"Smartfone" is a craze for young prone

Today from the age of 5, if a child is in His continuous crying then instead of a rattle the parents prefer to handover a "smartfone" in His hand. After playing a no: of ringtones and songs the child too stop crying and start gazing this useful gadget in an astonished manner. slowly-slowly He became habitual of it and from the age of 9 and 10, he, start using the same for entertainment after playing a no: of games on it. His craze is kept going on and at the age of 11 to 15, He start demanding the same for its personal use. At that time the parents surprised and forced to think that being a middle class one they can't afford the same to a child at such an early stage. Now the gap between their relations start developing and the child became an anti for their parents as He realizes that He is not comfortable among His friend circle and avoided the same. He also imposes many charges on their parents who are unable to fetch a "Smartfone" for him.

Whose fault?

The fault is countable towards parents as they are the one who make them habitual of it at a very early stage.

Consequences

1. Child start spending His time on this mobile applications.
2. He wishes always for a better "Mobile Handset" after every 2 months.
3. He start using the same for destructive purposes like games, SMS, movies etc.

Conclusion

Such type of gadgets must be handover to them only after the age of 18 so that a child Himself take a decision regarding the smart uses of "Smartfone".
