Choking On My Approval

Iâ ve been waiting my whole life for a love like this,

but all I do is long for your presence and silently beg for your time.

In the beginning I was so lenient with everything because I was so afraid to lose you, and now all I do is choke on my approval because I feel like youâ re slipping away.

Not actually of course,

itâ s just the longing that makes it feel this way.

I wish I could tell you how Iâ m feeling,

that would make me someone who goes back on my word.

I just wanted you to be happy.

And I didnâ t want to be another one of those nagging girlfriends.

But in a way I wish I were because then youâ d see just how much I care,

just how much I miss you,

and wish you were here.

Deep down inside I hope that you start to hear my silent pleas of your company, begin to see the tears Iâ ve been crying all along when you werenâ t around,

and realise that all I have wanted this whole time was you,

you and your happiness.
