He shrugged. "Out." He flicked the tv on and looked at it with disinterest.

I knew he was lying. I smelled a scent. A very familiar scent of hazelnut and bananas. It was Adrianne's scent. Why would her scent be on him? "Where were you?" I asked again. He didn't answer. He kept his eyes focused on a commercial that was playing.

"Why is Adrianne's scent on you?" I asked. His eyes flashed with anger as he looked at me.

"Are you accusing me of something?" He asked.

"No. I just want to know why I can smell her scent on you." Todd got up and came over to me. He placed his hands on both sides of my face and stared deeply into my eyes. I felt a wave of dizzyness and lightheadedness. "Don't ask me another question tonight." He breathed. I felt the sudden urge to be quiet. Everything became blurry and flashes of images filled my head.

Everything stopped when his gaze left mine. I just sat down on the couch and kept myself quiet. Talking seemed wrong for some reason.

Adrianne's POV

The dream stuck in my head even as I woke up and looked at my clock. Todd on top of me. Me screaming. It tortured me. There were footsteps walking towards my door. I closed my eyes. If it was Todd again, then it was too bad for me. I was too weak to fight it. The door opened and in stepped the vampire, Aeryn.

"Where have you.....?" He looked down at me and then around my room. He sniffed the air and his eyes grew wide. "He was in here. I can smell it." Aeryn snarled. I looked at him and didn't talk.

"Did he.....Did he do something to you?" He asked slowly. I didn't speak. I couldn't. I couldn't find my voice. He sat on my bed. As far from my body as he could be. "What did he do to you?" Aeryn asked. I stared up into the ceiling. Everything was hopeless and useless. I couldn't tell anyone. Because no one could help. Todd was too strong and everyone was too weak. He could kill us all if he wanted to. And I wouldn't be surprised if he did.

"Adrianne, what has he done to you?" I kept silent. As far as I was concerned, the vampire wasn't right here on the bed asking me a question that had an obvious answer to it.

The vampire sighed and got up. He stared down at me. "When you're ready to talk, you know where to find me." There was a blur of color and then he was gone. I was pretty frightened at the sight of Todd. Seeing him in my mind.

I pulled the covers off of my body and slowly got up. I clicked on the bathroom light and looked down to see blood slowly trailing down my inner thigh. I closed the door and turned the shower on. I wanted to wash every inch of my skin that Todd has touched. I scrubbed my body and washed my hair repeatedly and my face. I cleaned everywhere repeatedly but I still felt dirty. I dried my hair off and wrapped myself in a towel. I got back in my room and threw on some panties. A shirt and some bed pants. I climbed into bed and went to sleep for the night.

****

When I woke up the next day.....I felt it. I could feel it in my veins. In my skin. In my blood. I was pregnant. My mother explained how I could feel it the next day if I was pregnant. She told me how I'd feel. And I could feel it. And since Todd was the dad, I'm pretty sure he could physically feel it also. I sat up in bed and looked down. I slowly lifted my shirt and touched my stomach and closed my eyes. I could feel the connection I had with the baby already. I let out a soft sigh and opened my eyes to see Eric standing in my doorway. He let out a small smile.

But I didn't smile back. I couldn't. I was pregnant with Todd's baby and my boyfriend was not aware of it. "I'm sorry about yesterday. I was being a dick as usual." He slowly walked in and sat on the bed a little too close to me. I scooted back a little. He looked disappointed at my sudden movment but smiled slightly. "I want you to forgive me. I was just unhappy. That's all but if today....you still want me to fuck you....I'll be more than happy to." He leaned over trying to kiss me and I scooted away again. He sighed. "What did I do now?"

I ran my fingers through my hair and just shook my head. I looked down at the sheets. Eric sighed and and reached over to touch me. I flinched away.

"What is wrong with you? What did I do, Dri?" My head snapped up and I glared at him. "Don't call me that." I growled. He looked hurt by my sudden snap at him.

"Adrianne, talk to me.....what happened? Did I do something to piss you off besides what happened yesterday?" My eyes glittered with tears. I couldn't tell him. It would hurt him too badly. I couldn't bear to see hurt in his eyes.

"Can you leave?" I asked. Eric looked shocked. His eyebrows raised and his jaw dropped. He reached over to touch me but I snatched my arm away.

"Don't touch me." I whispered glaring into his eyes. His eyebrows pulled together. "I'm sorry." He sounded like he was begging. "Just leave, Eric. Please. Let's take a break. Okay?" He looked confused, upset and angry all in one facial expression.

"You want to break up?" He asked.

"I said take a break."

"What's the difference?" He asked before he slowly turned and slammed the door shut as he walked out. I sighed and laid back in my bed and turned to the side. My throat felt dry and my stomach rumbled. But I didn't want to eat. I couldn't. My heart beat was fast and hard as it slammed against my chest.

'Come here. Now.' Said a voice in my head. I knew the voice the second he said the first word. He was the alpha so I had no choice but to obey. I pulled the covers off of me and climbed out of my bedroom window. I landed in the dirt and began to walk towards the main pack area. It's dangerous to shift when you're pregnant because of all the changes that goes on throughout your body during the process. Once I arrived at the pack area, everyone but me were in their wolf form.

The wolves eyes looked to me like I was a stranger. Todd wasn't in his wolf form, he knew the reason I couldn't be in mine. He smiled at me and I quickly looked away to look at the golden and black colored wolf looking at me.

'I called this meeting for a reason' Todd said telepathically. Perhaps so me and the wolves could know what he was saying and so he could hear the thoughts of those around him.

'There's a vampire lurking in the woods. As I've been told that he comes here occasionally to try to start some shit with people in this pack. But after tonight, that's going to change.'

What was Todd talking about?

'We're all going to take him out.' He demanded. My eyes grew wide. Why would he try to kill his own son? What was he up too?

'You prick'. I growled in my mind. Todd looked at me with a smirk on his lips.

'Looks like soon, you won't have a partner in crime.' He made it so only I could hear his thoughts.

'Partner in crime? What are you talking about?'

'Using my own son against me is a bad idea because you're about to get him killed.'

'You're killing him because you don't want him to kill you first.'

'He can't kill me. No one can. Whena re you going to get that into you beautuful, intelligent, brunette head?'

'Go fuck yourself'

'No....fucking you last night was way too much pleasure.'

After that reply, I stopped and stayed out of his head. I didn't want to hear anymore. I've learned to be scared of Todd and he took joy in that. I just didn't know what to do.

Chapter 10: A hot mess

Chapter 10: A hot mess

Adrianne's POV

I felt horrible. I had to stay in bed for days. I had a fever and I've been throwing up and sleeping constantly. This was hell. I couldn't let anyone know about this. About the fact that Todd got me pregnant. Lana would be angry and so would Eric. He would think that I broke up with him to be with Todd. And that is not the case at all. I sat up and sipped my glass of water and then sat it down. I laid back down in bed and placed my hand on my stomach. It was slightly bigger

I didn't know what to do. There was a knock on my door. I didn't say a word. The door swung open and Todd walked in. I glared at him as he came in smiling. My eyes watered as I watched him come near me. "How's my baby?" He asked. I turned my head so I couldn't look at him. Todd placed his hand on my forehead. "You're burning up, baby." I closed my eyes and let the tears slide down.

"Don't worry, this will be over soon and you won't ever have to deal with me again, okay?" He wasn't getting a response out of me. He kissed my forehead and then walked out of the room.

My eyes burned with tears as I turned to my side. I took another sip of my water and laid down in the bed. My stomach began to hurt and I could feel myself about to throw up. I leaned over into the bucket next to my bed and released all that my stomach would allow. I haven't eaten anything all day so it was painful. I grabbed my water, and rinsed out my mouth, and spit it into the bucket. I wiped my tears away with my sleeve and laid back in bed. This was about to be a long three months.

Eric's POV

I had no idea that werewolves could get depressed. I've just been in my room staring out of the window. I didn't think that because of one girl, I'd be so sad and empty. She wanted to break it off with me and she did. But she never told me why. What the hell did I do?

I guess I fell for her way too hard. My door opened and Todd walked in with a beer. He was smiling. What the hell was he so happy about? He gave me a beer. "You okay?" He asked.

I sighed and opened it. "And why exactly would you of all people care?" Todd shrugged and leaned against the wall.

"Want to talk about it?"

"Why would I want to talk about anything with you when you can just pick it from my brain? How can you do that anyway?"

"Not important." Todd answered. He focused intently on me and frowned. "Adrianne broke up with you."

I sighed and ran my fingers through my hair. "I don't understand why. Has she been acting weird to you lately?" Todd tilted the beer to his lips and took a sip. "Nope. Everything's been cool." He answered. I sighed. "Maybe I should go talk to her. See what I did?"

"Maybe you should let her rest." Todd said. It didn't sound like a suggestion. It sounded more like a demand. I felt the need to probably obey. He was alpha after all.

"Yeah, maybe you're right. So you postponed killing that vampire. Are we going after him tonight?" He nodded and took another sip of his beer. "Yeah. He fucks with the pack, he has to go. We should have killed him a week ago, but I wasn't up for it. Tonight is the night."

I nodded and chugged my beer. Todd let out a sigh. "I'm sorry for kind of controlling your sister, when it comes to love, I get crazy sometimes."

"You love her?" He nodded. "Yeah. Am I forgiven?"

I sighed and nodded. I guess Todd was a pretty cool guy. "I'm going to go apologize to Lana. And with my advice, stay away from Adrianne. It'll be easier and maybe make her happier."

"I'll think about that." He nodded and then disappeared out of the door. I laid back in bed. I'd give anything to have Adrianne back.

Adrianne's POV

I got in the bath to relax myself as best I could. I still had a fever and my stomach was hurting. I laid my head back against the tub and closed my eyes.

'Adrianne? Adrianne? I'm in the house. Where are you?' It was Eric in my head. I sighed deeply and opened my eyes as I heard his footsteps. There was a knock on the bathroom door. The door opened and Eric walked in. He quietly sat down on the seat of the toilet and looked at me.

"What do you want?" All I could do is whisper. He looked like he was in pain. "I just want to know what I did. I mean you're mad at me and I don't even know what for. And it's killing me because I need you and you know I do. You just shut me down and you have no idea how badly it's hurting me. I need you. Just tell me what's wrong. Please."

Tears spilled down my cheeks and I sucked in a breath. "I can't....I just.....can't." Eric sighed and covered his face with his hands.

My love for Eric was so strong but I couldn't tell him about anything that happened a week ago. It was too painful and I knew it would hurt him.

He took his hands away and his eyes were glistening with tears. He got down on his knees beside the bath tub. "Marry me." He demanded. I bit my lip as my vision blurred because of the tears that escaped out of my eyes. "I can't." I whimpered.

"Adrianne, I'm not taking no for an answer."

"You're going to have to." I whispered. Eric placed his fore head on the edge of the tub and began crying audibly but softly. And it hurts me because I never saw or would ever want to see him cry and all because of me.

"Please. Please." He whispered. I placed my wet hand in his dark hair and looked up as more tears escaped my eyes.

"I have never loved anyone as strongly as I loved you, Eric." I whispered.

"Then why are you doing this to me?" He asked. I didn't want to. He lifted his head up to look at me. I smiled at him. "You love too strong." My voice squeaked. He shook his head. "There's no such thing as loving too strong." My smile slowly faded.

"Go find someone worth loving, Eric because I'm not."

"Why are you saying this? What happened to you?"

"You're not going to want me." I whispered.

"You're the only person I want. How could I not want you?" He asked. I sighed. I needed Eric more than life itself. But if I tell him what happened, he's going to go and get himself killed. How could Eric want a girl like me? Someone who would just break his heart and not give him a reason. A girl who couldn't be honest with him. A girl who would let another man take advantage of her. Eric deserved better than me. But the problem was that he didn't want better. I was the girl he wanted.

"Please, Adrianne, just tell me what the problem is and I'll fix it. We'll fix it together because that's what mates do."

"Nothing will ever be right anymore. Just leave while you still can."

"No." He said.

"Please!" I cried.

"I'm not leaving until you tell me what's wrong with you!" He growled.

"Leave my house before I throw you out." I snarled at him. I had to calm down. I couldn't shift. Not in my 'condition'.

"Adrianneâ ¦â ¦please. I'm on my knees begging you." I got up and grabbed my towel as I stepped out of the tub.

He followed me into my bedroom.
"Adrianneâ ¦.Why are you doing this to me? Why are you torturing me like this?"

"Just leave, Eric. We're over. Pleaseâ ¦.just go." He sighed and a tear glistened in his eyes. He dropped his head and turned around and closed the door.

Eric's Pov

There's nothing worse than rejection. Especially from the one girl you knew you couldn't live without. I leaned against her closed door and dug into my pocket. I looked down at the engagement ring my mother gave to me to give to Adrianne. But Adrianne didn't want the engagement ring. And she definitely didn't want me.

Something happened to make her feel this way. To push me away. But what happened that could make her break up with me out of nowhere?

But I think I knew what to do. Once she's sleeping, I'll just come back and hold her and when she opens her eyes, she'll see how much I need her and maybeâ ¦..she just might cuddle with me. Maybe.

But I was still confused. She said I wouldn't want her. What did she mean? I wanted her since the moment I saw her and I told her that I wanted her the day we met. Of course she responded by slapping me in the face.

And as retarded as it may sound, that's what drew me into her. Not only was she so fucking hot and smart as hellâ ¦â ¦she was a tough badass who wasn't afraid of anything. But these last couple of daysâ ¦I've seen nothing but fear in her eyes. What was she so scared of?

I placed the diamond ring back in my pocket and walked down the hall and out the house. Todd was standing outside looking at me. "Hey, what's going on?" I asked. He smiled. "It's time to get that vamp. Are you ready Eric? Ready to kill a man?"

"He's a vampire, not a man." Todd smirked. "I like your thinking. Let's go." He turned and shifted almost immediately. Without any pain. How though? I always feel pain when I'm shifting. Oh well.

I got down on my hands and knees and lowered my head as it began to burn with a fiery heat. I growled and screamed as I felt my fur sprout out of my skin. Once I was fully in wolf form, I followed Todd out into the woods. It was silent. Maybe too silent.

'So how's Adrianne doing? Still having communication problems?' Todd asked telepathically.

'Yeah, she won't tell me what's wrong.'

'Maybe it's a personal matter.'

'I still have a right to know. She's still mine rather she wants to be or not. I will never let her go.' I growled in my mind.

'That's the spirit, Kid.' Todd replied as he shot forward faster than any wolf I've ever seen. His white fur became blurry but it was bright so I could still see him.

He suddenly stopped and I stopped too as I could smell the scent of maybe three vampires. I growled at the smell of them. They smelled likeâ ¦â ¦death. Obviously.

Todd sniffed the air and shot forward again and I followed him without hesitation. The wind blew fiercely. But that didn't stop Todd nor me. We stopped again.

'This fucker is near. I can smell him. We take him out with no hesitation and no intention of stopping, am I clear, Eric?'

'Crystal.' I replied.

Suddenly, a fast running noise came from nowhere and knocked me down to my side. I growled as I saw the vampire on top of me. His fangs were protracted and sharp as a needle. But no fear was in my body. I growled again and used my body to push him off. The vampire smiled and was soon knocked down by Todd whose eyes were now white. I've seen them that color before but it was still weird. Todd growled as the vampire pushed him against a tree. He got up and ran with full force knocking the vampire six feet in the air. He fell to the ground and got up as soon as he was down.

"Is that all you got, Todd?" The vampire asked. Wait. They knew each other? How? Something wasn't right.

'Eric, you can leave. I'll deal with this asshole.' Todd said into his mind. So he brought me here just so he could tell me to leave? That's stupid. But I turned and left any way.

Todd King is something else. I ran back towards the house and ran to Adrianne's bedroom window, quietly. I saw her lying down, sleeping. I changed back into my human form and opened the front door and closed it. I was quiet as I sneaked into her bedroom. I closed the door and slowly walked towards her. She was lying in the middle of the bed so I slid in beside her and wrapped my arms around her. I rubbed her soft skin. Her arms, her legs. Herâ ¦.stomach. Her stomach was hotter than all of the rest of her body parts and felt bigger. As I gently pressed down on it, it was hard.

My whole body froze. I couldn't move. I could hardly think straight. That was the problem. She was pregnant. Why couldn't she tell me that? I wanted a family with her. I would have been happy to see her pregnant. I visualize it all the time and it always bring a smile to my face. I rubbed her stomach and a small smile speared on my face. My baby was inside of her and I couldn't be happier.

Adrianne's POV

The sun shined bright on my face. I yawned loudly and clutched my stomach. I felt nauseous. I turned to see Eric sitting in a chair beside the bed eyeing me carefully. My eyes widened. Has he been here all night? "Morning sickness?" He asked. My eyes widened. How did he know? How did he find out?

"How did you-"

"It doesn't even matter how I found outâ ¦â ¦..Adrianne. What kills me is that you didn't tell me. You thought I wasn't going to want you anymore? How could I not want you? You're the best thing that's ever happened to me."

"I couldn't bear to see the hurt in your eyes."

"I'd be hurt because you're pregnant with my baby?" He asked anger clear in his voice. He thought this was his baby. He froze. He heard my thoughts. He turned red for a second. I swallowed and took a deep breath as tears automatically slipped out of my eyes. So much anger was inside of me. I wanted to shift and go bite Todd's head off.

"Todd? That'sâ ¦â ¦â ¦Todd's baby?" His voice shook. I nodded my head. Eric got up and started stomping towards the door.

"No! Please!" I yelled getting up as fast as I could. I pressed him against the wall. He breathed deeply as he looked down at me. "You cheated on me." He breathed. I shook my head.

"No. I would never doâ ¦â ¦." I remembered back to earlier when Todd kissed me just so I'd be able to spend time with Eric. Eric tried to push me but I stayed where I was. "Don't. Please. I didn'tâ ¦I didn't cheat on you."

"Yeah, his baby just magically ended up inside of you." He said sarcastically. I shook my head. "Heâ ¦.he"

"He what?"

"Todd raped me." I whispered. His eyes flashed emerald. His wolf's eye color as he darted out the door. I ran after him but I couldn't run fast. "Eric! No! You'll get yourself killed!" I yelled as I ran outside. He shifted immediately and growled as he ran through the woods. "Eric! He's going to kill you!" I screamed.

'Kevin, Kevin?'

'What? I'm sleeping.'

'Please, you have to get Eric; he's going to try to kill Todd.'

'Your boyfriend has a fucking anger problem. Todd is awesome. What happened?'

'Just go stop Eric, I can't shift.'

'Why?'

'I'll explain later. Just please go stop him from trying to kill Todd.'

'I'm on it.'

What have I done? I just made this whole thing worst.

Chapter 11: Nothing but the rage

Author's Note: Only a few chapters left. Thank you all for reading.

Chapter 11: Nothing but the rage

Eric's POV

All I saw was rage. Nothing more than rage. I shot through the woods as fast as possible. I saw nothing but darkness surrounding me. Todd was a dead fucking wolf. Not only did he take over my sister's wolf pack, but he raped my girlfriend and she carries his child now. How could I not want to kill him? I smelled his scent and ran faster. I could hear someone running behind me and I could tell that it was Kevin because of his scent. He started running beside me. We're not connected in any way so he couldn't hear what I was thinking and I couldn't hear what he was thinking. He used his body and pushed me into a tree. I growled and got back up and started running after him. Was he crazy?

I pounced on him and he whimpered. I growled as a warning for him to leave me the hell alone. I flew off of him and continued until I got to the Main Pack Area. Todd was in his human form. I charged towards him with full force. He had a small smirk on his face as he put up his hand and I felt myself flying through the air.

I fell to the ground with a hard thud. My body ached as I turned back to my human form. I reached up and felt my nose bleeding. It might even be broken. I growled in anger and got up and wiped the blood from my nose. I walked back towards Todd.

Adrianne's POV

When I finally got to the pack grounds, Eric was upset and his nose was dripping with blood. I ran to him. "No! Eric please don't kill him. Please. "

"Why shouldn't I? He assaulted you. You should want him as dead as I do."

"I do. Maybe more but I'm doing this for your own good. You can't kill him."

"Watch me." Eric growled. He moved me out of the way and glared at Todd. Todd kept a small smirk on his face. "Try to kill me, Eric. Let's see what happens." Todd challenged. Eric growled.

"You fucker." He ran to Todd and seconds before he got to him, Todd turned with fast speed and forced Eric's head to the ground. Eric groaned in pain. "Stop!" I yelled running to them. Kevin growled as he came near us. Eric slowly got up, his lip was now bloody. "Let's just go. Please." I begged. Eric shook his head. "No. I want him dead." He whispered.

"Yeah, Adrianne. Let him try to kill me. He's pathetic really if he thinks he can."

"What do you want from us?" I asked. Todd sighed and leaned against a tree. Lana came outside from her cottage and her eyes grown wide from looking at Eric. "What happened?" She asked. Me and Eric looked to Todd and she slowly did too.

"You already know what I want, Adrianne. It's inside of you. Living and breathing and strong like a hybrid should be." It's going to be a hybrid?

"That's the whole reason I came into this pack. Not because I didn't have anywhere else to go, but because I specifically, came looking for you, Adrianne."

"Why?" I asked. He smiled and glanced at Lana. "I suppose you're not aware of how strong your bloodline is are you?"

"Bloodline? What are you talking about?" I asked.

"You have the Carter bloodline. The strongest bloodline there is. You were originally supposed to be alpha of this wolf pack." My eyebrows pulled together and I looked to Lana who also looked shocked.

"I'm what?" He nodded. "I slept with you to make a son. A son that is a werewolf vampire hybrid and will also carry one of the strongest bloodlines there is. He'll be stronger than even me. There are vampires and werewolves after me and my other son and daughter. And ifâ ¦..if they get us, my son will avenge my death and carry on as the strongest hybrid and he'll rule over everyone."

"He won't be evil like you." I said.

"That's his blood in me also, Adrianne. My evil blood just might overshadow whatever good blood you put in him. Evil will always overshadow good."

"Not in my book." I whispered. Todd's smirk left and he was now frowning. "He will carry on as I did. I don't want to disappear from this earth without a piece of me still left here. And if they never come for me, I'll take my son, and we'll be on our way." Did he seriously think he was going to take my baby away from me? Was he serious?

"As a heart attack." Todd whispered glaring at me. I shook my head. "This is my baby. Mine. And you will not ever touch nor ever see it." I growled at him.

"Why would you want to raise the baby that I forced you to conceive?"

"It doesn't matter why. It's mine."

"My son will be weak if he stays with you. You may have a very strong bloodline, but you don't know how to use your powers correctly. If you came with me when I leave, however, I can show you. Then you would see how powerful your bloodline really is."

"I will never go anywhere with you. And neither will my child."

"I created it for a purpose. Not a little bastard that you can dress up and teach the fucking ABC's to. He will be stronger than anyone. And when he's old enough, I'll tell him to kill you all." Todd said. Kevin growled in anger.

"I'm not going anywhere until I get my son."

"And if it's a daughter?" I asked. Todd smiled. "It won't be." He slowly turned and walked out into the woods. I relaxed slightly and turned to look at Eric. His nose was healing. He took a deep breath and grabbed my hand tightly. He dragged me into my house and closed and locked the door. He punched a wall hard leaving a huge gaping hole. He took a deep breath and turned to me. He leaned against the wall and sighed.

"Why didn't you tell me he was a hybrid?" He whispered softly.

"Iâ ¦..I don't know, Eric. I just don't know."

"You can't hide shit like that from me, Adrianne. Now we're dealing with this guy. I can't kill him. He's too fast and strong. He got you pregnant. He hurt my sister. He controls her. Tries to break up my relationship. He's been successful in all of it. One man could do this to a wolf pack. It's justâ ¦..pathetic." He looked down to the floor. I went to the bathroom and grabbed a clean rag from the cabinet. I wet it with water and gave it to him. He wiped his nose rid of the blood.

"I didn't want to hide it from you. But I knew you'd go after him and get yourself hurt. And I didn't want that. So I kept it all inside. And it was obviously a mistake." He sat down on a dark blue chair and leaned his head back.

"So what are we going to do about it? About all of this?" He asked. I shrugged and crossed my arms. "We just have to wait it out. Let the baby be born and thenâ ¦â ¦."

Eric shook his head. "We'll kill him before the baby is born."

"How?"

"We need to find something that will kill a vampire and a werewolf. That has to be the only answer."

"Wolf blood kills vampires." Kevin walked in and closed the door. He sat down on the couch. "I want him dead. What's the plan?"

"What kills wolves?" I asked Kevin. He looked at me like I was crazy.

"You are. What would you want to know that for?"

"Is Todd not half werewolf?" I asked. Understanding appeared on Kevin's face. "Oh right. I have no idea what kills us."

"Couldn't a vampire kill us? One did kill your dad." Eric said holding the rag to his healing nose. I sucked in a breath. That's right. So that meansâ ¦.we need a vampire and vampire blood to kill Todd. That seems stupid."

"Why?" Eric asked.

"I don't know. I just thought maybe something stronger. Way stronger."

"Bullets?" Kevin offered. I shook my head.

"No. Bullets don't affect vampires and werewolves heal in seconds if they get shot." Kevin nodded.

"A stake?" Eric offered. Wasn't a bad idea. Vampires die from stakes but we never knew rather a werewolf would or not. "Maybe." I said.

"Sounds ethical. But where the hell could we get a stake from?"

"A vampire." I answered.

Kevin scoffed. "And why would a vampire have a stake when it could kill it?"

"Why would people have guns and knives in their house when it could kill them?" Eric asked looking at Kevin.

"I know a vampire we could go to." I said.

"We?" Eric asked. I nodded.

"No. You stay here and me and Kevin will go talk to this vampire. What does it look like?"

I sighed. This vampire actually somewhat trusted me and he didn't know Kevin or Eric. "Umâ ¦â ¦dark hair. Dark eyes. Pale skin. He's always in the woods near our area. And he always have somewhat of a cocky smirk on his face. He's always wearing black."

"Todd killed him." Eric said. My eyes grew wide. Todd did what?

"We were supposed to kill him together but the vampire had seemed to be kicking ass so he told me to leave. I think they knew each other because the vampire called him Todd."

I pinched the bridge of my nose. "That vampire's name is Aeryn. That's Todd's son."

"So he got other girls pregnant? When does this guy stop?"

"I don't think he will until he's killed. And we have to be the ones to do it. All we need is a stake."

Lana's POV

"What the hell just happened out there? Adrianne is pregnant with your baby?" Todd didn't look at me as he paced around the room. "Don't talk. Just do me a favor and shut the fuck up." He stared out the window.

"How could you force her to do such a thing? I thought you cared about me!"

"You thought wrong. I just care about my son. My son who will be stronger than everyone combined and I'll be able to make him do whatever. Starting with destroying all the vampires and wolves that are after me and my other children. "

"And you can't. Why?" I asked.

"They know how to kill me. They know the one way to kill me. But my sonâ ¦..he will avenge my death. And I can't count on my other children to do so because they hate my fucking guts. And I can't expect you to do it because wellâ ¦â ¦.you'll die within seconds of that whole situation."

"You should leave." I couldn't stand Todd. He's created so many problems and I hated him. I thought that him coming into my life was a blessing but it wasn't. I was alpha and he just took control. It's time for me to take it back.

"I'm not going anywhere until I get my son."

"As alpha of this pack I command you to leave." Todd turned and glared at me. "I'm the fucking alpha and only I will tell you what to do."

"Fuck you."

Todd smirked and was suddenly in my face. I gasped as he pushed me against the wall. I winced in pain. He smiled and walked towards me. I looked around for any weapon. There wasn't enough room for me to shift. I grabbed onto an ash tray and I threw it at him. He caught it and slammed it to the ground. I looked down at the broken glass and then back up into Todd's dangerous eyes.

'Eric, please help me. Todd isâ ¦.'

Eric was suddenly there within seconds. "Get the fuck away from my sister." He growled. Eric growled and shot to Todd. Todd grabbed him by his neck and raised him in the air. "You and your sister will both bow down to me. You understand?" Eric was gagging. I got up and Todd grabbed me with his other hand and squeezed my neck. A strained scream escaped my lips.

"Will you both bow down to me?" He asked looked up at Eric and down at me. I nodded. He smiled and let me go. I fell to the floor. "What about you, Eric? I mean, I know I hurt your sister and raped your girlfriend and ruined your pack but stillâ ¦â ¦.I deserve a small ounce of respect especially because you know what I'm capable of now." I looked up at Eric. I couldn't see him like that. "Please put him down, Todd. I'll do whatever you want." Todd smirked and let go of his neck. Eric fell down to the ground clutching his neck.

"I won't." Eric said harshly.

"Ericâ ¦.quiet." I whispered.

"No. Lana. You're Alpha of this pack. You're going to let this, piece of shit come into our lives and ruin it? That's not the Lana I know. You are so quick to insult Adrianne but you can't when it comes to Todd. And if you can't insult him, then you're no alpha."

"I am. I justâ ¦â ¦â ¦There's nothing I can do. What would you expect me to do?"

"Eric, just leave. Leave while you can. And I heard what you, Kevin and your little whore were planning. It's not going to work." Todd whispered.

"I know." Eric said as he got to his feet. He held out his hand and I grabbed it.

"No." Todd growled separating our hands. "Your sister stays with me. She stays." Eric sighed and nodded once to me. I nodded back.

He then looked to Todd and took a few bold steps forward. "I will find a way to kill you. I'll find a way soon and when I doâ ¦â ¦"

Todd's fangs slid out of his gums and he snarled at Eric. "I don't like threats." He growled.

"Well you're getting them from me anyway. Once you're dead, I'll be happy." Eric took one more look at me before he went off. He slammed the door shut. Todd looked at me with his fangs still protracted. "Get into the bedroom, now." He ordered.

"No." He grabbed my hair in his hands and pulled. I let out a cry of pain. "Do you want me to do to you what I did to Adrianne? Only you might be more uncomfortable. I'd end up taking you on this hard floor. I and Adrianne were on a bed when we did it."

"When you forced her."

"Yes. When I forced her to conceive my child. If you don't want to end up like her, I suggest you keep your mouth shut and do what I say." He let go of my hair and I obeyed as I slowly walked to the bedroom. As he told me to do.

Adrianne's POV

I laid in bed rubbing my stomach softly. There was a bundle of joy inside of me. I'm sure he or she is good. They won't be evil as Todd. They'll be warm hearted just like me.

Kevin walked in and leaned against my wall. "You okay?" He asked. I nodded. He came over and sat beside me on the bed. "I want this to be over. Just overâ¦forever. I'm sick of thinking that everyone that comes into my life is good when they're really bad."

"Who else?" I asked. He shrugged and closed his eyes. "That's not important. I want Todd dead. After what he's done to you. I just don't understand why I can't attack him right now."

"Because you'll die, Kevin. You stay here until we get what we need to kill him.

"What? A stake? You can get stakes from anywhere. You can get stakes from Wal-Mart." I rolled my eyes. "Shut up. This is serious."

"I know it is, Adrianne. But this seriousness is stressing you out and this stress is putting the baby at risk."

"You actually care about it?"

"Yes. I do. I hate that Todd is the dad. I would have preferred it to be Eric butâ¦..I think I kind of love it."

"Wellâ¦you're not the only one who wishes that it was Eric's baby." I said. Kevin sighed.

"I'm going after him. I, Eric and Lana can kill him."

"What about me?" Asked a familiar voice. It was Aeryn. My eyes widened at the sight of him. "Who the hell are you?" Kevin asked.

"The vampire I was talking about. His name is Aeryn."

"It has a name?" Kevin asked.

"Yesâ¦â¦it does. What's your name? Dumbass?"

Kevin growled. I held in my small giggles. "It's okay, Kevin. We can trust Aeryn. He's Todd's son and the same vampires that are coming after Todd is coming after him and the rest of his family, right?" Aeryn nodded and sat in a chair in the corner.

"Yes. My dad has committed many crimes. He had broken the werewolf and vampire laws. The council that rules over us all wants him dead and they want me, my sister Aries, and a good friend of mine named Addison, dead. But I have a theory that if we could kill Todd before they can get to him, they might let my family live because Todd is a huge problem. He's the only Werewolf/Vampire hybrid there is except my grandfather."

"Would he know how to kill a hybrid?" I asked. Aeryn nodded. "Yeahâ¦of course."

"Good. Where is he?"

"Dead."

"What?"

"Dead. Stake to the heart dipped in silver. Millions of wooden bullet holes into his skin and burned by the sun. Plusâ ¦.loss of blood. Haven't fed in weeks. Was not a pretty sight."

"So we have to get everything that can kill a vampire and werewolf and use it all against him all at once?" Aeryn nodded. "It's the only way to kill him. I won't be able to help because you need to kill him in the day time when the sun is out. You have to get him to his weakest point and stake his heart. Make sure you get the heart and not the lung. Because if you miss, you better run because you've just pissed him off."

"So convincing."

"Harder than it sounds."

"Oh trust me, it sounds extremely hard." I said. Aeryn shrugged and his eyes finally went to my stomach. I pulled the sheet over me and looked back at him. "

"So the wolf's having a baby. Howâ ¦interesting."

"This isn't about himâ ¦or her. Whoever. We're talking about your bastard father who did this to me." Aeryn's eyes grew wide with shock. His eyes slowly went back to my stomach and he gulped.

"When you sayâ ¦he did this to youâ ¦â ¦."

"He forced meâ ¦..he justâ ¦"

"No. I understand. Stop talking. Why would he conceive with you? I don't understand."

"He said it was so once he dies, his son can avenge his death and rule over everyone. He want's his son to rule over everyone and I mean everyone."

"Including the were panthers and shape shifters and even humans?" He asked.

"I suspect."

"But he never came to me or my sister and said he wanted us to avenge his death."

"I think he's convinced that your family will surely die."

"Well he's wrong. I'm going to get things you need to kill him. Whatever he has planned will surely fail. Use the supplies wisely. I won't be back till after midnight tomorrow. Until then, watch your ass."

Kevin nodded and I did too as Aeryn got up. He was about to walk out. "Thanks for helping us." I said. He looked over his shoulder with a smirk on his face. "What are friends for?" He was suddenly gone with not even a millisecond. I couldn't wait. Soon, it was over for Todd King.

Chapter 12: Unbreakable

Author's Note: About two more chapters left people. I was thinking of making a story for the baby when he's a teenager. And he's learning the truth about who his father is what he's done to Adrianne. The council (You will learn about them later) wants to kill all werewolf vampire hybrids because of how powerful they are and Adrianne and Eric tries to protect him. (I didn't give him a name yet.) So then, Adrianne's child realizes his power and goes out of control. He doesn't want to be as powerful like Todd but ends up going on a rampage basically. He tries to control his powers but he can't.' That was going to become a story.

But then I figured....no, I should just leave it here. I started a story called Dead with emotions. It's this story only told from Aeryn's POV. I don't plan on finishing it. But I would like you all to tell me. Do you think I should make a sequel about Adrianne's child? BE TRUTHFUL IF YOU LOVE THE IDEA OR HATE IT.

Chapter 12: Unbreakable

Eric dropped a pile of stakes and silver chains onto the floor next to my bed. I looked down at the items and then back up at him. "I guess that Aeryn guy is pretty cool. He gave me all this stuff. He must want Todd dead as much as we do." He said.

I was lying down on the bed with my hand on my stomach rubbing it. "I guess so." I responded.

Eric smiled. "All we need is the sunlight." Eric said. I looked out the window at the dark sky. "Doesn't look like we're getting it today."

"Damnit." Eric muttered.

"Do we really need the sun? You sure?"

"Everything that will kill a vampire."

"You're forgetting the guns with the wooden bullets." Lana said as she walked into the room. She had to guns in her hand.

"You're going to help us?" Eric asked looking surprised. She nodded. "I want him dead." She said harshly. I couldn't keep the smile off of my face.

"Fantastic. But I doubt the sun will be out today." I said. Lana sighed and rolled her eyes. "You are so damn stupid. The sun doesn't affect him. He's been out in the sun beforeâ¦â¦remember?

"You're right, Lana, the sun doesn't seem to affect him."

"Unless he puts on some kind of cream or something to protect himself from it?" Eric said.

"What some kind of sunscreen?" Lana asked sarcastically. I looked at Eric and he looked back at me.

"You can't be serious. Sunscreen? Really?"

"It's a possibility, sis. We don't know yet. We'll discuss this later. I'm pretty sure the bastard can hear us. Right now and telepathically." Eric said.

He was right. "So why dpn't you go so I can talk to Adrianne alone?" Eric asked. Lana rolled her eyes and carried her guns outside. Eric stared at me for a second and then sat on the bed next to me. I just had the urge to touch him.

"Soâ¦â¦." Eric said as if he didn't know what to say.

"So." I replied back. He sighed deeply. "This is bad timing. Very bad timing but I need to know whether or not we're together. Or if we even have a chance to be together again."

I ran my fingers through my hair and breathed. "You're right. This is very bad timing." I said. He placed his hand on my leg. He scooted closer to me. "I just need to know if there is a possibility of us again."

His hand slowly trailed up to my thigh and I looked him in his eyes. "Of course there is." I replied. He smiled and slowly leaned over. His lips brushed against mine softly at first. Our lips enveloped each other's perfectly. He placed his hand through my hair and pulled me closer to him. He made me straddle him and he rubbed my thighs. I licked his bottom lip and his hands moved to my back and he moved my shirt up slowly. I sucked in a breath. "I can't do this." I said as I tried to get off of him but he held me in place. "Stop pushing me away, Adrianne. You can't keep doing this to me."

"How could you think about sex with what's going on with Todd?" I asked looking at him.

"It'll take the stress off of both of us."

"Ericâ¦"

"Shh." He whispered. Then he placed his hand on my cheek. "Just let me make love to you." I took his hand off of my cheek. I still thought back to that night when Todd raped me. Truthfully, I felt that maybe sex would get rid of the stress but truthfully, I was scared to have sex. It may sound ridiculous but I just keep thinking about that night. What Todd had done to me.

"We'll take it one step at a time, Adrianne. I don't want you to be scared. I want you to feel better." Eric said.

"I do. Just by you being here with me."

"That's not it. I just feel like it's pretty stupid to let one man take every ounce of lust you had inside of you."

"Well you wouldn't understand, Eric. You're not in my situation."

"I don't want you to be afraid to do something you love to do."

"Iâ¦..I'm not scared." Even I could hear the lie clearly in my voice.

"Prove it to me." He breathed. I bit my lip for a second before leaning down and kissing his soft lips. His hands squeezed my breast and his tongue fought with mine. His hand move to my hair and his fingers tangled in it. I pulled away slightly to breathe. "Don't be scared of me. I don't want to hurt you. You know how much I love you, Adrianne." I nodded and closed my eyes.

His lips were back on mine and he got off the bed and I was still wrapped around his body. He turned and laid me down on the bed. He looked deep into my eyes. "I will never, ever, let Todd or anyone else hurt you again. I'm so sorry." He whispered.

"Don't be. He did something to block your thoughts from me and to block my thoughts from you. It wasn't your fault. Don't blame yourself." I said. He placed his hand on my cheek.

"You will always be mine. I will never let anyone else have you." He leaned down and pressed his lips to my throat. I missed the way his lips felt on my skin.

"Adrianne, please marry me." I looked up at him.

"Why would you want that? I meanâ ¦..I'm pregnant withâ ¦"

"Thisâ ¦.is not your and Todd's baby. This is mine and yours. That's how I want you to think about it for now on. Todd wants to use your baby. Use him or her for bad. But me and you will love and raise this baby as much as possible."

"You'd help me raise the baby?"

"We'll raise it together. And maybe have some more." I smiled up at him and tears glistened into my eyes. "Whyâ ¦why are you so perfect?" I asked. Eric chuckled and kissed my throat again. Then his lips went to my jaw and then my lips.

"Let's just admit to ourselves that we need each other."

"We're too young to get married." I said.

"Are you going to let age stop us? Age is just a number and besidesâ ¦you're never going to turn eighteen. And I'm never going to be twenty. We're these ages forever." Eric said. He had a small smile on his face.

"My mother and your sister won't like that very much. My mom hardly trusts you and Lana hates me. How is it going to work?"

"I'm sorry, is Lana and your mom in our relationship?"

"Wellâ ¦no but...."

"No but nothing. This is about me and you and how we can't live without each other. Let's just make this happen. We both want it. Tell me you don't love me and I'll leave right now and never look back."

"If I said that, I'd be lying." I admitted. Eric smiled again.

"I thought so." He pressed his lips against mine again. Eric was right. I loved him just as hard as he loved me. Maybe more. And Eric was everything. He'd raise the baby that I was forced to get pregnant with. He'd marry me no matter how young we were. He'd fight for me and die for me.
I couldn't help but think back to that day. That day me and him met each other for the first time.

It was a Monday morning and a sunny day. My mom was walking towards me out of the woods. "We're going to have some other wolves in our pack."

"What?" I asked. We had enough. I can already tell these other wolves are going to piss me off. All wolf packs contained the same species but we didn't all get along and that was not against the law.

"Yeah, they're here now. A girl named Lana is the pack master and will like to meet us all."

"I'm fine. I'm just going to go home."

"Don't be rude. It will only take a second."

"I'm not being rude and I don't want to take even a second of my time to meet any other wolves. They just stay out of my way, and I'll stay out of theres." My mom gave me a look. I sighed and followed her to the pack grounds. There were at least twenty unfamiliar faces I saw.

A dark haired girl with fierce eyes looked at me. She tilted her head to the side as if something about me confused her. I looked back at my mom and then back at 'Lana'.

"I'm Lana Foster. The new alpha of your wolf pack. I was sent here once my father, Jackson Foster, died. He was your alpha but now that he's gone, I'll be taking over since I'm the oldest in the next generation." She said. Her dark hair blew in the wind.

"And this," Lana turned around and brought forward a guy. "This is my brother, Eric." Eric's eyes immediately went to mine and a small smirk appeared on his face. He had light hazel, golden eyes. His skin was smooth and flawless. His hair was dark and short. I bit my lip and looked down to the ground. God. He was so sexy.

"Eric is second in command. Once I die, if I die, he will take over as the pack leader and you'll all have no choice but to obey him. But until then, you'll obey me." I looked back up and my eyes met with Eric's again. He was still staring at me. His smirk turned into a full grin. I slowly turned around and started walking back towards my cottage. This guy was hot. I won't deny it. But who has time for relationships? Especially when you're a freak of nature. I walked through the dirt and leaves slowly when I felt someone behind me. I slowly turned to see Eric behind me. Looking down at me with lust in his eyes. "Umâ ¦.can I help you?" I asked. He had a cocky smirk on his face. "I want to talk to you." He answered taking a piece of my hair into his fingers. I smacked his hand away. "Don't touch me." I snapped.

He smiled. "You're not a nice girl. I like that." He said in a soft velvet voice. "Yeah, I'm not nice at all so unless do you don't want to get kicked in the balls, I suggest you leave me alone." I turned back around and continued walking. He grabbed my arm and I turned and swung at him but he caught my fist. "Can I tell you something before you end up killing me?"

"Can you let go of me before I end up killing you?" I asked. He let go of my fist. "Now, what do want to tell me and make it quick. I want to go run for a little."

"May I join you?"

"I like to run alone, Erin."

"It's Eric."

"Same difference." I answered. I don't know why I was being mean to him. "You like me don't you?" He suddenly asked. I looked at him in disbelief. Why would he automatically think that?

"What makes you think that?" I asked.

"Well one, you didn't deny it. And two, I could feel it. I know you can feel that I like you too."

"How can you like me and you don't even know me?" I asked. He smiled. "I'd like to know you. Starting with you name please?" He asked. I sighed.

"Adrianne Renee." I answered.

"So your name is two first names?" I nodded. "Is that a problem?" I asked. He shook his head. "I like it. It's different. Like you."

"Stupidest line ever."

"That's another thing I like, Adrianne. Your feistiness. It' a turn on."

"Well turn it off because I'm going." I said turning away.

"Wait. Wait!" He stepped in front of me.

"What do you want?" I asked irritated. He gave me a small smile. "I want you to be my mate." My insides felt like Gello. Chills ran down my body as he gave me a seductive look no guy has ever given me before. Before I could take another breath, I slapped his cheek hard across his face. He turned his head back to look at me. "You stay away from me, freak." I said as I turned and walked away from him. Believe it or not, I only left him alone because I was afraid that if I didn't, I was going to attack him and fuck him. Even though, I was a virgin and wanted my first time to be taken by someone I loved. But I wouldn't have minded having sex with Eric right then and there.

And now here we were. He wasn't the annoying, cocky, perverted little brother of the pack leader. Now he was the sweetest, beautiful, amazing sex god that I couldn't live without.

"Whoa." He said sitting up.

"What?" I asked him. He smiled and looked down at me. "I justâ ¦â ¦I just saw back to that day we first met. I was reading your thoughts and then out of nowhere, visions of that day started entering my head. It wasâ ¦..like some kind of movie."

"You actually saw my thoughts?" I asked. He nodded and smiled.

"What the fuck?" I laughed and sat up curling my fingers into his hair. "I guess that the deeper our love gets, the more we learn about our powers." He nodded and leaned his forehead against mine.

"So, back to my question."

"Mmh, what question?" I asked closing my eyes.

"Will you marry me?" He asked. I opened my eyes and smiled. And then nodded. "Yes, I will." He grinned and then reached into his pocket. "I carried this ring in ever pants pocket for months until I could find the perfect time to ask you." I held out my hand and he slipped the ring on my ring finger. "Perfect fit." He whispered. Then his eyes went to mine. "Just like us."

I nodded and went to kiss him again.

Lana's POV

Todd was a rough person. In general. He's a very complicatedâ ¦..person if that's what he is. He's not even remotely human any more for crying out loud. It's obviously not easy to get on his good side and he trusts no one. I closed my eyes and stirred slightly. I was naked wrapped in the silk dark blue sheets. Todd was lying beside me holding me. I wanted him to leave me alone. To leave my wolf pack alone. But no one could tell him to leave because he won't do it. I can't wait until me, Eric, Kevin and the rest of the wolf pack kills him. Todd King is a fucking p-

"Your thoughts are annoying." Todd said. I sighed.

"Well no one told you to listen." I replied. Todd let go of me and rolled to the other side of the bed. "God would she just give birth already? This is so annoying."

"She didn't ask to be put in this situation. You put her there. It's only been a couple weeks. You have hardly two months and a half left. Why couldn't you find someone else's life to ruin?"

Todd sighed, "Because, I told you that her bloodline is strong. Extremely strong. And I need my son to be strong. He'll be indestructible. He'll kill every single vampire and wolf that killed and attempted to kill me. He'll be more powerful than the vampires that are on the council."

"The what? What the hell are you talking about, Todd?" I asked turning to him.

"The council. The vampires that are after me and my family. There are at least fifty of them. And with Adrianne's bloodline and my vampire and were wolf DNA, my son will be able to kill them all. Very simply."

"You're going to use your son to do your dirty work for you."

"Precisely, sweetheart." Todd replied. He was suddenly on top of me.

"It's amazing what fucking can do. Wouldn't you agree?" He asked looking down at me. I could feel his erection on my thigh and I tried to move to get away from him. He grabbed my face and looks deep in my eyes. "Listen to me, Lana." He whispered. I looked up into his hazel eyes and I couldn't look away. "Once everyone is sleep. You're going to go steal every weapon they have. Every last weapon. Do you understand?" He asked. I nodded. I felt like I was flying. Like I was a light feather blowing through the wind. I nodded and smiled. "Okay." I breathed. He smiled and kissed my lips. "That's my girl." He got off of me and I sat up. The high feeling disappeared and I felt back to normal. That wasâ ¦weird.

As time approached, around twelve o' clock at night, I got up out of my bed. I felt dizzy as I left out of the house. I had to do what Todd told me. I slowly walked over to Adrianne's cottage and didn't bother knocking as I opened the door. I shut it closed. I have to find every weapon and take it. I remember where I hid the guns. I got them from out of the closet where I also found the stakes and silver chains. I gathered them all in a pile and went to the kitchen. I grabbed a huge black trash bag and placed all of the items in the bag. I smiled at the weapons I got. Getting them out of the house was another story. I had to actually drag them out. I heard the bedroom door open and Eric came out looking confused. "Lana, what are you doing?" He asked. I smiled. "I'm giving these weapons to Todd." Eric's eyes widened.

"You're doing what?!" He closed the door and came over to me. "Did he tell you to give him the weapons?" I nodded.

"What the hell is your problem?" He asked grabbing the bag from me.

"Todd wants them!" I yelled. His eyebrows pulled together as he looked in my eyes. "'The hell did he do to you? Your eyes look weird." He said narrowing his eyes.

"Give me the bag!" I yelled.

"Why are your eyes white?" He asked. He grabbed my face.

"Let go of me! Give me the guns, Eric!"

"Keep your voice down. Adrianne is sleeping." He whispered loudly.

"Well then go sleep with her and let me get the bag." I said. He shook his head. "I'm not going to let you give that asshole these weapons and you're not going back there."

"Please." I said.

"Lana, maybe you should shift so your eyes can at least be the same color as your wolves's. The white is starting to creep me out."

"It'll go away if you give me the bag."

"No. Go to sleep on the couch. Don't you dare walk out of this house."

"I have to get back to Todd." I whined. Eric shrugged. "He'll be alright without you for a night. Sleep on the couch." He started walking back into the bedroom with the bag in his hand.

"No, I'm going home." I said heading for the front door.

"No, Lana. You're staying here, I don't give a damn if I have to force you into Adrianne's bed and make you sleep in between me and her. If you're not going to act like the goddamn alpha of this wolf pack, I am. You're staying here." He said. My little brother was taking charge and it honestly scared me a little.

"Fine." I pouted. He dug a key from his pocket and locked the door from the inside. What the hell? "I don't trust you 100%. Go to sleep." He dragged the bag into the bedroom with him and closed the door.

Goddamn asshole. What does Adrianne see in that idiot? I sat on the couch and laid my head down on the arm of the chair. And I was soon off to sleep.

Adrianne's POV

When I woke up, Eric was in bed next to me fully dressed. He looked anxious. "What's wrong?" I asked. Eric sighed. "We're going after him today."

"Today?" I asked. He looked pass me out the window. I turned to see the sun shining brightly. "It's time." I looked back to him. "I need you to stay here, Adrianne. You have to stay here no matter what. No matter what thoughts you hear, you have to stay here." He placed his hand on my cheek and looked deeply into my eyes. "I love you, okay?"

I felt tears swell up into my eyes. "Eric, please don't go." He smiled at me. "I don't want you to worry about me. I want you to think about other things. Good things. Like what you want to name the baby. What song you want for our wedding." He chuckled slightly but I couldn't find it in myself to laugh. Tears slowly spilled out of my eyes.

"Please." I begged.

"I have to, Dri. I just have to. I'm doing this for us. Just be strong for me and stay in bed." He said. I nodded and closed my eyes. His pressed his lips against mine hard. His fingers ran through my hair. He kissed me like this was our last day on earth. "I love you." He whispered against my lips.

"I love you." I said back. He leaned his forehead against mine and closed his eyes. I did the same. "As soon as this is over, we're getting married." He said. I nodded and curled my fingers in his hair. "Okay." I whispered. Eric slowly pulled away from me. He walked backward out of the door and shut it as he finally left out. He was gone.

Todd was unstoppable. And I doubted if Eric was going to make it out of this. I couldn't let this happened. I looked down at the engagement ring that Eric gave me. It shined brightly as the sun reflected off of it. I loved Eric, I loved Kevin. I even loved Lana. I loved my wolf pack too much to let anybody get hurt. I wiped my tears away on my sleeve and got up. My stomach was bigger. I placed my hands on my stomach. "I love you, baby." I whispered. I got up and put on some pants. I grabbed on my shoes and ran out of the door. Kevin and Eric were already gone. I ran out the front door as fast as I could. If I transformed into my wolf, I'd lose the baby. So I stayed in my human form. Adrenaline pumped through my veins. I didn't have any weapon but I wanted Todd dead as much as everyone else and I will do whatever it takes to kill him.

Chapter 13: Can't fight any longer

Author's Note: This is an extremely short chapter. I know. I'm sorry. Next chap will be longer and better. Comment

Chapter 13: Can't fight any longer

Adrianne's POV

I ran as fast as I could. I could smell everyone's scent. It got stronger the closer I got to the pack grounds. I knew that if I fight Todd, I'm fighting him out of hate and anger and to protect my unborn child. My feet kept moving. They didn't stop not even for a second. As I got closer, I could hear Todd talking. Good, no one has started fighting yet. But from what I could hear, anything was about to start. Anything.

When I got to the pack grounds, I stopped. Todd and Eric were face to face. Lana had a gun pointed to Todd and Kevin had a chain and a stake in his hand.

I slowly walked over and tried to pull Eric back. "Stop it, Adrianne." He said shrugging me off.

"This isn't your fight." I said. Eric glared at me. "I thought I told you not to come here."

"Ericâ¦â¦this isn't your fight." I said again. And at that moment, everything happened so quickly. Todd suddenly moved from his spot and was holding Lana down by her throat. She gagged for air. And before me and Eric had time to react, Todd twisted her hand so she was pointing the gun at herself self and he made her pull the trigger.

Lana had a huge bloody hole in her eye and blood spilled out. Eric and Kevin ran over at the same time and jumped on Todd. Todd threw Eric seven feet in the air. Kevin wrapped the silver chain against Todd's neck and smoke rose off of his body. Todd screamed in pain and then pushed Kevin back onto the ground. I ran over and went for the gun that was still in Lana's hand. Todd grabbed the chain and threw it off of him and he went over and grabbed the gun first from Lana and aimed it at me. I stopped running and stayed where I was. He glared at me and then smiled. "You won't win, Adrianne. My son will soon be born and you will soon be dead afterwards. Or I could just kill you now and find someone with a stronger bloodline than you butâ¦.I don't think there is another person or family with your kind of bloodline." He said.

"I know. So you can't kill me." I whispered. He nodded. "But I can still hurt you." He turned the gun to Eric and pulled the trigger. I don't know where the bullet hit. I didn't even think. I immediately ran over and dropped down to my knees and grabbed his face. Eric was breathing hard. "Eric, are you okay?" I asked. He slowly nodded. I looked down and saw that the bullet hit his chest. But it was quickly healing.

I smiled and kissed him before standing up and turning to Todd. I glared at him. Kevin threw a stake at me. I caught it and continued glaring at Todd. "Come and get me sweetie." Todd teased. Eric slowly got to his feet and got down on all fours. He was about to shift. Distractions were all we needed. And Eric can distract him. Eric cried out as I heard his bones breaking and could hear his fur sprouting from his body. Todd looked back and forth between us all.

Between this time, I'm wondering where the rest of our wolf pack is. "I compelled them to stay away." Todd said. Eric was now in his wolf form and growling menacingly at Todd. He charged towards Todd and as Eric did that, Todd shot Eric's wolf in the chest again and Eric fell to the ground. But he couldn't shoot me down if I changed. And if I changed, I would lose the baby. I didn't know what to do. Kevin wanted to shift. I could feel it. I walked over to Todd. Kevin went to help Eric up. I stood now face to face with Todd. He looked me dead in my eyes. "You can't kill me." He whispered.

"Watch me." I said back. I lifted the stake that was still in my hand and he grabbed it and twisted it around to me. He was way stronger than me. The point of the stake was now in my shoulder causing me to bleed. Kevin suddenly was behind Todd. Todd didn't notice though. Kevin had the chain wrapped in both of his hands. He was about to wrap it around Todd's neck again.

Todd elbowed him back and grabbed the stake from me andâ¦â¦â¦I felt it. I looked down and saw the stake sticking out of my stomach. Pools of blood erupted out of me as I dropped down to the ground. My eyes closed and the darkness took over my body.

Chapter 14: Breakable

Chapter 14: Breakable

Eric's POV

Adrianne's body fell to the ground and I watched as blood spilled out of her mouth and her stomach. Her body twitched as she looked up into the sky. My eyes grew wide at the scene. My fiancÃ©e was dying. As soon as I ran for her, Todd pushed me to the ground. Then he stepped down hard on my leg, and I heard a crack. I cried out. Todd walked near me and looked down at me. "I'll be taking my son now." He said smiling. He looked over at Adrianne and his fangs slowly extended. "Her blood smells delicious. I think I'll take a tasteâ ¦..or two." He smiled and then walked over to Adrianne whose eyes were still open looking up at the sky. She was expressionless. Todd stood over her and looked down at her. "That's a lot of blood, baby." He said.

I couldn't stand. My leg was bleeding and red and swollen. "Fuck." I whispered. I began to drag my body to Todd and Adrianne. Where the hell was Kevin? "Adrianne!" I yelled. She didn't respond. Todd got on his knees between her legs. He examined something and then looked back at me. "Her water just broke. She's not dead." He turned back to her.

Slowly, I could feel the excruciating pain in my leg slowly disappear. When it did all the way, I got up and ran over and grabbed Todd and forced him down to the ground. As soon as I did this, Adrianne shrieked and I looked at her and her eyes were bloodshot red and her stomach wasâ ¦â ¦.moving. What the hell? Todd made me fall to the ground and then he wrapped his hand around my neck and squeezed.

I couldn't breathe and he had a strong grip on my neck. My eyes widened as my vision got blurry before me. Adrianne was still crying and screaming loudly and twitching on the ground.

There was suddenly a loud bang and I looked up to see a bloody hole in Todd's chest. Todd looked down at the hole and then smiled and looked at me. He leaned down and I felt his teeth pierce into my neck and I grabbed his hair pulling him back from me and a chain was wrapped around his body and his neck by a red headed girl who looked like a teenager. My neck was released and I could breathe again.

Aeryn then came out with another man. I guess they were all vampires. How were they out during the sun?

The man had a gun in his hand.

Todd was on the ground and smoke was rising from his skin because of the silver chain wrapped around his body.

Two silver bullets struck into his chest. And another one into his head. Kevin came to him and held up something in a can. He glared down at Todd who was already groaning in pain. Kevin pressed down on the little button and as soon as the liquid touched Todd's skin, it began to dissolve and his groans turned into screams. Wolfsbane. They were doing it, using the weaknesses of vampires and werewolves to kill a hybrid. Other unknown people came over with stakes tight in their hand and began to pierce his dissolved skin. He was turning into blood and bones slowly.

I looked over at Adrianne who was twitching in pain still. I ran over to her and kneeled beside her. "Baby." I whispered. She looked up at me weakly. Tears coming out of her eyes. "I'm scared. I think he'sâ ¦â ¦.." She whispered. I shook my head. I lifted her pale dress and looked under her dress. She was breathing heavily.

"Push baby." I whispered. She shook her head. "I can't." She whispered. I nodded. "Yes you can."

She closed her eyes and screamed as she tried to push. Kevin came over towards her. "We need to get her home.

"She's about to have the baby." I said. Kevin looked behind him and then to me.

"Truth be told, wolf," Aeryn said leaning down between us. "I never actually heard of a hybrid birth. Only a birth between a vampire and a human and wolf and a human."

"Why are you just now telling us this?" Kevin asked. Aeryn licked his lips and sighed. "I didn't want you all to freak out. You can't exactly get a hybrid aborted or anything."

"Why?" I asked.

Aeryn shrugged and sighed. "I don't know." He answered.

I looked at Adrianne's weak body and face. She was growing pale. I shook my head. "No. No. Baby." I whispered. She wasn't answering me. My eyes watered. "Baby." I whispered. Her eyes closed.

"Fuck." Aeryn whispered. He lifted his sleeve and bit into his skin and let the blood fall onto Adrianne's lips.

"What the hell are you doing?" I asked. Aeryn looked at me as he pushed his wrist against Adrianne's lips.

"You don't want her dead. My blood can heal her." He said. I looked at her and then looked underneath her dress. I can see the baby sticking out but he wasn't crying. Fuck.

"We need to get her home." Kevin said.

"Right, with a baby sticking halfway out of her vagina." I snapped. He rolled his eyes. I reached inside of her and pulled the baby out. I stared at his small bloody pale figure. His eyes were closed. He was breathing. Aeryn looked at his half-brother and then to me. I looked down at him.

He slowly opened his eyes. He had white pupilsâ ¦..then they slowly turned black and then light green. Then to dark green as he looked up at me.

"Is that him?" Asked the red headed girl. I looked up at her. Aeryn nodded. "Guys, this is my sister, Aries. Aries, this is our half-brother." He said. She smiled down at him. She got on her knees beside me and Aeryn. "He's beautiful." She whispered. Her eyes slowly went to Adrianne. "Is she dead?" She asked. I shook my head.

"She better not be." Said Kevin. I looked back down at the baby. "He's gone?" I asked no one in particular.

"He's gone." Aeryn replied.

Adrianne's POV

When I woke up, everything was bright. I rubbed my eyes and swallowed and sat up. I realized I was back in my cottage. In my bedroom. "Hey, don't move so fast." Said a voice. I looked over to Eric and smiled.

"How do you feel?" He asked. I scratched my head and looked down at my stomach that was no longer big. I gulped. "Eric?" I asked.

"Relax, honey, he's fine." He whispered. Relief washed over me. "It's a boy?" I asked with tears forming in my eyes. Eric nodded. "It's a boy. Its our boy." He whispered. I smiled and he slowly leaned over and kissed me. "Why do you taste different?" I asked. He shrugged and smiled, then kissed me again. And again. And again. And again.

"Where is he?" I asked against his lips. Eric stood up and went out of the room for a second. I didn't want to ask him where Todd was. I didn't really care. The only thing besides Eric that I cared about right now was my son. My son. I'm going to have to get used to having a son. It was definitely a change. A huge one.

Eric came back in with a tiny pale baby in his hands. I almost cried at how beautiful he was as Eric put him into my arms.

He was warm. Not too hot like a werewolf. Not too cold like a vampire. His pupils turned from green to white for a second, then black, then back to dark green. It truly scared me for a moment. I looked up at Eric as he shrugged. "That happens. I don't know why." He whispered. I rocked the baby back and forth and smiled at him. It was hard not to.

"May I come in?" Asked a familiar voice. I turned to see Aeryn in the doorway. I smiled at him and invited him in. He walked in with a red haired girl right behind him. "He looks just like you, wolf." He said smiling. I rolled my eyes.

"What's his name?" The red haired girl asked. I licked my lips and thought for a second. "Lucas." I whispered.

"Beautiful." My mom whispered as she walked into the room. I looked up at her. Tears forming in my eyes.

"Mommy?" I cried. I sounded like a little girl. Eric took the baby from my arms. My mother hugged me. I was about to ask her where she has been but I remembered that Todd said he compelled the wolf pack to stay away.

"Are you okay?" She asked. I nodded.

She looked at Eric and Lucas. Eric was doing a cute little voice as he was talking to Lucas. My mom turned to look at me. "Are you sure you're okay? I heard about everything baby. I wish I was there."

"No mom. It's fine. It's fine. It's okay now. I'm justâ ¦..I'm so glad that you're here." I said. She smiled and hugged me tightly.

"Me too, baby." She whispered. I never felt so close to my mom before now. I loved her more than I'd ever realize.

She turned and grabbed Lucas in her arms. "God, he is so gorgeous." She cooed. Eric smiled a little and then came over to me. I watched as Aeryn and the red head went over to play with Lucas.

He sat on the bed and looked at me. "Does your mom know about Lana?" I asked. Eric sighed and nodded. "Yeah she knows. She's pretty heartbroken about it."

"I'm sorry Eric." I said. He smiled and leaned his forehead against mine. "I know. It's okay. I'll always love her. Just like I'll always love you."

"I know you'll always love me but your sister just died and you don't seem to be phased by it at all."

"I feel kind of numb about it truthfully." He said.

I nodded. "Numb is good. Sort of." I whispered. He smiled and pressed his forehead against mine. "You're all I need." He said. I smiled. "You're all I need."

"He's so beautiful, honey." My mom said handing him back to me. "Thanks mom." I said. She smiled. "I'll leave you alone for a little." She said and then turned and then left.

Aeryn sighed and then smiled.

"I'll wait outside with Addison." The red haired girl said. She left out of the room quietly.

Aeryn nodded. "This was quite a day. Quite a day. My dad's dead. And I have another brother. "

"Yeah." I said. Aeryn looked into my eyes. "I guess I was wrong about wolves. You guys really do have meaning." He said. I smiled. "Same about vampires." I said.

Aeryn looked down at Lucas. "That little guy is definitely going to change some lives." He said. I nodded.His eyes then went to Eric. "Sorry about your sister." He said. Eric nodded. "Thank you."

Aeryn smiled. "I'll catch you all later." He said.

"Hey Aeryn," I said. He turned slightly. "You're a good friend." I said. He smiled and nodded and then stalked out of the room. I licked my lips and looked down at Lucas.

"So breast feeding is definitely out of the question." Eric whispered. I playfully pushed him with my shoulder and he kissed my forehead.

"We'll have to get some blood for him." I said. He nodded. "I'm sure we can find some human. Get some blood. Shouldn't be too hard."

"Right, like a human is going to offer to donate blood for a werewolf vampire hybrid." I said sarcastically.

"They don't have to know what its for."

"I heard vampires keep humans around for blood and sex. Maybe Aeryn has a human." I said. I watched as Lucas's eyes slowly closed.

"Maybe." Eric whispered. We both watched little Lucas. We both envied the kid and he's only been here for a couple of hours.

Lucas was going to be a good kid. I can see it now. He was beautiful and he was perfect. He was my son and I'm holding onto him.

And. I'm. Never. Letting. Go.

Chapter 15: Epilogue

Author's note: Still thiking about rather or not i should make a sequel about the son

Epilogue

Adrianne's POV

I grabbed my son, Kaiden in my arms and laid him in his bed. I kissed his forehead. "Mommy? He asked. I looked down at him and brushed his hair out of his eyes. "Yeah?" I asked. He looked me in my eyes. "What happened to me today?" He asked.

I sat down on the bed beside him and brushed his hair back. "You shifted for the first time, baby." I said. His eyes grew wide. "I did?" He asked. I nodded.

"Sometimes when wolves reach a certain age, they shift. It can happen at anytime."

"Evenâ ¦..school?" He asked. I nodded.

"That's why your grandma homeschools you, Kaiden. Sometimes you won't be able to control your anger and we can't have humans knowing about our existence or about the existence of vampires. Okay? Can you keep it a secret?" I asked and brought my index finger to my lips. He did the same.

I smiled and kissed his forehead.

"Can I go out and run with you and daddy in the morning?" He asked. I smiled and nodded. "Of course, baby. Sweet dreams." I whispered.

"Love you mommy."

"Love you more." I whispered before kissing him again. I got up and closed the door as I walked out.

Eric was standing in the doorway smirking at me. "Hey." He said. I smiled as he pulled me over to him and kissed me deeply. I curved my fingers into his soft brown hair.

"You're so sexy." He whispered against my lips. I giggled and smiled. "Not soon. I'm going to be fat in a couple of weeks." I said. His hand rubbed my stomach. "So? You're still sexy." He kissed me again and again.

"Hey, before this goes deeper, you should go check on Lucas. He's on the roof alone." He said. I sighed. Lucas was ten. And he was a good boy but he also had a bad case of anger. Worse than any of us. And it honestly scared me sometimes.

"Okay, wait for me in the bedroom." I said. He smiled and nipped at my ear before disappearing at the other end of the hallway. I walked outside into the night air. Aeryn was walking around hand in hand with a woman named Angel. She was pretty. Even for a human.

"Out a little late don't you think?" Aeryn joked. I rolled my eyes. "Your brother is on the roof. Got to go get him." I said. Aeryn nodded once.

"Hi, Angel." I said. Angel smiled. "Hey, Adrianne. Having the baby soon?" She asked. I shrugged. "Not even fat yet." I said and she giggled lightly.

I walked to the back of the house and climbed the tree. This little boy is making me climb a tree while I'm pregnant. I'm gonna kill him. But I did make it to the roof.

Lucas's legs were hanging off the roof as he sat looking down at the ground. "Hey, you okay?" I asked. He turned and his eyes glowed bright white and then went back to green. "I'm fine."

I shook my head and sat beside him. "No, you're not. You always come up here." I said.

"I come up here when I think I'm gonna get mad. I just want to be alone."

"Don't shut me out." I said. He looked at me and his eyes glowed white again.

"I'm not trying to, mom."

"Why can't I read your thoughts? Why are you blocking them from me?" I asked. Lucas's eyes went back to dark green.

"I don't know." He answered. I bit my lip.

"You honestly scare me sometimes, Lucas."

"I don't mean to. I'm justâ¦.with knowing everything my dad has done." He closed his eyes and shook his head. He was ten but had the mind of a twenty year old.

"Your dad wasâ¦.."

"An asshole? I heard you and Eric talking.."

"Don't ever say that word." I said. Lucas stared at me. I tried to calm myself down. "Your dad did some bad things. Butâ¦.he loved you. He would have worshipped you, Lucas. Just like I do."

Lucas licked his lips and stared down below us. "I heard about some of the stuff he's done and I'm glad he's dead."

"Lucas! Your dadâ¦.he loved you." I said. He shook his head. "No. No he didn't. He couldn't have if he hurt you and the rest of my family." He said. His eyes glowed back to white. "I'm going to go hunt for a little." He said. His fangs protracted out of his gums and he dropped off of the roof and his feet made a soft thud as he landed down on the ground. He quickly disappeared through the woods.

Lucas was just like a grown man. But he was ten year old. A ten year old grown man who is a werewolf, vampire hybrid and also carry the Carter bloodline which is the strongest bloodline there is. In the Carter bloodline, the blood is like magic. You have strong odd powers that comes in handy often.

Lucas was stronger than all of the wolf pack and he worried me sometimes because I never knew what he would do. He gets angry so easily.

I climbed the tree and got back down to the ground and went into the house. I turned off all the lights and went into my bedroom where Eric was waiting. He smiled at me. "Hey."

I closed the door behind me. "He knows that Todd was a bad guy." I said. Eric's eyes pulled together.

"I thought we agreed we wouldn't ever bring up that name again."

"I know butâ ¦.he knows his dad is bad. What if he falls into his footsteps?" I said sitting on the bed. Eric shook his head.

"The kid scares the shit out of me but he's a good kid. He loves us all. We don't need to worry about him."

"But I do. He's a hybrid. The only one left with the Carter bloodline."

"I know. I know. Come here." He pulled me into his arms and kissed my finger that held a wedding ring. "He's our son. We will love him no matter what he is." Eric whispered in my hair. I nodded and kissed him.

"I love you." I whispered.

"I love you too." He whispered back and held me tighter. He laid back so that I was now laying on top of his chest. He twirled a piece of my hair around with his finger. My vision became blurry as I soon drifted to sleep.

Created from Booksie.com

Generated: 2014-08-23 16:59:48