When Alice and Jasper met

ï¿½

*Jasper's P.O.V*

As I walked inside the restaurant, I saw a short girl, with raven hair; her hair was short and spiky. She was walking towards me, smiling. This made me confused. Don't vampires suppose to take down other vampires if they are in their territory? But why was she smiling at me? And, yet not attacking me? Is it because she is alone? Or is she new here too? And this is not her area? Is that it?

As she came closer, her emotions surprised me. She was full of happiness and hope. Emotions I knew, but never dreamed to be felt by my kind.

"You're here! I thought you'd never come!" She said. A bright smile was on her face when she said it.

I bowed down; I don't want to embarrass her or myself. So, I just merely said, "I'm sorry ma'am"

She chuckled in response, yet she extended her hand towards me, palm up. She was still smiling, her smile was genuine as gold.

As I looked at her happy face, feeling her special aura, I subconsciously took her hand.

ï¿½

She led the way out the door of the restaurant, but when I held her hand...

For the first time, I felt hope.

Chapter 2

*Still Jasper's P.O.V*

As we went outside I suddenly felt confused. I knew my gift might affect this girl, so I decided to let go of her, she might feel confused, I don't affect her angelic mood for my weird gift.

As I was about to move my hand, her grip suddenly tightened around my hand. This made me confused even more.

"Calm down, Jasper. It's alright if your gift affects me, it doesn't matter." She said. Her back was on me. But wait, she just called me by my name. How'd she know that? And about my gift too? This is getting pretty strange. I wonder what I should do.

Then, she turned around to get a good look at me, "Jasper, it's alright. I'll explain everything to you on the train"

"Train?" I asked, perplexed.

"We're going to Canada" She replied.

"Miss-"I wanted to say something. But she cut me off.

"Alice. Please call me Alice Jasper" she said.

"Alright then Alice, where are going? What station do you propose for us to go?" I asked.

But as I said it, I heard a roar of a train, and the ear-splitting sound of the train on the rails.

Alice giggled. "You see, where here"

I just looked at her, dumb-struck. She was pretty amazing for own way.

That must her talent or something. Hmmm...Speaking of talent, how did she know mine?

But before I could say or do anything Alice pulled me towards the train station.

"Jasper! Hurry up! We need to catch up with the bus!" She yelled while pulling herder.

New beginning (When Alice and Jasper met)

As we stopped, Alice went in front of the counter to get our tickets, I saw the man selling the tickets' eyes bugged out when Alice came to his view. I could feel lust growing inside him. I automatically put my arms around Alice's waist and glared at him, while Alice took the tickets.

We took our seat at middle part of the train, I sat beside the window. As we we're about to depart I gave the man a last death-glare. Doesn't he dare come near Alice with lustful feelings!

But wait. Why do I even care? Maybe it's just the strong protecting the weak, but I doubt weak is the right word for vampires. But I guess it fits Alice. She is so small, so fragile. I feel I need to protect her; actually, I want to protect her.

I felt Alice slumped on her chair, her face looking at the ceiling but her eyes were close. I took the chance to look at her.

I noticed that was very beautiful, but of course all vampires are. But Alice, she more than that for me, she was more beautiful than Nettie r Lucy or any of the females I knew before, even more beautiful than Maria.

It's been a minute but Alice didn't move nor opened her eyes. This made me anxious. I doubt she was sleeping or tired. Vampires never get tired nor sleep. But why was Alice like this? Anxiousness overpowered me, I suddenly shook Alice, but she didn't respond.

I have been shaking her for about seconds, and then finally she opened her eyes with a happy smile on her face.

Chapter 3

"Alice, are you alright? Is something the matter?" I asked, really, really anxious now.

"No, it's fine Jasper. We just need to transfer to another train" Alice said.

"Transfer? Why?" I asked.

"The Cullens are moving to Forks. We need to go there and not Canada"

"I don't understand Alice"

"Like I said Jasper, I'll explain later"

We quickly left the train as it stopped in the nearest station. Alice yet again was surrounded by lustful males, and as I would always do, I held Alice's waist very tight, don't they come near us, nor may someone help me for I will bite their heads off!

Alice got our new tickets now; we were heading for Forks, Washington. I must say, who ever these Cullens are, they are quite cunning to think of going o such well place for vampires.

As we seated Alice slumped on her chair again, but she was curled up like a ball. She closed her eyes delicately.

She kept close for almost an hour, and of course I don't want to disturb her, but the suspense she is doing is killing me. I sighed;

I'd rather wait millennia than disturb Alice. I thought.

Alice suddenly opened her eyes and she looked at me. I don't understand what emotion is in her eyes, this made me confused. Alice, knowing my gift, responded by touching my cheek, she was soothing me. I don't understand.

"Jasper, are you alright?" Alice asked.

"I am fine Alice. And you?" I asked.

"Happy"

New beginning (When Alice and Jasper met)

"I see. Alice? May I ask you something?" I said, sheepishly.

"Anything Jasper" she replied.

"Where are we going? Who are the Cullens? And why do you seem as if you sleep? Though I know our kind does not have the ability to do so."

She giggled. "I guess it is time. Well, let me explain. We are going to Forks, Washington as you know Jasper. We are going there to meet the Cullens."

"Cullens? Who are they?"

"They are quite a large coven. They have 5 members and soon to be seven."

"Soon to be seven?" I asked, I wonder where we are going with this conversation.

"Jasper, my gift is to see the future, but it is subjective. I can only see someone's future if he or she made up his or her mind."

"And what does that have to do with us and the Cullens?"

"I saw my future along side my future mate Jasper. And from what I saw, I saw you. And I also saw your problem about how you feel about killing your preys and I saw a very unique solution from the Cullens. But even before I saw the way they live, I saw you and me being apart of their family. I say family and not coven, for they act like a family, they care for each other and help each other, like how a family is and act."

"Your saying I'm your mate? For you saw it?"

"Yes" she immediately answered her was tone confident.

"But didn't you say your visions are subjective? How can you be so sure Alice? That I am for you?"

"Jasper, I saw it out of nowhere. I wasn't looking for my future, it came to me. And yes I am very sure. I know my own mind Jasper; don't you know your own?"

I just looked down, trying to absorb her words.

"When I was surrounded by lustful men, you were being overprotective of me, weren't' you Jasper?"

"I guess I am"

She smiled. "See!" she teased.

I just chuckled. She was very interesting. And what's more interesting? Knowing the fact I was meant for such a beautiful angel such as Alice.

Chapter 4

Alice kept on looking through the future; she was resting her head on my shoulder, our hands in twined.

I was looking at my future wife's face. She was such a marvelous creature, beautiful. But what's bothering me the most is why is it I can handle my thirst? And with all these people around me, how do I control myself so well? I see only one reason: Alice.

Alice's eyes opened, and I can't help to look at it.

"Jasper"

"Yes Alice?"

"Don't let Edward get to me!" she giggled.

I laughed too. My octave and her musical voice matched perfectly. "Don't worry Alice, I won't let anyone come near you" though I don't know who this Edward is.

After a long ride, Alice and I finally arrived in Washington. I saw all the human passengers stretch and loosen themselves. I snorted. Look how weak they are.

"Jasper let's run" Alice chimed.

"Sure Alice" I said. And we dashed off through the trees. We arrived at Forks after an hour.

Alice searched around the woods; we both smelled a scent, a scent of our kind.

"Does this scent belong to one of the Cullens?" I asked.

"This scent belongs to Edward, he and Emmett went to hunt"

"Alice you still haven't told me what solution they have"

"They hunt animals Jasper, Lion, Deer, Bears animals, mostly herbivores; they're taste are the closest to human blood."

"But Alice, can I make it?"

New beginning (When Alice and Jasper met)

"I know you can Jasper"

I nodded.

"Now, let's go to their house." Alice said.

I nodded and we ran towards a new scent, belonging to another Cullen.

Chapter 5

Alice and I ran with in the forest of Forks, Washington, our hands in twined. Even now, that I almost spent more than a day with Alice, I can't believe HOPE was with me.

"We're here!" Alice chimed in her angelic voice.

"We are? That was fast" I said, but in truth I wanted to spend more time with Alice. - I sighed -

I saw a beautiful mansion, they were 3 vampires outside. Two females, one looked quite old, brunette, the other younger, beautiful, blonde, but she couldn't compare to my Alice. The other one was a blonde male, he looked quite old too, and he could be the mate of the brunette. He was sitting on the other side, reading a very THICK biology book. Are these the Cullens? Hmmm ... Interesting.

Alice and I dashed off and stopped in front of them. Alice and I bowed elegantly and respectfully at them.

"Good Day, Carlisle, Esme, Rosalie" Alice greeted them as if they good old friends, this didn't surprise me the she knew their names. But this was Alice, my Alice, the one who could see the future.

I can see that the Cullens were very confused of our arrival and of how my Alice knows them.

"Well, shall we come in Carlisle?" Alice asked.

"Ummm...of course miss." The blonde man said, he must be Carlisle.

Carlisle lead us inside the mansion. The two females followed short after.

Carlisle gestured for us to seat, and we immediately followed. Alice and I sat in the love seat, this Carlisle sat in a sofa in front of us. The two other females then arrived, the brunette one whom I recall was Esme sat beside Carlisle, and the blondie that was named Rosalie sat next to them in a separate chair. She eyed Alice and me suspiciously and doubtfully.

"May I ask who you are? And how you came to know me and my family?" Carlisle asked. He was a gentleman. Very nice. Alice chose the perfect Coven, but once said they are not a coven, they are a family.

"Then I shall explain" Alice said. "Edward won't mind telling Emmett anyway, since he can read minds."

I saw the Cullens' confuse expression towards Alice, but I saw that Carlisle has a mix of curiosity. Well, well, hasn't he heard the saying curiosity killed the cat? But he is a vampire; I guess that doesn't apply to my kind.

"How did you-?" Carlisle wanted to ask but Alice cut him off.

"Like I said Carlisle, I will explain."

And like Alice promised she explained both of our story, that when she woke up, she didn't remember any of her human pasts, only her name, that she saw a vision of me as her true love, of the Cullens, and even how they eat or should I say drink, what their names were, that Edward had the gift to read minds, that Carlisle was a doctor, all the facts and all info about the Cullens, Alice knew all of it.

Then from her, she moved on to me. She told them all about me; of course she knew I won't mind, as long she was the one saying it. That this Maria was the one to transform me, that I was from Mexico, that I used to help Maria with some New-born vampires there, that I ran away with Charlotte and Peter, and then we met, she told me everything, and we came running here, she also told them about my problem, that I could feel what my prey was feeling that it would always hurt me when I feel it. And that the Cullens could help me.

New beginning (When Alice and Jasper met)

As the conversation ended, Carlisle finally stood ready to accept or deny us.

Chapter 7

"Of course Alice, you and your mate Jasper are always welcome in our family." Carlisle said.

Alice smiled and stood elegantly.

"Thank you Carlisle, Esme, Rosalie" Alice said, looking at each one of them. I saw Blondie crack a smile at Alice. "Well, I shall prepare our luggage then"

Everyone looked up at her.

"Er..." Rosalie wanted to say something but Alice already dashed off out the house, with in half a second she came back, holding our luggage. "Jasper, do you mind helping me?" Alice asked of me. "Of course Alice" I said, dashing towards and taking our luggage, Alice went straight to the second floor, I immediately followed.

She stopped in front of a large room, full of CDs and music related objects. She fixed everything up and prepared our things, with in a minute, the whole room was changed. All the CDs were in a box and all the clothes were in another separate box.

"Jasper? Could you please take these to the garage?" Alice asked.

I nodded and did what Alice requested. When I came back to the room Alice was curled up on top of the bed, I absent-mindedly came to her side at once. "Alice? Is anything the matter?" I asked, while shaking her. She moved her from her knees to my shoulder. "I'm fine Jasper. No need to panic." She whispered in my ear.

I sighed and said. "As you wish Alice" I saw her smile and gently open her eyes.

"Jasper, do you know that when I saw your face in my vision for the first time, I already fell in love with you?" Alice suddenly asked. If I was still human, I bet I was redder than a tomato. "Uh...no Alice" I managed to say.

She giggled like playful child. After an awkward moment of silence, Alice was still in my arms, and from there, she maneuvered elegantly and to face me.

"Jasper, I love you" Alice said from all of a sudden.

I looked down. What the hell am I suppose to say? I love you too? But I'm still not sure. "I'm not forcing you Jasper, I'm just saying what I feel" Alice reminded me. I closed mu eyes, concentrating. After a raging war with myself I took Alice's face, leaned down and kissed her. "Don't worry Alice. I know what I feel. And by the way" I moved my lips from hers to her ears "I love you too"

She smiled and hugged and I happily hugged her back.

"Oooppsss! Edward and Emmett are here!" Alice chimed with amusement. "Let's go down Jasper!"

She took my hand and pulled me down stairs. Great, more introduction. - I sighed -

Chapter 8

*Edward's P.O.V*

"Ugh. Hurry up already Emmett!" I yelled. "You've been drinking grizzly blood for an hour already! Jeez, are you THAT hungry?"

Emmett looked up at his mouth ballooning full of blood. He swallowed it noisily.

Jeez Edward, how impatient! Emmett teasingly thought.

"Just hurry Emmett, you know Rosalie is going to kill me if I bring you home late. She'd think I brought you to a strip club" I joked.

Not funny Edward. You know I'm loyal to my wife. I guess you don't know the feeling since you don't have one Emmett snapped.

"Tsk. I don't want to argue Emmett. Just hurry up!"

"Alright, Alright." He said, fixing himself. He then ran towards the lake and cleaned himself. "See? Sparkly clean" as he said it the sun came up and hit the both of us "Whoa, I didn't mean literally!" I laughed.

"Let's go!" I yelled again. In truths I was in a hurry 'cause I have a bad feeling. And I meant BAD.

Emmett and I got to the house with in a minute. When I came in through the garage I saw all of my things there.

Whoa, Yow Edward why's your things in the garage? Emmett thought looking at my neatly piled stuff.

I ran inside the house in full speed. "Carlisle, who put my things in the garage!?" I yelled. But when I looked around I saw two other vampires, one female: short, with raven short hair. Her eyes to my surprise were already gold. Beside her was a male: tall, blonde and full of battle scars.

Edward, calm down, we have guests Carlisle thought.

Hello Edward, you can read Carlisle's mind if you want to know what's happening. I'm Alice by the way, and this is Jasper. The short vampire thought, how did she? How did she know I can read minds?

Hmmm...so, this must be Edward, and the big one is Emmett, interesting- The blonde one thought.

New beginning (When Alice and Jasper met)

"Okay, what the heck is happening!?! Carlisle?!" I demanded of my father.

"Now calm down Edward. Haven't I taught you better than this?" Carlisle said, calm as always.

"Edward, don't be rude to your sister and brother" Esme added. Sister? Brother? What!?

"Ugh! Enough already!" Rosalie yelled, walking towards me.

Now listen Edward! Alice and Jasper are mates and they are new members of the family, got that? I like Alice, she knows fashion and in any case, Carlisle will tell you their story so now stop being a jackass and calm down! Rosalie half yelled in her mind.

"Yeah, I got that" I replied flatly.

"Now, let me explain son" Carlisle said.

"I'm listening dad"

Carlisle told me everything about Alice and Jasper. Alice can see the future; Jasper can control emotions and feel them as well. Alice doesn't remember her past, Jasper was from Mexico, and he was bitten by a Maria, etcetera, etcetera, and etcetera. The End.

"Well that was long" I said. Of course it was long, Carlisle was talking for about an hour, it seems Alice just told him the full story.

"Hello Edward" Alice said.

"So, you can see the future. Interesting." I replied, I was curious, how did she have that gift, but I guess asking won't help, since she doesn't remember her past anyway.

"Well, yeah I guess" she giggled.

"Alice, can I ask you something?" My curiosity overtook me again. I've been asking Alice, my new sister a tons of question. I guess having this girl for a sister isn't going to be so bad.

Hey, I just want to ask, if any of you want Reanesmee and Jacob to have babies? If yes, please! can you give me names???? PLEASE?

Chapter 9

*Jasper's P.O.V*

The days drag and I came to notice that Edward and Alice were very close with each other. I felt quite envious of them; I heard was Edward doesn't have a mate. Could he take Alice away from me?

"Jasper, may I talk to you please?" Edward asked of me, Ops, I forgot that he can read minds, did he hear mine? I think he did.

Edward walked elegantly towards the door out of the mansion, I swiftly followed him, he stopped when we were alone in the backyard where he led the both of us.

"Jasper, do know the fact that I only love Alice as a sister. And that you should not ever worry about your theory that I will take her away from you. I've never met a girl, human or vampire that I liken before, not even now. I see Alice only as a sister. So do not fret Jasper. Alice is all yours." Edward clarified. I nodded and said, "Yes, thank you Edward."

"Besides, I doubt the day would come that I would actually like someone of my opposite sex." Edward added in a murmur.

I suppressed my laugh when I would remember that. Edward had said those words to me, and now look! I was looking at the girl whom he will be having as his mate soon.

Isabella Marie Swan, the girl Edward and our family protected because Edward loved her so much, even more than his own life.

I looked up at Bella questioningly when she said, "That's a nice story" Did she think fighting with newborns, killing them, feeling the emotions of your prey is a nice story?

"I mean the last part" Bella defended "The happy ending with Alice".

I chuckled but braced myself knowing that my family might fight with an army of Newborn vampires.
