Chapter 1: Spirit revealed

,"Alex behind you!"

I spun around, my sword flying. My blade met armor; cut threw steel, ripped through skin, and broke through bone. I cut down the three men that surrounded me, and then went after the two by Raven.

The men glared at me with eyes full of hatred.

"Why don't you just die already?"

"Leave us alone! We didn't want any trouble. Why did you attack us?"

An evil smile crept onto the man's face,

"You know why. We want what's hidden inside of you. We want the Spirit of the Dragon. MEN SHOW YOURSELVES!"

The magic used to create the trees surrounding us faded revealing an army of haggard men.

I back-up closer to Raven,

"Stay close."

Raven moved even closer to me as the men advanced,

"Alex what are we going to do? We are both tired and your wounds are opening again. You can't take them all on by yourself. We need to get away."

I looked over my shoulder at Raven,

"How far do you think we would get before we would have to fight them anyway? There's no point in running, we don't need to, and we will win Raven."

I turned back towards the man,

"You want my Spirit Beast? So be it, I'll let you meet him."

I moved towards the man, as black markings appeared on my arm. They burned like black fire as they danced across my skin revealing the mark of the Spirit of the Dragon written in the long forgotten language of the Dragons.

The man grinned,

"The Fire of the Spirit Dragon. Amazing, it's as black as night. Show me the Beast; I shall claim it as my own."

I smiled,

"As you wish."

Black flames shot from the palm of my right hand into the sky. The clouds darkened, the air became cold as all heat in the air was consumed by the black clouds.

I raised my hand towards the sky,

"COME FORTH! DRACOMER!!"

The black clouds shot towards the ground, heat filled the air, a dark mass stood in the center of the clouds.

I smiled,

"Destroy them."

The black mass in the cloud shot forward. The cloud itself disappeared. Dracomer flew around so fast none of the men could fight back; one by one the men fell at the claws of Dracomer. Soon only the one man stood alone shaking in his boots.

Dracomer landed in front of the man.

I smile as Dracomer moved closer to him,

"Let me introduce you to. Dracomer this is the man that tries to take you from me. Man that tried to take Dracomer this is Dracomer ShadowClaw. Also, known as the Black Flame of Death."

Chapter 3: Love is in the air

Raven and I continued through the woods at a slow pace. We were both extremely tired, we had been traveling for 4 weeks straight since we had arrived in Spira.

Raven stumbled, I quickly turned and caught her before she could hit the ground. Raven looked at me,

"Alex I can't walk anymore, please can we stop for a moment?"

"Of course."

I lowered Angel to the ground; she leaned back against a tree and closed her eyes. I sat down beside her, she smiled. Raven and I always get happier when we are together; even hiking through bandit/monster infested woods.

I shifted my position, wrapped my arms around Raven, and pulled her closer.

Raven sighed,

"I know what you're thinking Alex. I still don't regret coming with you, and I never will."

"But, you're always being attacked; you're always on the run for your life. I don't want to lose you."

Raven sat up, and put her hands on the ground on either side of me to keep herself from falling,

As long as I'm with you, I know I'll be fine. Don't worry so much Alex. Somehow I know everything is going to be fine."

'She's so care free, she's always smiling even when in a life threatening situation.'

I pulled Raven gently towards me, and kissed her. Instantly all my weariness and pain was gone, I felt rested, and refreshed.

Raven slowly pulled away.

"So, how much farther to this castle you keep telling me about?"

I smiled and stood up,

"We will reach it in a few moments."

Raven frowned,

"Raven we are in the middle of nowhere, just a few hours ago you said we would reach it by tomorrow morning. How are we going to reach it in a couple of minutes?"

"By flying of course."
