Comments and Questions

This is going to be basically a feedback page, please comment on this page for whatever you would like to see from me, poetry, fanfiction, or other genres or work. Also give me feedback on what you like in my work, and what you don't like in my work; I will probably take your comments into consideration. Also inside my work you can tell me on this page, such as character development, events that you want to see and so on and so forth. Comments are always appreciated!
