WHY ME???? : Chapter 1

All through Public School I was warned. I was to pretty for my own good. To sexy. To knowing. They said not to go out on my own. To stay in a group. To trust no one. I remember in Grade 4 doing a test. All the boys had to secretly vote on the sexiest girl. I came in first. Actually I got all the votes. In this part of time, slavery was the norm. Now in Grade 9 I was getting fed up. At school I was warned and at home my step-parents were idiots. It was after school. I had just entered the door. "Get over here Christina!" I walked over with my head held high. "Yes, William?" I questioned. William is my step-dad. My mother died when I was 4. Then my dad married my step-mom. Afterward my dad died. Now my step-mom is married to William. He was always trying to come on to me. At the age of 10 I had given my first blowjob. If I refused I was punished. With fists and feet. William is very dangerous. At the moment he was lying on the couch. "Call my daddy." He snarled. I just stared at him. He realized that he wasn't going to get a response from me. "I was just thinking about Bella. How hot and sweaty she is right now." My step-father said. Bella is my step-mother. She is a construction worker. I continued to stare at William. "Well I'm starting to get hard from thinking that. Maybe you could come here and help daddy out with that." He smiled in a sick and twisted way. "No way William" I said calmly. I don't care how many blow-jobs I've given him, I'm not giving him another. He got up from the couch. He towered over me. "Call me daddy!" He screamed. His hand flew to my face. I saw the ground rushing up at me before I realized he had slapped me. I hit the carpet and mentally thanked my real father for putting it in. I flipped onto my stomach. William was walking toward me. He unbuckled his belt. "Beg." He said. I crawled backward. "For what?" I said dumbly. "You know exactly what." I gulped. I pushed against the wall and stood up. "No." I said. No way was I going to beg for him to stick that into my mouth. No way. He advanced closer and I realized I was trapped. Lets just get this done and over with. I slowly went down on my knees. William was directly over top of me. "Please." I whispered. "Please what?" He said. "Please William." I begged. "Daddy!" He snarled. I flicked my eyes down. "Please daddy."
