The Journey of a Haiku Writer

There are mountains, With rocky and muddy paths, But it's still my job Delivering things, With paper and a pen, To write what I see I use Haikus, To write about my journey, And the things I see I have eyes, So I can see the mountains, The mountain range It's late evening, I almost reached the place, A small town A town full of joy, Full of snow and trees, Christmas is here
