We Vote This Time

By : Stormbird Throneshaker

I hope Johnny doesn't come back to haunt me. Written, rewritten, revampped or whatever 07/19/2012 Poem, humor, song lyrics to the tune "I Walk The Line" by Johnny Cash This one's for you Insane Membrane!

Published on Booksie

booksie.com/Stormbird Throneshaker

Copyright © Stormbird Throneshaker, 2014
Publish your writing on Booksie.com.

We Vote This Time

We keep a close watch on your story lines

We keep our eyes wide open all the time

We keep them bugged out when you blow our minds

Because you're fine,

We vote this time

We find it very, very easy to like you

We find ourselves amazed when each day's through

Yes, we'll admit that we are jewels to you

Because you're fine,

We vote this time

As sure as it is hard to read and write

We keep you on our minds both day and night

And correctness we've known proves that it's right

Because you're fine,

We vote this time

You've got a way to keep us on your side

You give us cause for reading what you don't hide

For you we know we'd even try to read without light

Because you're fine,

We vote this time

We Vote This Time

We keep a close watch on your story lines

We keep our eyes wide open all the time

We keep them bugged out when you blow our minds

Because you're fine,

We vote this time

Created from Booksie.com

Generated: 2014-03-11 23:23:13