Girl among Wolves : Chapter 1

i½

My head was racing with thoughts as I watched him walk into the room. I could only pick out a few emotions; Curiosity, Confusion and Fear. I looked away from him and at the man who held me in place. He glared at me and I whimpered in fear. I couldn't tell if he was gonna hit me or not. He had before and i watched myself around him. I looked back at the man who had entered and he was standing by the door smirking at me.

I raised an eyebrow and he winked at me. I looked away from him and shifted my weight. It felt like i had been standing there forever. I was growing impatient. What did they want from me? I was literally picked up by this man, away from my friends who were yelling at him and hopefully calling the cops, and shoved into a car. the first thing that went through my head after the shock was; Why did he kidnap me when i was with friends? isn't that like a big "do not"? I shook my head and looked back at the door when i heard it open again.

An older man walked in. He had specks of gray hair on his head and you could see the lines forming under his eyes. I watched as he walked straight for me with the other man behind him, and to my discomfort, he was still smirking. The old man grabbed my chin and turned my face, inspecting me. "Strip her." He commanded the man holding me.

I jumped. "What?" I asked, my eyes going wide. I tried to step away before he could touch me but it was too late. He grabbed my arm and hit my head. "Wait." I said faintly but I was too weak. I felt my clothes come off roughly. I stood there awkwardly as the three of stared at my naked body. Once I was able to talk again I looked up at the old man. "I would have taken them off myself."

He just huffed and walked away. He looked at the first man that came in. "She's healthy. Do what you want."

I looked at him confused and he grinned at me. He took my chin and kisses my cheek. "You are mine now." I pushed him away.

I smiled back at him. "You need to earn me." I put my clothes back on. I glared at him. "What now?" I knew I shouldn't be expecting this but i was curious. More than I was scared.

He smiled. It nearly melted my heart but i wasn't gonna let him have the benefit of knowing. "Come with me." He started out of the room and I followed with grace. We got into a limo. It was sleek and black. The seats were leather and I was made to sit next to him.

During the ride he ran his hand up and down my leg. I tried very hard to ignore him and was thankful that I had decided to wear jeans. After a while I looked at him and realized he had been staring at me the entire time. "What?" I asked, sounding annoyed.

He smiled. "You are beautiful." I rolled my eyes. His hand stopped just a breath away from my crotch and he looked at me seriously. I then noticed that his eyes were a deep shade of green. Like a christmas tree. "I'm not just saying that. I've had my eyes on you for sometime. I have only ever wanted one girl, and its you."

I held back a blush and smirked at him. "Stalker much?"

He gave me a crooked smile. "I wasn't the only one that had my eyes on you."

Girl among Wolves

I looked at him questioningly and as I was about to ask who else the car stopped and the door opened. He pulled me out of the car behind him and I stared in awe. We stood in front of a huge mansion. It looked old, like very old. I looked up at him and then back at the mansion. "You live here?"

He shrugged. "I don't live here alone. There are about seven other men here." I could feel my heart race. I would be in a house with eight men. I could feel true fear sink inside me. I took a step back. Too scared to go any farther.

"Take me home. I want to go home." I could hide the hysteria that showed in my voice. I knew what he wanted me for and for some reason it didn't scare me but, other men did.

He brushed my hair away from my neck and kissed it. "You are home." I whimpered and i heard a low growl rumble in his chest. I looked at him. For the first time i was scared of him. "I won't let anyone hurt you." He tried to lead me to the door but my legs wouldn't move. "Come on."

I shook my head. "I can't move." I was frozen in place. Too scared of what i would find inside. He rolled his eyes and picked me up. "No. Please. I don't want to." I whined. I hated that i was showing suck weakness. He carried me to the door and kicked it open.

"We're home!" He yelled and it echoed through the house. A man had been walking through the entrance way with chips and soda.

He grinned when he saw us. "About time, Ben. Where have you been and who is she? She's hot." I gulped and tried to hide against his chest. That man was huge. He had large muscles and was tall. At least i knew the name of the man who brought me here

Ben laughed. "She's gonna be living with us now. I want you to respect her and protect her from the others." He looked down at me. "Don't worry. Chris here will protect you. He won't let anyone hurt you. He really is a teddy bear."

Chris glared at him but you could see the smile dance in his eyes. "Hey! I have a reputation to uphold."

Ben chuckled. "Oh right. Sorry. He's A big grizzly bear. My apologies." Ben put me on my feet but kept an arm wrapped around my waist. He kissed my forehead and pushed me toward Chris. "Go with him. I have some things i need to do." I looked up at him and back at chris. I couldn't understand what was going on but somehow i trusted them. I walked over to chris. He bigger than i thought. It almost comforted me.

"Let's go. The show is about to start." I nodded and followed. I couldn't help but look back to see Ben looking back at me longingly. Chris led me to a large room with three couches, two recliners and a huge wide screen tv taking up the wall. There were already three other men taking up one couch. "Move it." Chris said to one of them and he somehow fit himself on the couch with them. I climbed into one of the recliners and hugged my knees to my chest.

One of them looked over to me and winked. I stuck my tongue at him. I know it was childish but it made me feel good and he gave a good hearty laugh. "Who is this chick?" He asked Chris.

He gave him a serious look. "This is Ben's girl." The man that winked at me motioned for me to come over. I stood in front of them, well out of their reach.

I smiled politely. "Hi, I'm Claire." My heart was racing again. They all looked at me hungrily.

The man that winked at me spoke first. "I'm Thomas." He looked at Chris. "Was he insane? How could he think to bring her here?"

Chris glared at him. "Because he knows that we wouldn't dare touch her. She is under my protection. Don't get any idea's." His eyes darted to the door and back to me. I looked there too and i saw someone was standing their. I couldn't see his face but i knew he was staring at me. I felt a shiver run down my spine. I step toward Chris and the others. Thomas grabbed my arm and pulled me onto his lap. I squeaked, to my embarrassment as he wrapped his arms around me. "I'll protect you too. You can call me your big brother." The sound of that was comforting. Maybe i would like it here. Chris growled at him. "Don't worry, little sis. I'll protect you from the mean bear." I couldn't help but laugh. suddenly Chris tackled Thomas and I. He did it with such grace that i was a little surprised. I found myself on the ground between each of them as they rolled across the floor.

When we all stopped i was laying with my back on Chris and looking up and Thomas. They were both so close to me. I was trying very hard not to look scared but i think i failed because Thomas kissed my forehead. "Don't worry. We're only playing around."

I nodded and couldn't help but smile. "I know. You guys are fun." I rolled out from between them and stood. We all looked at the door when we heard someone clear their throat. Ben was standing there. He didn't look too happy. He motioned me to come. I did so.

He looked me over. "Are you hurt?" He turned me around and then back to him.

I smiled. "We were just playing." Seeing him worry about me was kinda nice. No one had ever been like this to me before. "I like them."

He smiled but i could still see the worry. "That's good. They are good." I looked back at them. They had made their way back to the couch. "Stay close to them. When i'm not with you." I nodded but i was confused. He looked back to me. I could see the longing again and it made my heart race and my body feel, different. "I promise. I'll be with you tonight." He took my chin and kissed my lips.

At first i held very still until i heard that growl deep in his chest again. I couldn't help but react. I wrapped my arms around his neck and kissed him back. The growl turned into a kind of pur and he lifted me up. I wrapped my legs around his waist. He pinned me against the wall and started to nip my neck. I closed my eyes and gasped. My body was on fire and i wanted him. When i opened them again I saw that they were all watching us. I blushed deeply. "Ben, um, the others." I whispered. He almost whined when i pointed it out. He put me down reluctantly but kept me trapped against the wall. I knew how he felt.

He kissed me one last time. "I have to get back to work." He brushed his face against my neck. His warm breath against my neck felt so good. "Tonight." He whispered. I could hear the promise behind the words.

Chapter 2: Girl among wolves: Chapter 2

When i got back into the recliner. Chris burst out laughing. "You're adapting well to him. You do realize you were kidnapped right?"

I gave him a crooked smile. "Was i really though? Maybe i knew he was following me." I hugged my knees again. He laughed again and i couldn't help but smile. "What are we watching anyways?" He proceeded to explain the show to me. We all watched it and i found out the other two men were Brennon and Charlie. They were twins, not identical though. Chris told me they keep to themselves mostly. They didn't say anything for the entire time we watched tv.

Suddenly the twins went off. Thomas said they were probably heading to bed. "I think i will too. It's getting late. I'll find Ben for you." I nodded and thanked him. Now it was just me and Chris.

I looked over at him. "Can i ask you something?" He nodded but didn't take his eyes from the tv. "Have there been other girls?"

He looked at me and smiled. "No. You're the first. Ben doesn't like to...give in to cravings. You're different though. It would best be explained by him. He told me that not only did he want you but he said he needed you." I looked at him confused and he laughed. "Ben will explain when he's ready." He looked at the door. "Speak of the devil. Hey boss!" I looked and Ben was leaning on the door frame smiling at me.

He motioned for me to come over and i did. "Lets go to bed." He said and wrapped an arm around my waist. He lead me up the main stairs and down a long hall. At the end was a large room with a king size bed. He picked me up and layed me on the bed. "Oh Claire." He said as he kissed my neck and started to slip my pants off.

"Ben, wait." He stopped and looked at me with lust. "I've never been with a man. I'm not ready." I blushed and looked away.

He kissed me. "Thats okay. I won't force you." I could see him fighting to take me right then and there but i got off me. "There are clothes in the dresser for you. You go ahead and change. I have to work for a few more hours." I regretted refusing him but i wasn't ready. He got up and left. He was keeping something from me. They all were.

I ran my fingers through my long hair and sighed. I needed to find answers but i was exhausted. I went over to the dresser and found a pair of pajama bottoms and a tank top. I crawled into the bed. It was so soft and warm. I didn't realize how cold it was in the room and wrapped the blanket tight around me. I fell asleep instantly.

When i woke up I was still alone and sprawled across the bed and it was pitch black outside. I sat up and looked around. As i was about to swing out of bed when i heard something give a low growl. I looked down and there was a giant wolf laying beside the bed. It's body was about the same length of the bed and its muzzle was as long as my forearm.

His deep green eyes looked up at me. When it stood I slid back on the bed. Its eyes were level with mine and he gave a low whimper. Slowly i reached my hand out and he leaned his head into my hand. He was so warm in the cold room. I moved closer slowly. Not wanting to startle him. I ran my fingers through his long soft fur around his neck. I felt a rumble deep in his chest and froze. When i was sure he wouldn't hurt me i tangled my fingers into his fur and hugged him close.

Girl among Wolves

I gave a quiet moan as i felt his body heat. "So warm." I sighed and nuzzled my face against his neck. I stayed still as he climbed onto the bed. He pressed his cold nose against my chest and i layed back down. He curled his body around mine with his head resting on the pillow next to mine. I looked into his eye and gave a wry smile. "I know you're Ben." I wrapped my arm around him and rested my head on his shoulder. "Good night." I felt his body sigh and i dozed back to sleep. Comforted by his warmth.

-Sorry that this one is shorter. I'm working on adding more soon but i feel this is an important part of the relationship between these two-
