California Rich Kelsey

Kelsey stared at her MacBook, looking up the new Jessica Simpson collection. It was going to be her seventeeth birthday in three weeks and she wanted the new collection as her birthday gift. Her iPhone chirped four times. It was Alayna, her lab partner wanting to know what she wanted for her birthday. Kelsey texted back that her mom was getting her the new Jessica Simpson collection. Alayna just texted back okay. Kelsey didn't respond right away, just put her elbows on her cherrywood desk so she could prop her chin up. She sighed. The biggest thing was the new collection. She picked up her phone and texted Alayna back that some gift cards would do. Alayna again texted ok. Kelsey hinted a smile. That's what Alayna said a lot of the time.
