Imagination...

Thinking goes far beyond my dreams,
Clouds surrender to the faces, I have seen.
I run down to chase the frost and rain,
I am out of your world once again.
Stars fall to my way, down to the narrow lane,
Thunders climb the air to freeze my dream,
I love to live in my own heaven.
I do not want go far away from life,
To make wishes far faded or wide,
I do not wonder to see how the world goes with me,
I want to live my life to eternity.
To quantify my life, with gains or pains,
I do not wonder to see how the world goes with me,
Let life fall itâs way to paradise,
Living the day and night only to realize,
I am there for a while to watch you my life.
