A sister's love

Dedicated to every sibling especially a sister.. A sister...the love of a sister for her brother is true and a gift of Divine blessing...the only woman who will feel your pain as much as you hurt,the only woman who will see your true colours and still stand and love you no less then the day she was born... Her bond stays with you even though she changed her surname and has a life of her own,her innocence who is with you till the day God recalls you... A sister is sent to you for the simple reason to stand with you,love you,care for you and pick you up when no one else will...Love her with all you have for she is irreplaceable no woman should ever replace her.. A sister's love...true undying pure and forever.
