morning on the beach

i sit and watch the sun as it touches the sky and the waves clasps one another the birds fly over the sznd i walk along the beach thinking of what was said and done knowing i want to do tings right taking the time to relax my nerves and pryaing to god looking around at god's work feeling the fire from embracing the love thats around me.

i walk back up the beach house thinking about her soft gentle toush that calmed my sould when no other couldnt i sip my coffee and watch as the sun rises as it rises over the water, and the waves clasps one anather
