Chapter 1

Chapter 1-Perilous

1/2

1/2 I hate wet weather.I hate the cold,freezy feeling you get when it first hits you,I hate how it messes with my senses,and I hate how 1/2 the rain soaks into my feathery wings.But,of course,it had to rain tonight,when I had to go alone.I stared down at the Institute.Oh,how I hated it.How I hated the fact that they treated us like freaks that have the only use of experiments.I angrily wiped the rain from my eyes before I leaned forward,allowing my body the fall off the edge of the building.I loved 1/2 the free falling I get when the wind finally finds my wings.I landed silently on the ledge of a window."Crap!"I let out a little growl.A werewolf.I hate werewolves.And yet,I felt sorry for him.He looked so weak.Helpless,in a cage.I ran a finger around the edge of the glass.'Crash!'the glass fell in the room.I cringed as the werewolf looked up at me.I ducked inside as a scientist stepped into the room along with several assistants.He was welcomed by a ferocious teeth-nashing growl from the werewolf."Quiet Allen!"the scientist snapped.I raised an eyebrow."Interesting.But 1/2 now,I have to do what I do best."I 1/2 thought.I stepped to the edge of the look-out platform near the window.I let out a giggle so I'd be noticed.Everyone below me looked up."Hello boys."I smiled devilishly.I 1/2 raised a hand as some of the assistants ran forward.THe ground underneath them formed a cage.I jumped down before 1/2 I opened the cage door.Allen gave me a look.I waved my hand again and the bars rippled. 1/2 I looked him over."Look at you,so weak."I mused."Feel free to feast,under two contitions." "What?"He growled."You save HIM for last."I pointed at the scientist."Accepted."He watched me."And you save as much of his skelatal system as you can for me,for my sister."He nodded."I'll be outside when you are done."I walked toward the door."Have fun."

Chapter 2

Chapter 2-Moranna

"I'm hell on heels, say what you will but I done made the Devil a deal. He made me pretty, he made me smart, now I'm gonna break me a million hearts. I'm hell on heels, and baby I'm commin' for-" I pulled out my ear buds as I saw Perilous exit the Institute, quickly checking the ally before looking up at me. She made sure to make eye-contact before turning the corner. As I stood, I noticed that, after a few minutes, a second person came out. "What the hell Perilous?" I bared my teeth. Unlike my sisters, since I was a Darker Angel, I actually had fangs. But the person, I soon realized it was a guy, was wiping blood away from his mouth. "Werewolf." I thought, "Damn it, Perilous." That girl did some really idiotic things in my book. I shook my head before I jumped. This time, I was alone, and I liked it. Perilous slowed me down, and Theresa always had to do things HER way.

I didn't bother pausing at the window. I just barged right in. "Don't even think about it." I hissed at the scientist. "Ha-di!" I waved my hands in two different directions. The cage to my left exploded, and the assistants and the scientist flew back against the wall. "And that's how you do that." I smirked. "Come on kid, let's get out of here." The boy stepped out of the rubble. He was about Perilous's age. "Remind me to never make you mad." He muttered. I grabbed his collar and pulled. "Hey I can get out of here myself." He snapped. "Then why did I have to save your sorry little ass?" I gave him a look. "Now, come on before I really do get pushed over the edge." This time, he actually followed.
