

Reborn Legends

By : Geminine

A reincarnated reaper has begun Anew in the ninja world of Naruto uzamaki. With her godly powers and knowledge watch she changes the shinobi world along with the great Konoha 12.

Published on Booksie

booksie.com/Geminine

Copyright © Geminine, 2015
Publish your writing on Booksie.com.

Table of Contents

The birth of the non Uchiha!

The secret and the party~

The Gift of all Gifts~

The loss of silverware~

The training of an Exreaper~

The youngest Medical Ninja!~

The unknown Uchiha Sharingan!~

~ the last words of a family~

Chapter 1: The birth of the non Uchiha!

To say i was surprised was an understatement, it was more in the lines of "what the fuck" and "That bastard". To clearly put it my name is Nathan Fox, well was anyway. Which will sadly be missed even though it was a rather odd name for a girl but come on the name just grew on me. Another good fact to know about me is I'm a retired reaper, a god of death more like. I was the big man; kami-sama's right hand man well woman anyway. To put it after about a 12,000 years in my line of work Kami-sama deemed me the blessing of being reincarnated, and as such my readers that is what has happened to cause me to begin this story with the first colorful words i am sure you will here through out the story. But as such this is my first time being reincarnated and i was not i repeat not expecting to be a tiny and rather helpless baby. So far i'm doubting this to be a blessing.

~~~~~

To say Daisuke Aoi was ready for this was the understatement of the year, he was never ready for this. Having done this with his two other sons he couldn't help but impatiently walk back and forth in the hospital hall, Not that he wasn't happy or anything it just really killed him about worrying for his wife and new born child. He continued pacing back and fourth as his son's sat patiently and tired at being dragged here in the middle of the night after their mother had gone into labor. Stopping in his tracks a doctor made eye contact with him giving him a sudden twist in his gut.

Nice to meet you, Daisuke Aoi. Please follow me. The doctor said waving his hand in the direction of the hallway.

Looking to his son's who sat their sleepily in the waiting room who sat patiently watching him and the doctor. I'll be back, you two stay here ok. He said before walking down the hall with the doctor who looked down at his clipboard before he stopped in front of a hospital room. The doctor opening the door ushered me inside as i say my wife. Her brown hair was tied messily in a pony tail and her brown hazel eye's tiredly looked my way giving a warming smiling that set my mind at ease.

Before we bring in your baby I have something to discuss with you both. The doctor said warily knowing that parents tend to be rash in situations like this and who could blame them.

My baby's alright isn't she? His wife asked hoarsely, as she seemed on the edge of a break down with tears building to her eyes.

Your baby's doing just fine Mrs. Aoi, she's nice and healthy too but that's not what i wish to discuss with you. The doctor pausing to let the news sink in to the mother who took a deep breath but still looked like a nervous wreck.

Getting back to explaining the doctor continued. It seems your child Mr and Mrs. Aoi has been born with the Sharingan.

Your daughter the doctor said continuing to explain, is one of the very few and i mean few to be born with the sharingan without being born in the Uchiha family. She also seems to have it fully matured also, he said adding on to his sentence.

His daughter had the sharingan, he thought. Not only did his daughter have the sharingan but how the Uchiha family would react was beyond him but he didn't care. He had his wife and child and they were both safe, so for now all he wanted to do was meet his new baby girl.

Reborn Legends

~~~~~

My first time being alive and outside was really just a big blur, Nurses cleaning me and finally one managed to wrap me and save me from the freezing cold hospital air which didn't help with me being wet and naked. A nurse cooing at me with a warm smile seemed to be walking down the hall for what seemed like hours, probably cause even though i may be a baby at the moment does not mean i'm gonna be entertained by this baby shit so i was abit annoyed by this nurse. Hearing the sound of a door opening we entered a room different from the one we came from when i was handed off to anouther set of arms. Suspecting to see anouther nurse i was surprised to see a tired and worn out woman but still undeniable beautiful and some how i knew looking at this woman. She was my mother, the woman who i wish to come to know and love. 3 pairs of eager eye's took my attention from my mother, to see a man was mostly definetly my father and two brothers. My brothers i thought surprised for the third time today. And with that a name, a name that will become my new name and life and as given to me by my mother i was known as of that day as Katsumi Aoi.

~~~~~

Author:~

Sorry for it being so short, but please comment and keep reading my story and give me loads of help by telling me what i did wrong anf give some ideas. XD anyway Thanks for reading!

Chapter 2: The secret and the party~

~ Four years later~

My fathers voice was filled with humor and love, it was wonderful to be awoken like that everyday.

Katsumi~chan! His deep voice would purr in a loving way.

While i fained pretend sleep and awaited his unshaven face that he always used as tickle tactic of some sorts.

Pulling the blankets away from me i indulged myself in laughter as the man blew into my tummy, giving me the warmth and love that i have never felt in all the 12,000 years i have lived. Before he picked my up in his arms, as he went from my room down the stairs towards the kitchen.

Haveing been four years living with my new family I've learned alot about them. My mother is Ayame Aoi, she's weapon maker and a damn good one might i add. My father is named Daisuke Aoi, he's a Joinin ninja and a very loving father. My brothers include the oldest Shigeru and the second oldest Tatsuya, shigeru's offically a genin just of yesterday actually after passing his jonin's test and Tatsuya is one year away from graduating the academy.

I was interupted from my thoughts at the smell of pancakes. When i first had them i was very confused about what the brown like fluff was until i tasted them with syrup!;ending up to becoming my morning weakness. Pancake's I nearly screamed outloud as i started to wrestle myself from my fathers hand, even though i was a 12,000 year old reaper who was reincarnated it still felt good to act like a child again; hell it felt amazing! My father gave a laugh that made my mother join in as she saw my obession for the sweet treat as i finally was put down. I ploped myself at the table seeing my brothers holding their sides as they try'ed to contain their laughter, "try'ed" being the main word they burst into laughing fits. As i puffed out my cheeks in annoyance like any child my age would do. No sooner my mother came in smiling with a stack of steaming pancakes as my father came out with bacon, toast, and sasuage . Noticing my struggle at putting the pancake on my plate, shigeru chuckled and layed my pancake on my plate as i poured syrup rather sloppily on my pancake.

My hair is light peachy with a red hue tint making it look rather beautifull, well thats what my mothers friends always gush about. My eye's are like my mothers a Brown/green hazel eye color that goes really well with my hair color. Likeing that my hair isn't some obnoxious hair color like pink (pinks not a bad hair color) or yellow (sorry naruto... ) it's somthing i won't get a headahche from by glancing in the mirror.

To say my family knows about my sharingan is more like their trying to hide it ,not like i didn't know about it. Using it is no problem but it turns on when i don't expect it, so using a traning method i created back in my reaping days i just kept my eye's closed and saw things by smell, chakira, hearing, and vibrations and to visualize the presence of everywhere living thing which led me to start and label the different chakira's i felt. Though It's easier said then done, but i had 12,000 years to perfect it. It worked until my mom saw and the she seriously freaked when i kept my eye's shut during lunch one day thinking that somthing was wrong she hauled me hallfway out the door before i got the chance to explain.

Playing with the left over syrup on my plate, I tuned in on the conversation my parents where having.

Your father and I are going to the Namikaze's estate with your sister for Naruto's birthday. My mother said talking to my brothers who seemed to be mostly making plans while our parents were gone.

Reborn Legends

Having observed my family for the last four years and read higher level books that no child my age could manage i had learned about the Namikaze and their clan not to mention that Minato Namikaze is our hokage with his son and Wife Kushina. Having also learned more like figured out. The third had sealed the nine tails into their son killing the third hokage, having already seen this world in my reaping days i find that it has changed drastically with my appearance; well not that drastically but has indeed changed.

Come on Katsumi~chan! My brother Shigeru called happily. Let's get you ready for the party so we can go get a gift before you go. I didn't have to open my eye's to feel his bright and loving smile, nodding my head and smiling back i was lifted into his arms as we headed upstairs to go get changed for the day. ~yay~

Happy that At least my older brother wasn't terrible at picking clothes out like Tatsuya, just thinking about it gave me the chills. Inwardly shuddering i was handed Navy Blue shorts , a light blue flannel and some knee high socks with regular van type shoes. After he helped with that he undid my two easy like pigtails and brushed my air as he retied them back up.

(search the pic up to see her hairhttp://24.media.tumblr.com/22acbb3d4ddd0602c9180969d0326cf3/tumblr\_mgplh4G0E71s2vux0o1\_500.jpg)

Charmingly holding his hand out like a prince i couldn't help but laugh at his idiotcty, But i also couldn't help but love it; but not only him my family and sooner the village and maybe my friends and somehow i got the feeling that something was pulling me down a certain road a choice not sure if it's bad or good. I might let myself be lead in the darkness to protect what i had come to love so dearly.

Chapter 3: The Gift of all Gifts~

Truthfully i didn't know what to buy naruto, yeah i vistied the place and saw him countless times but didn't mean i knew him. And it seems my idea of getting him a weapon was off limits cause he's only gonna be five, so i was stumped and was dragged through enough shops to make me hate shopping for a very long time.

The door jingled as me and my mother hand in hand walked into the shop, glancing around with my eye's open i had caught sight of a knit hat that was buried in a box near the back. Letting go of my mothers hand i padded over there and started to dig down into the box to pull out a knitted black and white hat, it had black and white eyes and two white looking teeth that hung in the front. (Naruto's sleeping hat)

It was naruto's sleeping hat i realized. On one of my visits to this world i had encountered naruto in the streets being dragged by the pink haired girl sakura who looked more beast than girl at that moment, and naruto still in his pajama's with that strange looking hat he seemed to sleep with.

Carefully looking at the strange hat in my hands. It was perfect i thought with a smile. Walking over to my mother who was flipping through a rack of clothes i tugged on her dress.

Mom! I found what i wanna get naruto. I said smiling happily at my gift. Lifting it up in the air for my mother to see.

She thoughtfully looked at it before asking. Are you sure Katsumi?

I'm Positive Mom! I said Nodding my head for good mesure with a heart melting smile i had used times before that seemed to reassured my parents.

She smiled before she picked my up with my gift in hand to the register were the man kindly warped it into a box with wrapping paper. Handing it back over to me i just couldn't help but feel so happy. It was weird, maybe i did care about this boy naruto more than i thought. Being a reaper you never had emotions they always just seemed to get in the way but now being a human it was different. These feelings brought love, worry, anger, and kindness to the human world and some how theese feeling's seemed to care a whole lot about naruto but just not naruto everyone it made me love this village and it's people and some how was dragging me towards a road i thought i crossed off long before.

Carried through the busy street, i clung to the present wrapped in orange paper that i had made sure the shop owner wrapped with. But that road everything seemed to be dragging me too was followed by a question that i was reluctant to answer. It was one my brother tatsuya had asked before, Do you want to be a ninja? At the beggining i was so sure of myself that i wouldn't want to be a ninja, but i'm not so sure anymore. Danger was coming, and it threatned not only naruto, but the village ,the people and my parents and it would kill them if somthing does not change. It seemed my choice was becoming more and more not a likely option.

~~~~~ Namikaze Estate ~~~~~

My father knocked on the door smiling as was my mother, waiting for someone to open the door it ocured to my that my parents new the Namikaze's very well. The door opened letting out the smell of delicious food i could only imagine , seeing the smiling face of a woman with firey red hair that i noticed was indeed Kushina Namikaze.

Ayame, Daisuke! She cried smiling. I'm glad you could make it! She said before hugging my mother and father warmly with a smile. Her eye's looked around before spotting me, smiling she squatted down to my level before smiling once again and introduced herself.

Reborn Legends

Hi, I'm Kushina. And you are?

I'm Katsumi Aoi, it's a pleasure to meet you Kushina. I said smiling.

Her cheeks glowed a slight pink before she lunged and put me in a back crunching hug.

Awww! You're so CUTE!

A deep chuckle made her release me, as I gulped air down and looked up to see a smiling blonde haired man.

And this must be the yondaime Minato Namikaze the feared yellow flash. I thought.

Please do come in. He said between chuckles.

And it's nice to finally meet you Katsumi~chan. He said showing off his well known smile.

It's nice to meet you too but I was cut off by a voice I had heard a couple of times but knew it too well.

Is she here?! A blonde spiky blue eyed boy asked as he squeezed in between his parents.

Yes, yes Naruto~kun she's here. Kushina said laughing lightly.

It was different meeting Naruto for the first time to where he could see me, a wave of strange feelings seemed to wash over me. It was strange and left my stomach doing flips. Was this love? I thought. It wasn't anything like what other reapers said it was like, it was different. If I described it, it would be like a friendly sisterly love not romantic love.

Nice to meet you Naruto~kun, I'm Katsumi Aoi. I said with a full blown smile.

Naruto's face turned to an odd shade of pink before stuttering on his words.

I-It's N-Nice To meet Y-You To. He said becoming shy.

It seemed the adults found this somewhat humorous as they laughed and chuckled.

I was confused at what they found funny so I looked up at my mother who just pushed me forward into the house.

The house was huge and well furnished I observed as Kushina and Minato lead us to the dining room which was where the other guests were sitting and chattering happily. Noticing different clans like the Uchiha's, Nara's, Akimichi, Yamanka's, Jiraya the toad sensei, and Lady Tsunade herself.

My mother and father already sitting at the table and talking with the parents left me guessing they were friends of some sort. A hand gripped mine making me turn and see a still oddly pink faced Naruto who smiled shyly before leading me down the table where the other children sat. His hand let go as I sat near a rather cute plump boy who was munching on some meat.

Hi, I'm Katsumi. I said smiling at him.

Reborn Legends

The boy turns and becomes slightly shy but still replies.

H-Hi, I'm Choji akimichi. He said before glancing to a pine apple looking boy.

The boy noticing the look he was getting from Choji sighed tiredly spoke.

I'm Shikamaru Nara. He said plainly.

And I'm Ino Yamanaka! said the loud looking blonde girl.

I smiled before my eye's caught the sight of a black haired boy clinging to the older black haired teen, who was most likely his brother.

I'm sasuke uchiha. He said quietly.

I smiled as i closed my eye's, it's nice to meet you. I said.

The older black haired boy smiled lightly that you wouldn't have noticed if you werent looking closely like me.

I'm Itachi Uchiha. He said giving a slight curious gleam in his eye's.

Itachi i thought. Wait, this man he's, H-He's what drove sasuke to become an avenger.

This can't be? Will it? Since everything's mostly changed with my appearence does that mean their won't be any Uchiha Massacre or does it mean somthing worse? (cliff hanger XD)

~~~~~

Authors stuff /

Ok, so i finaly made it longer (yeah for me) This is not my first fanfiction but since all the others i wrote were just plain shit i worked really hard on this, So Please Comment and give me some idea's and stuff and i'm also still deciding the couples for Katsumi! And later on i'll work on the other couples but for now just keep that in mind while i figure out what will happen next so please continu to read thanks :D.

sincerly, Geminine

Chapter 4: The loss of silverware~

The voice's of our parent's called us over for lunch that was already made and perpaired on the table.

But i wasn't worried about that, no that wasn't even in my thoughts. My eye's snapped shut, not for the activation of my sharingan but for the confusion that had shook and settled into the depth of my heart and mind. What was to come? I thought breathlessly. Was something far worse to come? Was something going to come and tear the very home i've come to love? I didn't know anymore, i don't know anything! Someone seemed to notice my tense strained figure and my death grip on my shorts.

Katsumi~chan? Is somthing wrong?

Jerking up, i eased my death grip before giving a weak smile to the direction where the voice came from.

I-I'm just fine. I said with a strain to my voice that i hoped everyone would not notice.

I focused in on the chakira and realized the flow to be from Minato, not that i should be surprised he noticed after all he ain't yondaime/ yellow flash for nothing.

The shudder in his chakira flow made me start getting nervous, he had caught the strain in my voice and my lie. He had noticed. I thought grimly. And what is with all these emotions! I choked in my thoughts. I've never even spent an hour with this kid naruto nor the rest beside my parents but that was only four years! I've lived 12,000 years! And never had i felt sad, angry, or worried! Never! It just doesn't happen! But here all these emotions are so powerfull and over ruleing how can they deal with this, how are human's so strong to deal with this? I thought helplessly. How?

A sudden voice etched its self beautifully in my mind, a voice that was very warming and wise. Be calm my child of grim. The breeze like voice spoke. All shall be fine, and in return a child of god is born and light shall engrave upon the land. And like that the voice was gone, quick as wind and calming like a river. The voice had given me back my peace and has vanquished the storm brewing in my heart and mind.

Katsumi~chan? Minato called out worriedly.

Gaining the attention of my parents and a few others

. Wa~, I need and excuse! I thought panicking. Wait, who's that? A Chakira signature had snuck up on me in my short mental break down, and it was a vile and corrupt definitely not a good thing but I can use its to my advantage.

T-Theirs s-someone here I whispered.

What do you mean sweety? My father had asked curious.

I stiffened , he's here I said.

The front door slammed open causing Minato, jiraya, to stand up. The rest of the room became quite as a figure made its way in the room.

Danzio? Minato said confused.

Reborn Legends

The mans eyes shot around the room before he landed on me. Why me I thought sweat dropping.

Oh, yeah. I thought smugly. I'm the one who screwed up his plans. I inwardly smiled. Though not really sure what I messed up, all I know is that I did and he must have found out.

You! His voice rang savagely.

Not to mention that vile i had snuck into his drink. I couldn't help but grin like a banchee.

You vile peice of shit, and you! He said pointing to naruto this time. You worthless demon were working for her weren't you! He said spiting out each word disgusted.

I would like to have said i stayed calm, and didn't stab the man but that didn't go as planned.

The room went deathly quite, everyone was shocked including naruto who looked rather hurt at the words. But the skid of my chair brought back some as they watched me.

My bangs covered my eye's not allowing any to see the blood red anger i felt, he had insulted naruto in my presence, words that have been said to him many time's as a kid by the villagers. And he wouldn't look hurt, his face showed only happiness but his blue eye's showed an endless abyss of tears.

Webbing chakra strings from my finger i attached to the silverware knives which with a tiny flick of my fingers all shot forward landing in my hands which took a deadly pose.

Please, repeat that? I said with my voice ice'y and cold that seemed to freeze Danzo.

You heard me. He said spitting the words out.

You and that demon! He yelled but was cut off as a sounding thud shot past his face. Danzo didn't register what had shot past him, turning his head to the side a silver dinning knife was embeded into the wall. The knife being dull it shocked Danzo as a cut laced his cheek, bewildered his head shot back at knife wielding girl who he just pissed off royalely.

Apologize. I hissed between my grinding teeth.

Danzo's shock was replaced quickly by rage, and I was so very close in throwing another knife when an hand gripped my shoulder. Minato's hand relaxed as he smiled quickly down at me before narrowing his eyes at Danzo.

Leave Danzo, or as yondaime I shall have your head for breaking the law. Minato said as his voice shook with authority.

The man was seething mad now but he knew when he was out numbered and right now he was denfinetly out numbered .

Giving a final glare at me he spun on his heels storming out of the house and into the night .

Knowing for sure i had screwed up my acting since i did just throw a dull butter knife at him that sliced his cheek not to mention the fact i had used chakra strings that should be impossible for someone my age to do let alone know. Groaning inwardly about being asked all these fatal questions that could lead to trouble washed away at the warm small hands that wrapped around me.

Reborn Legends

Wha? I voiced surprised. Turning my head to the side i noticed naruto crying as he smiled. when i got a hand that gripped my shoulder once again, looking up i saw the most sincere smile come across Kushina's face.

And somthing happened, it was odd to do but for the first time i felt the bubbly feeling just overwhelm me and i burst out laughing. My childish voice made it sound like bells, as unknowingly all the parents smiled as i continued to laugh and hug naruto back.

It was that day that the road i had tried to evade so many times had become somthing that i welcomed fully as i stepped across the line never looking back and began my journey as a ninja who would protect the village and people i had come to love.

Chapter 5: The training of an Exreaper~

It had been a full week after the whole danzo incident and telling my parents i wanted to be a ninja , now i'm training my body into getting as fast as my previous speed, strength and power and this is how i've been labeled as a prodigy.

Placing chakra weights on my arms and legs i set out to start my training this morning as in 4:00 am. Sitting atop a tree stump i meditated, as i focused on my chakra control and in sensing people im refreshing my concentration. Which lasted for an hour until i fluently set both my hands on the wood lifting my body into a hand stand. lifting my left hand up in the air as i did a one handed hand stand for atleast another thirty minutes when i placed my hand back down on the stump as i sprung from my hands backwards landing silently on the ground.

Still blindfolded i stand calmly and controlled feeling my chakra circulate and move as with my blood and heart. When i fling forward going through a flurry of stances slow at times and fast in others, the style is used to counter and attack and in some case's can be used to kill if one wished too. The style is called "Kaze No Dansu" meaning "Wind Dance". It is a long lost style from many era's ago and has been taught to the reaper's by a master who worked along the reapers. It's slow and delicate like the wind and fast and peircing in a flurry of a storm, the style is delicate as it is harmful.

Finally relaxing , as i concentrate on my breathing before going on . I slowly settle into a stance as i move through Tai chi for twenty minutes for any longer and i would've burned my muscles. Focusing back on my chakra i start gathering it in different parts of my body, arms, legs, feet , chest when i finally release it and let it circulate throughout my body once again.

Dropping down i do about 80 pushup's anymore and i would've collapsed face first into the ground, then another 80 curl ups and 50 laps around the training grounds as i do stretches and warm ups here and now when i finally sat down on the tree stump and pulled out my water bottle and rested.

It's been like this all week , get up at 4:00 am stop at lunch then on my way back home to shower, eat, and then leave to the libray as i read, ninjutsu books, healing herbs, and medical books. And last but not least get home 8:00 for dinner and bed. I've also designed sketches of weapon's i work best with when i don't go to the library an i go learn how to craft weapons from my mother which is releativly easy and remarkable hard at the same time. Jumping off the stump i do a few stretches so my muscles won't stiffen, i grab my water bottle and towel as i head my way home. Still blind folded i continued my practice on sense's and chakra when i felt a familar one, actually two.

Walking on the same dirt path that lead to all the training grounds i had managed to bump into Itachi Uchiha and Sasuke Uchiha. Being now 5 years old as my birthday was just yesterday, i had another year before the secret was out that i had the sharingan one with no uchiha blood. Having used it on rare occasions when i know no anbu is checking up on me after the danzo issue, i praticed spinning the wheel in my eye's and using it on some books and tranning with shawdow clones i realized it was a pretty nifty thing to have. But back to the bumping into the uchiha's.

Katsumi~chan? Why are you wearing a blind fold? Asked sasuke who had opened up to me when we bumped into each other at the market mutiply times and had gotten to know each other even though he had the same strange thing naruto did when his face became a strange redish pink when talking to me at times.

Oh, it's for training. I said calmly as i sensed his face turn that strange color when he glanced at me again.

Reborn Legends

I was wearing a sports bra that was still flat as i'm only five and short black shorts with chinese simple shoes and my hair away from it's normal low pig tails was tied in a pony tail that swayed at the middle of my back. Was it odd to wear something like this when training? I thought curiously.

Your training? For what? Asked sasuke as it seemed he was thinking of other things and had forgotten.

To be a ninja silly. I said smiling this time.

I've been doing this all week. I added as i moved my hands up to the blind fold allowing it to slide off and blinked a couple of times to readjust to the sunlight.

So you training with your brother? I asked as i looked up to the lightly grinning brother who watched us amusingly.

He was different from the one i met, the other itachi was cold hard and thought of himself as a tool. But this itachi did not, he was still an anbu and prodigy but he was less cold and happy more not to mention he didn't think of himself as a killer and spent lots of time with his brother who had turned 5 a couple of months before naruto.

Oh, yeah! Ni~chan's going to start traning me! Sasuke said happily as he looked at his brother smiling.

That's awesome! I said happily as i calculated the time by the sun.

well have a good traning session sasuke, maybe i'll see you tomorow or something. I said smiling at him an his brother.

Bye! I waved as i continued down the dirt path to my home.

My house was a simple two story house with 4 bed rooms and 2 baths meaning it was a struggle to use the bathroom, a large nice kitchen and dinning room with a rather big back yard. Stepping inside the house i slipped my shoes off.

I'm home mom! I yelled through the quite house waiting for a reply when i did it was a quick. 'Hi! Honey!' and then nothing more as she was busy at work crafting weapons and such. Even though i was labeled as a prodigy i didn't want to start the academy early, i'll start when i'm six with everyone else but doesn't mean i'm gonna be slacking of or anything. I'm gonna be continuing my training as i up the levels more and more.

Grabing a red skirt and white flowery shirt and girly nessitys like underwear and such i walked into the bathroom starting the shower.

~~~~ hour time skip~~~~

After showering and eating i left my house on my way to the library to finish the last book on ninjustsu and such while i still have 3 more books of medical learning to read so i would be ready to pass the test to become a trainey for working in the hospital.

Walking through the streets i receivce smiles and hello's and such, but it always made me sick thinking about how it was the exact opposite to what naruto got when walking through. Entering the library i waved at the librarin who was very kind and helped me alot in finding certain books although she did find it odd for a five year old to read such high level books she still did help without too much questioning.

Reborn Legends

Moving over to the table i ususally sat in i pulled out 4 books from the shelf that was labled "Medical" and ' Chakra/Ninjutsu'. Flipping the pages open on the Ninjutsu book which taught the sutly the basic's of creating a justsu, when i mean sutely i mean the writer actually gave hints on how to creat new ninjutsu throught out the book but since many haven't done so it meant they either failed at it or never ' looked underneath the underneath' I heard naruto say once when i was a reaper and kept the saying close as it was true in many ways.

Being busy with reading and uncovering the hint's i got to work on writing stuff done in a notebook that i kept with me at all times having already filled out 4 others this was my fith and i was half way through it with all i had written in it. Closing the book i reached over for the medical books and began to read through those as well, carefully scaning it and thinking of ways to improve them and such i was kept awfully busy to notice the very curious anbu who was hidden carfully in the library after receiving orders from the yodaime himself .

As the grandfather clock in the library stroke 8:00, i closed the finaly medical book as i blew a loose peice of hair out of my face; getting up as i put the books back on their shelves and exited the closing library while i gave a finaly goodbye to the librarin i walked out feeling absoultly like i was about to explode with knowledge from all that i had just read.

Heading back home i was busy thinking over the medical books and my improvements too them. Rubbing the back of my head tiredly i decided to race home for dinner and get some sleep early tonight.

~~~~~
author/ ( i do not own naruto so don't sue me please! ^_^)

Yeah, finished two chapters today so i'm super happy! Please continu to read and please give comments so i know if i'm doing a bad job or not and i'll Start on chapter 6!

Chapter 6: The youngest Medical Ninja!~

Today's the day. I thought as I ran a brush through my hair, grabbing a piece of red ribbon that I placed on my lips as I braided my hair to the side. Reaching over I took the ribbon from my lips after tying it up with a rubber band and then tying a bow with the ribbon, pulling on some regular jeans and a plain black business flannel. Walking down stairs for some lunch before I go, I saw my mother already sitting down at the table with a sandwich. Smiling at her she looks up and smiles back as she gets up and pulls another sandwich from the kitchen.

Thanks mom! I say happily as I start to eat it right up.

Give it all you got honey, cause I know you'll do great. My mother said watching me eat my sandwich smiling.

Of course I will. I say smiling cheekily.

She laughs before I finish the sandwich, going into the kitchen I put the plate in the sink and start to wash it. Leaving the dish in the drying rack I walk to the front door slipping on some shoes.

I'm going mom! see you later! I yell as I open the front door.

See you soon Honey! Make sure to shock the hell out of them! She yells back.

Laughing I leave my house as I walk through the village saying good morning to some and waving to others before I finally reach the hospital. Walking in through the opening glass doors I head for the information desk.

I'm Katsumi Aoi, and I'm here to take my Medical exam test. I said smiling at the nurse.

She gave me a questioning look before she looked at her clipboard as she raised an eyebrow, turning back to face me she informs me that the exam place had been changed and I was to head to the Hokage's building.

I wonder why they changed it? I thought leaving the hospital as I walked over to the Hokage's building which was just a couple blocks away.

Going through the Hokage's building was a new experience for me, I've seen the Yondaime but never been in his office or the building before. Asking a Chunin at one of the information desks which way to go, he answered easily as he smiled.

Going through the building I noticed the closer I got to the Hokage's office the more Anbu I sensed, wondering if they'll deem me as a threat I kept my chakra level low and calm as I knocked on the big double doors that held a sign above it saying "Yondaime".

Come in a voice called from behind the door. Reaching for the handle I push it open rather easily despite its looks, letting the door close on its own, I notice Lady Tsunade and Minato in the room.

Katsumi Aoi, you wish to take the medical exam to become a medical ninja do you not? Minato asked as I noticed his voice was different from the times I meet him at my house or at the party, here his voice was full of authority and leader like air too it.

Yes, that is correct Hokage~sama. I say determinedly as I watch his eyes narrow.

Reborn Legends

If you do manage to pass this test, will you be able to overcome the possibility of losing a patient under your care? He asked as he watched me carefully.

Not missing a beat i answered, knowing i positively would be able to.

Yes, Hokage~sama. I will take full responsibility if such does happen. I spoke now with determination and understanding.

His eye's relaxed as he gave a nod, and turned to tsunade.

Then do please give her the test. He said watching tsunades harden face.

~~~~~One hour later and Pov tsunade

She was surprised to hear a five year old wanted to take the medical exam and become a medical ninja , but after watching Minato trying to scare the girl, she herself noticed the determined look and honesty and what more the girl had guts. After an hour of asking high level situations that could happen in the hospital and such, i was floored with all the girl knew. This girl being a prodigy was no lie after seeing her medical healing chakra and precision not to mention the Chakra scalpels she could do and knowledge of plants, i was surprised she wasn't called a genius. This girl, if she was taught more she could well beyond surpass me in the near future.

~~~~~ Pov change Katsumi

Finally answering hopefully the last question. I was inwardly groaning and wondering how much longer this was gonna take, it's already been about two hours since we started.

Tsunade turned towards Minato giving him a floored look and turned back to me.

Katsumi aoi you've passed the medical test fully, congratz. She said smiling at me now.

I let out a sigh and smiled back at her then at the hokage. Tsunade turned back to Minato before asking a question.

If i may Yondaime, i wish to make Katsumi Aoi my apprentice. She said speaking determinedly.

The look of surprise flashed in Minato's eye's before they turned to a more thinking look, before he looked at me once then back at her.

I agree to her becoming your apprentice but, he said turning back to me.

Do you want to become her apprentice? He asked truly curious in my answer.

I couldn't believe it? Lady tsunade wants to teach me and make me her apprentice! I thought excitedly.

It would be my pleasure and greatest honor to be so. I said smiling at him.

Then it is settled, Katsumi Aoi having passed your exam you are now a certified Medical Leaf ninja and apprentice to lady Tsunade herself and also the title of the youngest Medical Leaf Ninja. Congratulations. Minato said happily at the blooming smile on my face.

Reborn Legends

Thank you again Hokage~sama and lady tsunade . I said still smiling as my face began to hurt.

Tsunade smiled too before she spoke.

I'll have you shadow and help doctors to get real experience and then later on in the day you can help me while i teach you; i'll send over a shift chart for you so you know when to come by. She said still grinning.

I smiled before bowing and closed the hokage's door behind me. I couldn't beleive it! I had passed and had been asked to be the apprentice of lady tsunade herself and she requested me ! I took off in a full dash racing to my house to spread the good news, racing through the village i skillfully dodged people and carts. Before i even knew it i was at my front door as i hurriedly slipped my shoes of and raced into the dinning room. My mother and father sat at the table chatting as were my brothers when i raced in totally out of breath but smiling like a doofus.

what happened? You get chanced by a stampede of bull's or something? Tatsuya asked grinning up at me while i was still catching my breath.

Mom! I passed the test! I yelled happily having my brothers give me weird looks as did my father.

I looked at her who was looking gully .

You didn't tell them did you? I asked quiter.

She shook her head while i just heaved a heavy sigh before turning to my brothers and father. I was studying to become a certified medical leaf ninja and today i got to take the test and passed it. I stated proudly smiling.

The looks i got were amazing my brothers looked floored and my father looked stunned.

And best part yet, i said grinning like a fox. Lady tsunade herself want's me as an apprentice actually i am official her apprentice. The room only got quiter with silence.

My mother got the nerve to break the sitffiling silence.

That's wonderfull honey! she gushed as she got up and squished me in a bear hug. while my brothers just gaped like fishes.

Congradulations Katsumi~chan! My father said with pride from across the table.

Great job kiddo! Tatsuya said as once again he went back to grinning.

Wow! Thats amazing! Katsumi! Shigeru said smiling.

And that my readers was the first day of being the Youngest Medical Leaf Ninja ever as well as lady tsunade's apprentice!

---

Author/ naruto is not mine so don't sue me please!

Wow, i'm on a role today cause this is my third chapter i posted anyway please comment and tell me how i'm doing cause either way i'll probably look upon this story and redo it but for now i feel pretty confident about it

Reborn Legends

( i hope) and please post respectable comments with things i can fix and things you don't like don't be all like "this fucking sucks" or something.

Sincerly, Geminine

Chapter 7: The unknown Uchiha Sharingan!~

~~~~~ one year later age 6 ~~~~~

Today's the day, it's my sixth birthday

. It's been one year that I've become Lady Tsunade's apprentice and my skills have advanced in control of chakra and practice and now I've been allowed to work in the hospital taking care of patients and surgery's with other doctors while getting lessons every other day from Lady Tsunade since she is a very busy woman with the hospital and being a Genin while helping the Yondaime with missions and such. I've continued to devour books in the library from history, family clans, and blood limits and seals. Trying to learn seals by myself is very difficult without having anyone to train me and had to resort to using the Sharingan so I could understand what the book was trying to teach me. Having also been promoted in weapon forgery and making, I've been allowed by my mother to design and make any weapon I wish without her hovering over me every little second. Having also upped the level of training I do every morning, that I was in the middle of doing before an Anbu member appeared and was utterly silent as he watched me. Balancing on the wooden pole I had jammed into the ground earlier this year I did a handstand with my right hand by my side with my left holding me up using the top of the pole to hold us all up. I noticed the incoming presence of the Anbu member before they had arrived keeping my heart rate in check I opened one of my eyes spotting the Anbu a yard away who was silently watching.

Yes? I asked as I continued to hold my form without swaying as I kept my balance.

Yondaime-sama, asks for your presence. The masked figure said plainly without emotion.

Placing my right hand on top of my left hand I sprang from the pole doing a backflip and landing on my feet.

I'll be there right away then. I say while flexing my arms above my head lazily.

In a flash the Anbu member disappears, probably heading back to the Hokage's office or something. Flash stepping into the Hokage's building which is something I usually avoid as this is a very different technique than the one's Nina's normally use, but with this being important and all I didn't want to waste my time running through the village or jumping from the roofs.

Walking down the hall I notice Lady Tsunade who was leaning against the wall by the council meet room a little ways down from the Yondaime's room. She sees me as she waves her hand, ushering me to her.

Good you're here Katsumi, it seems we've both been ordered to wait here for them until they call us in. She says looking cranky, probably because she was dragged away from a bar by Shizune.

Yeah, it seems it's time for everyone to find out. I said leaning against the wall by Tsunade while I sighed.

Tsunade already knowing what I mean, since I showed her my Sharingan before we got down to training. She seemed to somehow see through me in my most troublesome times, as she gripped my shoulder reassuringly smiling down at me.

Everything will be OK Katsumi, and I'll make sure of that. She said grinning kindly.

You always seem to calm me down. I said chuckling.

Reborn Legends

She was about to respond when anbu appeared before us.

Lady tsunade and katsumi Aoi , you may enter now . The masked figure spoke before disappearing once again.

Tsunade opening the door for me, i gave her a warm grin as we entered into the council room.

I already reconized minato, the akamichi, inazuka, uchiha, hyuuga and so forth. But sitting beside Minato was a man i had seen many times in the ninja history books, it was the daimyo of the fire country.

Why is the daimyo here? I thought curiously as i continued to scan the room, not noticing Danzo or the town council member's.

Katsumi Aoi. The Daimyo spoke gaining my attention.

We've come to discuss some of your skills as for my curiosity, while we wish to discuss what will happen now that the uchiha clan will find out about.

The council had instantly glanced at me and then the daimyo and yondaime, curious at what the damiyo was reffering too. But Fugaku was incredible curious as what the damiyo was reffering too, he who is the head of the uchiha clan that i had meet at naruto's filth birthday part.

First let's start with your medical skills, Tsunade? The damiyo spoke looking at my Teacher lady tsunade who stood to the side of me.

Lord daimyo, Katsumi Aoi skill is already surrpassing me, as for experience i've giving her shifts in the hospital while working with other medical ninjas and doctors including she has participated in about 20 different serguerys. Her skill outside of being a medical ninja are also outstanding, her sensing skills are anbu level as well as her taijutsu, ninjutsu, and genjutsu.

I looked at tsunade through the side of my vision, i was floored. I never knew she thought so highly of me. I guess i wasn't the only one floored from the face's of the clan heads as well as the raised eyebrow of surprise from the Daimyo.

That's very impressive Katsumi, as we all know how unexpected to hear such High words from your teacher Tsunade. The Daimyo spoke grinning lightly, almost ghostly but i had been watching him and had caught it.

Now, onto the uchiha matter. The Daimyo said after sighing and then turned towards fugaku.

Six years ago the day of Katsumi Aoi's birth, the doctors were quite shocked when she opened her eye's having the sharingan and not just that but a matured sharingan. Daimyo said, never leaving fugaku.

The council room was deathly quite when Fugaku spouted a "what"? That can't be? Fugaku added still breathless.

The Daimyo triedly nodded his head before he continued on with the explanation.

Katsumi Aoi is one of the very rare case's in which a child of no blood is born with a clan's prized kenkai genkai.

To prove his point i turned to face the council before blinking one and allowing my sharingan to activate, the stunned looks and breathless words that came out of fugaku's and the rest of the clan head's mouth was making it harder for me not to laugh.

Reborn Legends

Getting back some of his whits back, fugaku went back into clan head mode. Have you done any training with the sharingan? He asked curiously.

I nodded my head before speaking. I have practiced with it from time to time but I prefer to not be so reliable to its ability so I usually just use it for learning new subjects in the library and such.

Fugaku nodded his head in already knowing that any of my training with my sharingan was lacking. . Before Fugaku was able to speak the daimyo spoke up.

That is why I wish for these next six years that you live with the uchiha clan and be taught how to use the sharingan. He said with finality.

I knew something like this was gonna happen so I already packed my stuff this morning with a storage scroll I had made but I wasn't expecting to live with them for six years! And I definetly could not argue with the daimyo, that would be a disaster and just make things a lot worse . Tsunade's hand firmly planted itself on my shoulder giving me a reassuring squeeze, to comfort my shock.

Also, Katsumi Aoi since you do have the sharingan a clan blood limit, their will be chaos with the elders of the uchiha clan so to solve this matter I have decided you will also belong to not only your family clan but the uchiha clan also. He said watching my reaction to what was just spoken, more like a spoken law.

You will be now known as katsumi uchiha Aoi.

He said finishing, as he turned to Fugaku next to see his reaction. Fugaku seemed to like this very so much from what I can tell from his elite attitude to the whole situation, unlike mine even though I was calm and looked collected it was more like me imitating a gaping fish.

And that was it, it was final. I was to live With the most arrogant clan besides the Hyuuga, even though their attitude has improved with my appearance to the world they still happen to have that "stick up their ass "as naruto used to put it. And not to mention for a total six years, how was I supposed to live with them? And as an uchiha! The bastard elders have probably already know about me being a prodigy not to mention have the sharingan will all its glory and to have a girl have it! Hell I'll be lucky if they don't try to force me into a marriage with one of the uchiha kids! Yay for me! I thought groaning.

Going home I walked slowly down the street, the shops starting to put up lanterns for the fall night as people chatted happily and woman gossiped about some odd things. I didn't think till I stepped out on the street how I was going to break this to my family, they knew something would happen but not this.

Stuffing my hands in my shorts I made my way through the busy street to my home, my home I thought sadly.

Mom! Dad! I'm home! I called from the hallway as i slipped my shoes off, their wasn't any answer which I thought to be weird. Maybe it was a surprise party? I thought warmly to shake off the unease of not hearing them, it was just silence and it picked at my mind as odd.

Going through the hall I passed the kitchen to find it empty,going back to the hallway as I peaked in the living room. I halted, I was rooted to the floor, and for some reason i really didn't want to know. i thought sweat dropping.

Reborn Legends

Author/writer ~ Again i do not own Naruto so please don't sue me. :D

so just yesterday i got my computer taken away cause i forgot to feed the cats, which i did but you know parents they just sometimes are very unfair. Anyway yes i left a cliff hanger so please dear readers keep reading and please comment so i know if i'm doing ok or not. Cause you know i'm writing something and i'm like so "is it good? or am i posting this stuff online while appearing to be an idiot?" so comment! thanks :D

Chapter 8: ~ the last words of a family~

A nightmare. I thought as i walked into the living room. My lovely second oldest brother tatsyua was wearing what appears to be a magical girl costume which him being a boy was horrible disturbing. And for once i found myself not really wanting to know anything on the subject, at all.

I'm not gonna ask. I say watching as the unsuspecting birthday guests froze before noticing me in the doorway, which only included my mother, father and two brothers well magical girl/boy brother and what appears to be my brothers team mates which appeared to be two other guys who was looking smug a few momments ago, that gave the conclusion to whatever happened to my brother was specifically their fault.

But might i add brother. I said now looking away from the pink monstrosity. You look terrible in pink.

Laughter exploding after a couple of thuds sounded, making me peak from the corner of my eye as i spotted his teammates rolling around in howling laughter.

How it makes the daimyo's words recite in my mind, how it burdens me in the presence of this untold secret i have yet to tell my brothers my mother and lastly my father.

How would they take it? Will they be ok? Will they miss me? What will happen? The thoughts kept rolling in like a thunderstorm, gently placing a hand to my forehead to comfort myself just alittle.

Oi, Katsumi! Shigeru yelled from inside the room.

It was like a swift play i had seen many years ago when i was alive. The child actor dressed in a blue satin dress turns gracefully, her eye's widen like a full moon her porcelean blue eye's grace us with breath taking beauty and suddenly pools of tears spill from her blue sea like eye's as she gazed at a scene none of the audiences had noticed and it had stunned the child actor to tears warm filled tears.

It was at this momment when i realized what the child actor had seen, it was the fact that within her stage stood people who enjoyed her company, her skills, her love in work and it brought endless tears of joy to her.

I gazed at the time stopping scene of my own, My family and friends stood around a single birthdaycake smiling the most glowing smiles my eye's have ever graced. It might have been just that the momment was right when i saw them but i didn't care all that i did was wanting to catch this momment before it disappeared; slipped away from my every reaching hands.

Oi, Katsumi~! You still their? Tatsyua called playfully from behind the table.

Hahaha, no Tatsyua i think she just noticing your true beauty~! Shigeru spoke smugly as he smiled at his still magical girl'd brother.

Hey, shigeru! Mom shouted playfully. I think my son makes a beautifull girl. She said smiling cheekily at the now blushing magical girl.

Dad's infectious smile roared in laughter filling the room with other laughter even mine but it sounded so different then the others.

Tears seemed to poor down my face as i continued to laugh. Oh, how i love my famliy. I thought warmly.

Reborn Legends

Oh, Honey! Why are you crying! Mom shouted before rushing towards.

I just continued to laugh and cry, while i got some strange looks from the others.

Your all gonna be the death of me, yah here! I say as i silently thanked that my voice still worked.

My mom only smiled before pulling me into a hug. I stopped my laughing just letting myself continu and cry on my mothers shoulder, soaking it i didn't care. I was happy, beyond happy and at the same time incredible sad.

But i was going to be fine, everyone was gonna be fine. Specially if i had something to do with it. I wasn't going to let pain rip throught konoha, nor orochimaru, and hell no will i let their be a fourth shinobi war. I was going to stop it from happening, all of it. And i only hoped from the bottom of my heart and logic that this wasn't too much for me to bear alone, i hoped i wouldn't get anyone involved and hopfully i can solve this whole matter by myself but as always life is unexpected and nothing is as easy as it sounds.

And that was it, that was my happy sixth birthday. A day of sudden change of fate, overflowing happiness and Resolve had occured in one whole day. Now that i think about it, this happened more than once to the future naruto i knew. Maybe thats what made him so hoplessly strong.

Thats what kept me from crying as i left my familys house the next morning, and my resolve kept me strong. I had a goal, and thats what will drive me till their isn't one last breath from my body.

I lazily placed slung my nap sack of goods on my shoulder, that was filled mostly with weapons i designed and a few storeing scrolls that kept some of my larger weapons and some clothes and you know stuff that i had in my room. It was currently six in the morning having slept in longer than i wanted too, i was ready to go and on my way to the uchiha compound my new home.

I already had gone through the loving goodbyes this morning and i felt better knowing they loved me so. Walking through the still awaking town street, i followed a path to the compound having explored konoha to it's fullest when i was bored days it was easy to find my way to the compound but it wasn't like i ever did want to go to the compound till now.

Wearing just a black turtle neck shirt with short cut off sleeves, white shorts with a red tail cape which wraps around my waist where it opens up in the front where it's tied down by a brown belt with a gold buckle. Short black hand gloves with gold metal ringlets that are really just heavy weights i always wear even when not training. Hair let loose it's layerd look giving a lioness look while still being cute and black chinese styled shoes that i perfured then the ninja shoes every ninja wore.

Anyway i finally made it to the compound that was already up and alive. Walking through the street as i headed for the house that looked exactly like it was described to me, i got quite a few looks at me though not bad looks and more smiles and hello's than i can count from people i didn't know.

I realized Fugaku must have already announced me as being apart of the family though i doubt they would be this friendly if i didn't have the sharingan. Standing in front of the door that will become my new home until i'm 12 years old, i knock on the door shifting my bag alittle before waiting for somone to answer.

None to soon the door opened revealing a beautifull dark haired woman who smiled warmly at me.

Reborn Legends

I'm glad you got here ok Katsumi~chan! Mikoto screamed girlishly before bear hugging me to death.

I got the feeling she really was desperate in having a female in the same house, after all she's probably surrounded by boys all day. Even i couldn't stand that, though i was lucky i had my mother but i can't say the same about Mikoto who is still bear hugging me.

Oh, you must be hungry come right in dear were actually just getting ready to eat breakfast so perfect timing! Mikoto chirped happily before pulling me in, swiping my bag away from me while pushing me deeper inside the house.

Slideing a door to the side, i was encountered by stares of not only Sasuke, or Itachi but also his cousin Shusui (sorry if i got his name wrong, i'm having trouble remembering it) while anouther figure walked in from anouther door. It was none other than fugaku, with his calculating gaze as he studied the paper in his hands.

Feeling it to be alittle odd standing here doing nothing, i decided to say the first thing before the others got the chance.

Good morning, Fugaku, Itachi, Shusui, sasuke and you too Mrs. Mikoto. I say smiling a light and cheery smile.

I in return got more good mornings from everyone and a stern talking Mikoto for calling her Mrs. Mikoto.

Please Katsumi~chan Call me Mom~! I've always wanted a daughter ! She squealed happily once again making fugaku and both shusui and Itachi sweat drop while sasuke just kept smiling.

Sitting down at the table by sasuke, i watch as we begin to dig in to breakfast before i was interupted by a question from Fugaku.

When do you ususally train Katsumi? Fugaku asked as he looked away from his paper focusing in on me.

I start my training at four in the morning till eight o'clock am, then i'm off to work in the hospital till 2 in the afternoon unless i have a surgery i'm needed in and then i usually settle myself in the libaray to finish off some new medical books i had recently ordered not long ago.

The looks i got from Itachi and Shusui were priceless, along with Mikoto's widen of the eye's gave me that sudden knowledge that what i was doing was an incredibly feat at my age.

Fugaku nodded his head in approval before moving on to more pressing matters, my sharingan.

For training your sharingan you will have to cut down on the hours you spend in the libaray. Fugaku said alittle more strictly.

I nodded my head while knowing if i argued back it would just mean my defeat with other consequences so i calmly kept my emotions in check before continuing to eat.

Actually, that will be perfect. Shuisui said cheekily while glancing at me. Why don't you join me and Itachi while we train Little sasuke over here!

Sasuke pouting at the "litle" shusui used in the sentence, was given a chuckle from shusui and Itachi.

Reborn Legends

That'll be fine, i hadn't been able to train today anyway not to mention i'm off from my shift at the hospital. I said shrugging at shusui who gained a cheery smile to which if you didn't know the guy you would have thought that, but truly it was a devious smile and how he had plans for our Katsumi.

Author/ Naruto does not belong to me! so don't try to sue me! :D

Anyway this is to tell you i kinda got side tracked and didn't really update in like a week or so and felt really bummed out in myself so i wrote this chapter and will try (deeply try) to continu updating every day or so. Now please remember to comment and stuff, i'm still wondering if this story sucks or not and if it's moving way to slowly. So please comment! :D

Sincerly, Geminine

Created from Booksie.com

Generated: 2015-01-28 11:47:12