The Sirens Of Devils Triangle : Chapter 1

i;½

Let's go to the Devils Triangle to prove independence? What the hell was I thinking? It was like a massive wall of thunder and lightning in front of me, all I was going to do was go in and then out, that was the plan, I had to prove I wasn't fifteen anymore and my mother and father could get off my back!

I glance back to the boat a few yards away and cringe at the sight of my parents bundled up and my brother leaning against the cabin his arms crossed with a smug look on his face. I could do this, they think I can't! I turn back to the very menacing wall of the triangle and frown, I was going to die to prove a point.

I pulled the wet suit zipper up, just have to swim out and come back that's all I had to do.

"Chickening out sis?" My brothers voice rang annoyingly over the radio

"No" I snapped back

I pulled the wet suit hood up and tucked in my massive amount of wavy brown hair into it and took a deep breath and I slipped on the water shoes and looked over the edge of the dingy I was in, and swallowed hard my mouth dry from fear.

"Oh pull yourself together Isabella Cruz you have been in the water all your life!" i muttered to myself

"better get going sis it's going to get dark" Zack's voice was cutting through my last nerve but I ignored it and dove into the water, the cool water soaked into the wet suit and I swam towards the storm.

"Isabella come sit for a story" My grandmamma cooed, I walked over to her and she pulled me onto her lap.

"What story?" I asked as I laced my little fingers through her silky grey hair

"the story of the sirens" She said matter of factly and I smiled I loved this story, it was romantic

"Tell tell grandmamma" I said impatiently for her to start

"It was almost fifty years ago now, I swam out to the center of the Devils triangle, I had a point to prove to your old grandpapa, that there wasn't anything to be scared of that the myths were just that"

"what happened!" I said excitedly even know I knew what was going to happen

"I swam for a long time my arms were tired the water was cold, the storm enclosed the triangle quickly I had lost my way, so I did the only sensible thing, I laid on my back and floated hoping the water would push me out the right way"

"then what then what!" I clapped as the most exciting thing was about to happen

"then out of the corner of my eye I saw a flash of skin, skin of a god it was tanned and seemed to almost glow as it came closer, I realized it was a man, the most handsom man I had ever seen, I reached out to touch the marble plains of his chest, just a touch and I would stop, he reached out and grabbed my hand before I could touch him"

The Sirens Of Devils Triangle

"Oh grandmamma what next!" I squealed

"then the man pulled me in and kissed me" she started kissing my cheeks and head and tickling me

"the best part come on tell it!" I squealed as she continued to tickle me

"I looked at him in the face raised my hand and slapped him across the face and told him I was already married to a lovely man and I need to get back to him!" she rushed out the rest and I laughed as she wrapped her arms around me.

Myth, that was all that was in the triangle myths and legends that were not true.

I swam and the rain was heavy the waves large and my arms and legs were already tired from swimming, I turned to go back to the dingy, I had gone in now time to leave when a wave crashed on top of my pushing me deep under the water and knocking the air from my lungs, the under tow pulling me up fast as letting me get a quick breath in before the next wave crashed sending me further, deeper into the water and I inhaled water my lungs screaming for air as I coughed sucking in more water, my vision was becoming spotty as I tried swimming to the surface a little bit of air that's all I needed, my hands broke the surface and I sucked in air as fast as I could before I was bombarded with yet another wave. It hit hard and the water dragged me back under I was too deep I knew that starring out all around me was black... except for the illuminated shape coming towards me, but my vision blurred and everything went black.

Chapter 2

I stretched and felt silk beneath my fingers and my eyes shot open, I pushed all my hair out of my face as I sat up and looked around. Impressively huge bed which was made out what I would have guessed was gold but it was blue! My attention drifted to the walls and ceiling... they were moving... fish and sharks danced nearby, I was underwater! I stared mesmerized and in awe at the realization of being underwater, the city of the sirens was real.

"I don't know from what I can tell she is human" the voice was nearby I jumped out of the bed and settled for the corner of the room pulling the sheet with me I had no time to hide anywhere else as two figures came into the room, I had to blink several times to make sure they were real, golden tanned skin toned chests, shoulders that would make any god jealous... and two sets of eyes staring at me.

"Wh-h-ho are you, what do you want from me?" I stuttered out

"Defiantly human" One of them said and I took him in, shoulder length messy light brown hair and eyes of swimming gold then my eyes drifted to the man beside him, he was taller hair so black it looked blue and short almost shaved, eyes that were the color of early dawn, black with the hint of blue, he might have been the most amazing man I had ever seen in my life, everything about him had me in entranced. But I shook it off as the realization set in that I had been taken by sirens!

"She isn't swooning" the one with the long hair pointed out "She is scared?" He said as a question and looked at the other gentleman standing there, the one I had yet to break eye contact with.

"no not scared, angry" he said as I slowly got to my feet and the sheet dropped stood there... in my panties and gasped and pulled the sheet back up to cover my bare chest.

"¿Dónde está mi ropa! Que era el hijo de puta y los llevaron!" I yelled at them

"Your wet suit was removed by myself, you were freezing" The dark hair one said and I glared at him

"I want you to return me to the surface right now!" I demanded

"Why?" the dark haired one asked and I watched as the other one slowly left

"Because I have people who are worried about me Y yo querÃ— a ir a casa"

"you will go home soon, the storm is still going" he said and was intently looking at me, my Spanish slipping as my anger rose and spilled.

"that is a trick the storm never ends here!" I snapped at him and he let the corner of his mouth tilt up showing a small hint of white perfectly straight teeth. "Usted es un lobo vestido de oveja"

"That isn't very nice, I am not hiding anything or trying to get anything from you insinuating I'm a wolf in sheep's clothing is insinuating I am a sneak, in which case I am not" he said calmly, but he folded his arms over his chest looking tired slightly.

"Why did you bring me here, why not just return me to the dingy outside the triangle?" I asked and pulled the sheet tighter around myself, the deep midnight blue silk sheet that was cool to the touch.

The Sirens Of Devils Triangle

"I didn't know where you came from, for all I knew you were scuba diving and got lost"

"Liar" I snapped

"how can I be lying, you were drowning I saved you, your welcome"

"yo estoy bien, todo estÃ¡ bien" I muttered

He sighed "you were not fine, from what I know about humans one cannot swim while unconscious"

He came closer to me and I backed up into the invisible wall harder wishing myself away from him, if the sirens were not a myth I didn't want to find out what else wasn't a fantasy.

"Come on you must be hungry" he said and handed me some clothes that I hadn't seen at the end of the bed

"take these off another stranded woman?" I asked not wanting an answer

"no they are just for you"

"how do you know my size?" I asked my rudeness was apparent but he ignored it

"one slide of my hand over your curves I knew your size, but I do not need to know your size for these to fit"

"Slide of your hand!" I snatched the clothes from him and he turned his back. .. slightly as I flipped the shirt of my head, it was softer than anything I had ever felt and seemed to fit me perfectly, I pulled the jeans on.

"you just happened to have jeans in your arsenal?" I asked and he shook his head

"the clothes are simply what you want, they can change depending on what you are wanting to wear, I took the liberty of giving you that" he pointed to my chest and I saw a small feather light chain with a small crystal, on it but... it almost looked like a tear if I had to actually guess what it was. "it will change your appearance they way you want it, that way it makes things easier and I wont have to go to the surface to get you clothes."

"I want to go to the surface" I said slowly making sure he got it

"Yes but you are not at the moment" he said just as slowly and I glared again

I crossed my arms over my chest and walked towards him then past him to the middle of the room and couldn't help but glance around some more at the sheer curtains that hung from the ceiling by nothing and the way they drooped to the floor and back to the ceiling, it was beautiful.

I felt a warm hand on my back and I jumped away

"don't touch me"

"I am not going to hurt you-" I stopped his talking when I practically yelled out my comment

"Hurt? No your kind seduces and I don't feel like being seduced thank you very much!"

"Maybe not at the moment but you will, all woman crave seduction" he said then he gestured to the door and I walked out of it, he followed close by and I was very aware at how close, as I felt his heat.

The Sirens Of Devils Triangle

He turned me towards another hallway and then another one finally coming to a set of stairs and we walked down them, I heard laughter before we reached the bottom and then four heads popped up, one I recognized, he had come into the room earlier.

"Ah you look much better" he spoke and I frowned, stop being friendly!

"Meet my brothers, Romeo you have already unofficially met, then there is John" he was sitting with a book in his lap and had almond brown hair and brown eyes" Jefferson and Samuel" Jefferson was sandy blonde hair and green eyes, Samuel was leaner than the others but still had defining rope after rope of muscles and he was fair haired as well with eyes the color of the sky. Ryker spoke from behind me which made me jump slightly, I was so stunned taking in all the glorious faces and bodies that were sitting on the chairs around a glass table.

"Your name is Romeo?" it slipped out of my mouth before I could call it back

They all laughed

"Yes and I live up to the name every damn day" he said and his brothers laughed

"Don't kid yourself Rom the ladies only want your body" John said and they all laughed again

"Well at least the ladies want that, unlike yourself you call yourself siren and the last woman you seduced was the lady of your right hand" Romeo snapped back calmly then they all laughed once again but their attention one by one slowly slid back to me

"so is she is here to share brother?" Jefferson asked and I could feel the shift in my clothing the sleeves went long and the neck of the shirt climbed at rested high on my neck covering every inch of my skin.

"Yeah she is delectable isn't she" Samuel said and they all slowly started rising and I could feel the pull, the attraction to all of them it came off as waves off all of them hitting me hard and I found myself stepping forwards could feel the sleeves on my shirt start to dwindle away as more of my skin was exposed for them to explore.

"no" Ryker said and the brothers all sat down with a sigh and the lusty gaze left my eyes and I felt disgust welling up inside of me, not towards them but towards myself.

Ryker pointed towards a table in the far corner and food started appearing and I walked over to it slowly, watching the brothers carefully as I stepped past them, I was starving and the fruit and other platters were mouth watering, I started filling my face popping grape after grape into my mouth and meat and cheese.

I know these stories, grandmamma told them to me all the time, the stories about the sirens, I wasn't scared I knew they weren't going to hurt me... but ... I glanced behind me my eyes found Ryker who was staring back.... They could seduce even the strongest of women.

I finished eating and I stood there with a glass of water when they started to leave, I was so in depth with thoughts I didn't catch what they were saying.

"grandmamma what are sirens" I asked as I brushed my hair and ran some lip balm over my lips, she sat next to me by the vanity

"they are the brothers of sin, five men who live in the devils triangle"

The Sirens Of Devils Triangle

"I know that, but why are people scared of them?" I asked and ran my hands through my hair and pulled it into a pony tail

"well I'm not really sure really my dear, I think it is mostly to do with the fact that they have so much power, and power scares people"

"But they don't drag un-expecting people to the depths to drown them or anything?"

"no no dear, they drag young woman down to the depths to ravish their bodies, and it is said that once you drink the siren elixir you will stay forever young, but you don't hear much about that secret elixir they have I have only ever heard it from one woman a very long time ago"

"They why didn't you go with the siren that came to you?"

"Oh honey because I was stupid" she laughed and I chuckled also but she took my hands in hers "I loved your grandpapa with all my heart, you have to remember that love no matter what is what matters, you follow your heart and it will lead you to your greatest desires and wishes"

"what if my heart is torn?"

"then go with the choice that feels the best, I have lived a long time I have learned that being selfish sometimes isn't as bad as it is all cracked up to be"

"I love you grandmamma" I hugged her and she hugged me back,

"and I love you my dear" she pulled away to kiss me on the cheek

"Well what are we doing with her?" I heard and it snapped me back to the conversation going on, I started paying attention to the words that were being thrown out.

"Yeah if she isn't here to share or just for you Ryk then what the fuck is she doing here?" Jefferson said and I watched as Ryker rolled his eyes

"I saved her life I didn't bring her down here for all of you to claim her for the night" Ryker said lazily as he glanced up at me

"All of you act like a bunch of animals" Romeo stated

Just then a rush a movement came from the hall, woman walked in her hair to the floor silver ringlet over silver ringlet and she was soaking wet and naked her features were harsh her eyes glowed yellow as she smiled at the guys sitting around with her jagged sharp teeth.

"Sitting around again I see, well I have news the kraken is been seen, am I the only one who is able to fight or do you boys actually know how to wield a sword or just your cocks?" she said glancing at me

"Shyra so nice of you to drop in" John said and she smiled again this time she had perfectly straight teeth her eyes no longer glowed as they turned blue and her features softened her hair climbed up her body becoming shorter settling just below her breast as a dark green ...scaled body suit snaked its way up her skin as she walked forwards.

"I have been out there for the past week, I'm surprised you even remember me!" she snapped back

The Sirens Of Devils Triangle

"I would never forget you sweetheart" John said and she shook her head

"Don't pull that fucking seduction shit on me again I'm not falling for your shit again" she said and changed her direction towards me her hips swaying as she walked, she was beautiful.

"I'm in love" John said and she rolled her eyes

"If you were in love with me you wouldn't have fucked that bitch from the surface"

She reached and grabbed a strawberry eating it, and then grabbing some cheese.

"Oh love how many times do I have to tell you I didn't lay with her, she shot me down.... if you can fathom that!" John said and the five men laughed

She took my hand in hers, her skin cool and damp

"Listen to me honey get away from this bunch as fast as your lil ass can carry you, they are all trouble, each and every single one of them"

"I don't plan on staying long" I said back

"good" she turned back around

"see you all mother fuckers later" she said as she walked back down the hall she had come from.

The men stared after her

"you sure know how to piss a woman off there john" Romeo said and john just nodded slowly still looking down the hall

It was silent for a moment before anyone else spoke but Ryker broke the silence.

"Make sure the perimeter is up and get Shyra some down time, she needs to sleep, Jefferson get the other mermaids to start getting the word out about the Kraken I don't want him getting through the front gates" Ryker said and I was slightly blown away... Mermaids?....Kraken? was I just thrown into a bigger fantasy world then I initially thought?

Chapter 3

"What do you mean you will not bring me to the surface?" I snapped at Ryker standing right in his face, he may use his size to intimidate others but he was not pushing me around!

"I said no, now go bath and get ready for dinner" he said and side stepped me walking past me and over to the far side of his bedroom pulling back a black sheer curtain which I assumed led to the bath he had been telling me to go use for the past hour now.

"No se la doy a ratas asno, I want to go home!" I yelled at him and he sighed

"If I knew you were going to be so impossible I might have let your drown" he said sighing again, which only infuriated me more as I marched over to him.

"¿Cómo se atreve usted! " I stood near him again and raised my finger up at him "you will bring me home now! I have people who care about me, I want to go home and I want to go now!" I said as I poked my finger against his chest trying to drive my point home.

He grabbed my wrist and his hand was hot against my skin. "Let go of me!" I said trying to yank my hand out of his grasp.

"You are going to bath whether you like it or not woman, I will so help me throw you over my shoulder and I can guarantee you will not like it!" he said back and I tried pulling my hands from him again frowning when he wouldn't let go.

"Te maldiga a las profundidades del infierno!"

"that's it" he yanked me forwards and I hit him hard in the chest as he pulled me up his body and over his shoulder " you curse me to hell, well I hate to inform you that I have already been there" he said as he carried me into the bathroom and I hammered against his back to let me go but my blows seemed to do very little. I watched as pearl tile went past as he walked into the bathroom.

"Let me down!" I screamed and hit his back again and again

"I have told you over a thousand times in the past two hours you are not going to the surface when I have enemies trying to pound down my gates! Now when I set you down are you going to get undressed and get into the bath or do I have to help you?" you asked and started lowering me to my feet and I felt the cool tile on my toes and I pushed off him.

"I'm not getting in that water!"

"Then you leave me no choice" he stated simply and reached forward before I could process what he was doing I felt the necklace come off my neck and the clothes disappear with it.

"Que hijo de puta! Me dan la espalda! Que usted va a pagar por eso"

"is that so" he said and rose an eye brow, in a split second I got a good glare out at him before he came at me with a small dagger in his hand as he hooked his arm around my waist and pulled me against him the blade sliced the side of my cotton panties and they fell to the ground and I was seething by the time he picked me up my naked skin pressing against his bare chest as he stepped up three stairs to the very large steaming tub, that resembled a hot tub and stepped inside the water coming up to his knees then I was falling, hot water surrounded me as he dropped me and I pushed to the top as it seemed to be bottomless, and swam to the top I broke the surface and inhaled water.

"now bath and come back to the room for this back" he said holding the necklace in one hand and a glass bottle of purple liquid in the other in which he handed to me and I grabbed it from him scowling too angry for words.

He got out of the water and walked back into his room and I glared at his back hard enough that laser beams should have been shooting out .... but unfortunately they did not.

I sighed and tilted the open bottle and the purple liquid poured out I washed quickly but found myself enjoying the warmth of the water and sat on the ledge and looked down below, the water was dark and I couldn't see anything but I had sworn that it had no bottom, I leaned my head back and sighed closing my eyes, oh it couldn't hurt to relax for a few moments to cool my head a bit.

"Dinner is in a few minutes and I am not to be late" Ryker's voice came from the room and my glower came back

"then go no one is stopping you!" I snapped and I heard a groan from the room and I let a small smile crawl on my lips as I pulled myself from the water and glanced around for a towel.....

"Where is a towel?" I asked

"there is none come here" he said smoothly and I frowned yet again, if I kept this up I would be getting wrinkles at a very early age

"I am not coming out there, I am naked!" I half shrieked

"then I come in there, I am done arguing with you"

"fine face the wall and hold the necklace behind your back" I asked

"what is the point? But alright come and get the necklace"

I walked over to the doorway and peeked out of the curtain to see he was facing the wall and I pulled the curtain back and walked towards him, trying to be careful not to slip on the stone floor or to alarm him in some way he turned around.

I reached out for the necklace at the same time he turned and I stumbled backwards, I felt my foot lose its stability as I stumbled losing footing. I slammed my eyes shut for the for sure fall that was coming my way when I felt an arm wind around my waist and catch me, I opened my eyes in time to see Ryker lose his balance as well as he caught me, but all I felt was a soft thud when hitting the floor, as he took the brunt of it with his arm. He looked down at me and I stared back up at him, he tilted his head to the side and I could feel his breath on my cheek it sent a shiver down my spine.

"p-p-please get off of me" I whispered as I was becoming more aware of how his body felt a top of mine, how his chest felt flush with mine skin to skin.

"Why?" he asked and his eyes bore into mine the depths of blue swirling and lightening as he continued to look at me

The Sirens Of Devils Triangle

"Please I want to get dressed" I whispered again

"and yet..." he trailed off as he leaned down and kiss the outer edge of my jaw and a sigh escaped my lips
"you are enjoying this" he said softly as his lips made contact with the tender flesh under my ear and I reached up to push him off but my hands refused to budge to push him off they went up and stayed gently on his shoulders.

"off" it came out hushed, this was just a trick he was a siren it was just seduction.

"You tell me to stop and yet you want me continue, why?" he asked and slid his lips feather like across my shoulder

"You are a siren" I breathed when he pushed more intimately against me.

"that I am, but you are not afraid of me"

"no"

"then why don't enjoy yourself?"

"because you trick"

"I do not" he said grinding against me once more, it was clear he was aroused his member hard and stiff pressing against me, and only the thin layer of his pants were between us.

"yes you do, sirens use seduction against people" I said as he dragged his hand up my waist and over my ribs inching his way towards my breast.

"humans are not so different" he mumbled and just as his thumb brushed the tender skin of the underside of my breast he raised his hand and gently lowered the necklace onto the hollow of my throat and for the briefest of seconds I realized it had been a test.... before my muddled mind gathered an image of what clothes I wanted on and I felt the fabric wined its self around my limbs and cover me. He looked at me with a knowing look, he did not have to tell me... I already knew... when he placed the necklace on me my clothes stayed off for a fraction of a second longer then they should have and he knew this, as did I.

Dinner was .... different then I was expecting, they seemed to be laid back guys but when Ryker opened the doors and I peered inside I was astonished by the number of bodies walking around and sitting at the very large table all talking, but what captivated me was all the shimmering hair of the woman who were seated as well.

"Finally!" Jefferson announced and everyone turned to us I suddenly felt very small.

"What took you brother?" John asked eyeing me

"We had... some stubbornness that needed to be dealt with" Ryker said simply and all the brothers grinned as if there was a hidden secret they all knew, some kind of inside joke.

"Well come join us brother we are just discussing battle" Romeo said and then I saw a familiar face, Shyra stood and motioned for me to come sit beside her and I paused for a moment before making my way over to her.

The Sirens Of Devils Triangle

"Well sweetness you still here?" She asked and I nodded it had only been a few hours since I had seen her last. "Well I have to apologize for my mood before"

"Oh, it is okay" I said as I took a seat next to her

"no I was out of line telling you you have to leave, they are not that bad really... My anger towards John clouds my mind sometimes" she glanced towards Ryker who was seated at the end of the table, but I don't think he noticed.

"Well I still want to get to the surface... I have family there that I miss... that will be missing me... probably think I'm dead already... and ..." I trailed off

"It is not safe to travel to the surface when the Kraken is near, he is ruthless and pure evil, Ryker is a good leader he won't anything happen to you"

We all finished dinner and I stayed seated not sure what to do. The men talked but not loud enough that I could hear then they all seemed to agree on something all their heads nodding in agreement then they all left one by one, until it was just Ryker and I still seated. I glanced down the table to him and he cocked his head in a cocky manner before glancing to the left and my eyes followed his as a small girl came in and placed two glasses and a white bottle on the table close to Ryker then she came over to me and I caught a better glance, of her wet skin and the ripples of color that went over her skin, almost like a squid when they change color, her hair was in a short pixie cut and her eyes completely black, as she gave me a passing glance before she stomped behind me and shoved my chair towards Ryker, only stopping when I was a mere foot from his chair.

"Thank you" Ryker said and by the time I glanced behind me the small girl was gone.

"What is she?" I asked truly fascinated.

"I'm not sure of their exact name but here we call her the squid child"

"that doesn't sound very nice"

"Well neither was stealing from me, I could have sentenced her to death but I didn't"

"How gallant of you" I mumbled as I watched as Ryker lift the white bottle and pour the equally white liquid into the glasses and handed me one, a wave of uneasiness swept over me... what was it?

"Don't worry it is just sea cider" he said and raised his glass to me... I picked up my glass and the sound of tingling glass echoed through the dining hall. "To ... good fortune" he said and I nodded slowly and peered into my glass swirling the substance slowly trying to get a whiff of scent but I could not smell anything... so I did the only sane thing a person would do... I raised it to my mouth and took a drink. The sensation was velvet soft and creamy it didn't have a particular taste but it wasn't gross either, in fact the more I tasted it the more delicious it became.

"What is this made of?" I asked swallowing another gulp

"Tears of the mermaid" he spoke as he rose the glass to his mouth taking a drink

"Seriously?" I asked not finding comfort in that

The Sirens Of Devils Triangle

"Actually no, but that is what is said to be in it, personally I think it is just from the surface something mixed together"

"I have never tasted anything like this on the surface"

"Let me rephrase I think this is from the surface from the mythical variety"

My mouth went into a big 'O' as I looked down at the empty glass

"Can you please bring me to the surface back to my parents and brother" I asked gently my voice never raising an octave as I fixed my eyes on his face. I watched as it went from its cocky self to a irritated look then to tired.

"Isabella I have already said this... I am not bringing you to the surface when the Kraken is so close"

"Why? It would take all of ten minutes I'm sure" I snapped

"I'm not discussing this any further" He said his voice raising half an octave but enough to drive the point home.

I pushed myself up from my chair my hands slamming against the table top and a loud smacking sound echoed in the room as I walked away from him to the door that we had come in.

I turned back around and faced him opening my mouth to blurt out something but my anger had suppressed all the witty and utterly rude comments that I normally had, so I turned back around and pushed on the heavy doors pushing them open leaving Ryker seated at the table, and as I walked away I could feel his eyes burning a hole in the back of my head as he stared after me.

Chapter 4

I walked down hall after hall looking at the glass walls and watching the fish play in the depths of the water.

I reached a dead end and placed my hand against the glass the same time off in the distance I saw something I pressed closer and peered into the water. Whatever it was it was getting closer and the outside of a woman.... a mermaid came into view as she came over. her hands hit the glass at the sheer force she came at me then she smiled and waved, it was Shyra, her hair long again and her body transformed into ... well a mermaid her lower half of her body was of a fish but the color of her scales was pearl white and shimmered her hair floated around her in the water the striking red against the blue, her face back to being harsh, angled and almost demonic but she waved then swam away.

I turned and started back down the hall when I spotted Ryker and he was coming right at me.

"There you are" he said and came up right in front of me apparently not aware of personal space!

"I wasn't lost I was just looking around"

"Fine but you shouldn't be doing it alone" he stated and glanced out to the water.

"I'm a grown woman I can walk where I want!" I snapped at him my anger rising yet again

"a woman you are" he said and advanced towards me I instantly backed up ... he came forward I stepped back, we did this dance before I felt my back pressed against the wall and I couldn't go anywhere.

"What are you doing?" I asked as he stepped closer to me and the feet between us became inches then only centimeters and I was becoming very aware of the heat radiating off his body, the smell of him was also intoxicating, no cologne but he smelled spicy and faintly of something I couldn't place but it made my mouth water and I suddenly had a strange urge to see what he tasted of as well but I gritted my teeth together instead.

"I am doing nothing" he said softly as he reached his hand up and touched my cheek with his finger tips it sent a wave of tingles over my skin and my breath caught as he slid his fingers down the side of my face down my neck and further yet

"st-t-top" I stutter out, as warmth spilled over my flesh

"Stop what?" he asked and stepped slightly closer

"Stop using your seducing magic on me!" I said and put my hands up to push him away but the force wasn't there my hands stayed on his chest and I felt the rise and fall of his chest and his heart beat hammering.

"I'm not using them" he purred and tilted his head forward I could feel the warmth of his breath on my cheek and it traveled down the length of my neck as well, it sent a shiver down my spine.

"Ryker" his name came off my lips in a whisper

"Yes Isabella?" he whispered back and my eyes darted from his eyes to his lips and back again and I couldn't prepare myself for when he placed his lips upon mine, my legs went weak and my knees buckled as pleasure

The Sirens Of Devils Triangle

swept through me like a wave from just a single kiss. His arms wrapped around me pulling me flush against his body. He tasted of coconut and spice as he ran his tongue along my bottom lip begging for entrance and I couldn't deny it even if I wanted to.

His hands held me in a bruising manner but the more he pulled me against him the more I couldn't resist and my walls were crumbling. I could feel his cock pressing hot high on my hip, like a stone cylinder wedged between our bodies and that thought made my skin engulf in more flames as one of his hands reached up and around the nape of my neck holding my face to his.

In the distance I heard a throat clear and my eyes snapped open to see John standing a few paces behind us at the starting of the short dead end hallway.

"this better be important" Ryker said his voice low and dangerous, I looked up at his face to see his eyes swimming, he hadn't pulled away his body was still pressed intimately against mine.

"The Kraken has been seen, a couple of the mermaids saw him coming this way"

"Did they try to intercept?" Ryker asked his eyes still locked onto mine and I swallowed hard as realization started to hit me

"No "

"Why the hell not?"

"Ryker it was two of the young ones, they were scared"

Ryker let out a frustrated sigh "what is the use of putting warriors out on the field when they have no backbone!" he said and pushed away from me and turned towards John who looked at me apologetically as Ryker and him stalked off.

I wasn't sure what possessed me to follow but I did, my curiosity burning in my gut as I followed Ryker and John into a room, the sound of a wailing woman met my ears in an instant... but the wailing sounded... different like it was underwater , I peeked inside the room to see two girls who didn't look any older than sixteen huddled on a red velvet couch and big blue tears streamed down their cheeks staining their skin.

"Girls calm down" Ryker said his voice no longer holding the edge of anger

"We are sorry" One of the girls said the one that wasn't crying nearly as much, both of them had pixi short blonde hair and eyes of silver pools, their bodies covered in a scale body suit both a light green.

"It is okay, tell me where he was" Ryker said kneeling down so he was at their level

"he was just off the triangle he was alone" she said more tears falling

"He looked pissed!" the other girl whimpered out and Ryker nodded and motioned for the girls to stand

"I want you to go home and take some time off, come back after getting training from Shyra, you too did good but I need my warriors with a bit more backbone, okay?" he asked and both the girls nodded and stood and walked over to the far wall, and walked through it, instantly their hair grew at an amazing rate as it reached their hips , their body suit leaving as a tail took over their legs and their features transforming into sharp angles and glowing eyes. They swam away quickly.

The Sirens Of Devils Triangle

"You do not need to hide outside" Ryker said and it took me a moment to realize he was speaking to me.

"I wasn't hiding" I said

He rolled his eyes slightly then looked at John who was staring out of the wall the girls had just left through, I looked as well to the red head who was coming ... coming quick Shyra came through the wall so fast her skin twitched at the sudden shift of her form and she glared at Ryker.

"You sent them to me!" she screeched and John put his hands up starting to back away already but Ryker stood fast and looked down at the clearly pissed off mermaid

"They need training, you have the ability to train them" he said clearly

"I have enough on my fucking plate without you sending me fucking guppies!" she yelled throwing her hands up in the air.

"don't get short with me Shyra I am your leader you remember that or I will send you back to the shit hole John pulled you out of!" Ryker said his voice only rising slightly in volume.

Her hand shot up and I heard the crack of her hand going across Ryker's cheek, he looked down at her his eyes held anger but not fury as he grabbed her by the arm and shoved her towards John

"Deal with her, and for god sakes get her calmed down, you brought her here you fix her, she is your responsibility" he instructed and John nodded and then pulled the still very angry Shyra out behind him by her arm.

"A bit harsh?" I stated and he shook his head

"it may look like she is innocent and soft but don't get the mermaids mixed up they are fierce creatures"

"as are you" I let the words slip out and he raised an eyebrow at me at my comment

"how so?" he asked crossing his arms over his chest

"you just are" I stated and he neither agreed or disagreed

Later that night when the waters were black and the place was lit with candles I decided I needed to talk to Shyra... she might know of a way to get out of this place and I didn't see any other time that was good as she was still pissed I had hoped and at Ryker so she might be more inclined to help me escape this place!

So I am going to be adding a picture to every chapter they might be to do with the story or might not, some may look like some of the characters as well but the idea is not to take away from what you are picturing, the idea is to enhance the novel! Remember if you are wanting an update to leave a comment! =)

Chapter 5

"Isabella, I am pissed but not pissed enough that I would disobey Ryker to that degree" Shyra said as she paced around her quarters.

"Please I need to go back to my family!" I said for the fifth time in the last ten minutes of this conversation

She took my hands and her hands were cool and damp again "You have no idea who the kraken is... the last time he was here... he stole -" she was cut off as John came into her room with a tray of food in his hands.

"Oh I didn't know you were in here Isabella" he said but set the tray down on the small table by the bed and Shyra glanced at him her eyes were glued to John for the most part. I didn't miss the way her skin seemed to flush and her eyes started to glow as she watched him.

"Isabella would you mind leaving" Shyra said as she grabbed Johns hand and her body suit started to disappear leaving her perfect skin, John wasn't paying any attention to me as Shyra walked in front of him and his hands went to her hips pulling her slowly towards him her hands went to the back of his neck as she lifted herself up effortlessly so her legs wrapped around his hips and her back arched towards him..... I backed up and shut the door just as a groan came from John.

I blinked a few times and then turned to back away when a hand was placed on my shoulder and made me jump

"Careful there sweetheart" I turned to see Romeo and he let out a lazy smile

"I was just...." I trailed off as I wasn't sure how to explain what I was doing

"No need, I see they are back at it... it lasts about a week then they are back to fighting" he said and then gestured to the right with his hand and I followed.

"Why.... wont anyone take me home?" I asked and he sighed

"Unfortunately sweetheart Ryker is in charge, if I was in charge I would send you home but... I am not" he said and placed his hand on my shoulder and he sent a small smile at me and I couldn't help but to smile back slightly.

"Well what is the big deal in sending me home?" I said sighing frustrated

"Well for one the Kraken is close by... second I think Ryker is having ... Feelings about you here... I have never seen him like this"

"What do you mean?" I asked and this time it was him who sighed letting air pass out between his lips quickly as he ran a hand through his perfectly tousled hair.

"It isn't my place to discuss" he spoke slowly like he wasn't sure of the words he should use

"well then what can you tell me?" I pushed

The Sirens Of Devils Triangle

He turned towards me and looked me straight in the face.

"The last time the kraken came through here it wasn't good news... her stole... someone... and we were unable to get them back"

By his tone I knew that was all I was going to get out of him so I no longer pushed for information.

We continued to walk down a hallway but my attention was back at home, my mother and father and even my annoying brother would be missing me... they probably thought I was dead... they had no idea where I was... if I was okay... the last they saw me I was trying to prove the point that I wasn't a child... but in fact I had just proved them right... in acting like a child and now I would never see them again.

"what are you thinking about?" I jumped at the sound of Ryker's voice by my ear

"nothing" I lied

"You are lying you look ... sad" he said and came so he was in front of me, I quickly glanced around but Romeo was nowhere to be seen. Had I been walking by myself without even noticing?

"I... I just...." I trailed off knowing this line of conversation wasn't going to get me anywhere

"you want to go home, I know that... but for right now could you stop fighting this?" he asked his voice low as he looked at me and his hand raised his fingers skimming across my cheek sending butterflies to my stomach and heat across my skin. Stop reacting.... right because that was so easy...

"Fine ... for right now..." I whispered, my voice wouldn't become any louder as he bent his head towards me and his nose brushed mine, my breathing shaky my hands sweating as he gently brushed his lips over mine and because I couldn't help myself I kissed him back once again.

In the back of my mind I realized that the air was getting to my skin, and when I felt Ryker's hand slide up my arms my eyes snapped open and I looked down at myself, most of my top had melted away my breasts barley covered and my jeans were nowhere to be seen just panties.... great... my mind snapped back to reality and the clothes came back as well. But the lingering arousal was still there as Ryker's eyes burned into mine seeing everything I was and how his hands were still hot on my arms and his mouth just centimeters away from mine. Then I saw it a flash in his eyes like he was remembering something but it was gone almost as soon as it came to be, and I remembered what Romeo had said.

"Who did you lose?" I asked softly and I watched as his eyes went hard and he pulled away from me

"No one, it was a long time ago" he said and walked away from me quickly, I was left standing there alone feeling stupid.

Three days, I hadn't seen Ryker in three full days, he was nowhere to be seen and no one was even talking about his disappearing act! I didn't even know why I cared?

I stalked through the halls my mind deep in thought.

"Kiss me Isabella" the guy who stunk of beer and pot said to me and his hands were slow sluggish and rough on my arms as he pulled me towards him

The Sirens Of Devils Triangle

"get off me Tony!" I said and pushed him away, I searched the abandoned boat house in search for my brother, he was in trouble yet again and somehow it fell upon my shoulders to drag his ass home!

I spotted him working his magic on a girl who was out of my class and I groaned as I stomped over to him and tapped him on the shoulder

"Come on" I growled and yanked on his arm when his mouth finally managed to pull away from the girls face.

"go away Isa I'm busy!" he said clearly drunk

"Come on I don't want to be here anymore then you want me to be but mum wants us both home"

"How about you go find your own action" he said and went back to kissing the girl who smiled and pulled his lips back eagerly.

"please!" I said yanking his arm again and he groaned

"Isa leave me the fuck alone" He snapped and I threw my hands up in the air letting out a shriek of anger and turning around quickly and stomped away from him.

Fine he wants to be grounded so be it!

I glanced over my shoulder quickly but it was enough time for me to run smack into someone who's hands shot up to steady me.

"Woah there Isabella, where you off to in such a tisy?" I looked up to see My brothers best friend Brent, he had a kind smile and was a pretty good looking guy but he was a senior and I was junior, our worlds should have never met but him being my brothers best friend smashed our lives together.

"Zack is suppose to come home with me, but he won't! He is too busy swallowing her face!" I said and my voice raising in volume. Brent chuckled slightly then ran a hand through his hair and glanced down at me giving me another lazy smile.

"yeah he does have his way with the girls, me on the other hand not so much" he said and sighed a small blush coming to his cheeks and I couldn't help but smile then roll my eyes.

"Please any girl here would love to suck face with you!" I said and he grinned

"Not all of them" he said glancing around slightly but his eyes came back to me quickly

"Well I have to go home" I said and he nodded slowly

"want me to walk you home?" he asked and I hesitated, Zach had made it pretty clear right in front of me to Brent that I was off limits for his flirtatious ways.... but it was only a walk home and Zack was way to busy to even notice.

"okay"

"I don't think you should be walking home alone" he said and I gave a small nod.

The Sirens Of Devils Triangle

We walked and the darkness was smothering, I was glad I wasn't alone as I trudged down the path that led to my house the trees were thick and the air hot and humid.

"so last year of school hey?" I said trying to fill the void of the silence

"Yeah then ill be out of here!" he said and kicked a rock and it tumbled off the path into the trees

"I don't think I will ever leave this place" I said and he grunted something I didn't understand. I cast him a sideways glance and he glanced over me as well and I couldn't help but smile a bit.

"so how old are you again Is?" he asked after a long silence, I was suddenly embarrassed

"Sixteen" I said just above a whisper

" ah yeah" he laughed slightly

"what's funny? " I asked

"nothing I'm just not looking forward to your brother busting my ass about kissing you" he said and I stopped dead in my tracks and looked at him, he looked back at me.

"What?" I asked ... maybe I hadn't heard him correctly

He took my hand then he leaned forward and placed a small gentle kiss to my virgin lips and I stood there frozen.

"Ah shit I fucked up didn't i?" he said and I shook my head slowly as my fingers grazed my lips where his had just been.... my first kiss and I was standing there like a deer in the head lights!

"no you just took me off guard" I said and then he came closer again

"are you ready this time?" he asked as he leaned forward, my eyes closed and I felt his lips touch mine in a sloppy kiss as his hand traveled to my waist and pulled me towards him, the kiss deepened.

"What the fuck!" The kiss stopped and we turned towards the sound of my very pissed off brother.

"Zack.... i...." Brent started but words seemed to fail him so I stepped in as Zack took a step forward his hands balled up into tight fists as he stalked closer to his best friend all in intent to punch him in the face.

"I kissed him!" I said and stepped in front of Brent who was pulling me back around him

"I don't give a fuck Isa, I made it pretty fucking clear that you were off limits!" Zack yelled and stepped forward again Brent pushed me out of the way as Zack came forward and his fist connected with the side of Brent's face.

Jesus fucking hell man, it wasn't like I was going to fuck her right her, like holly fuck give me some credit!" Brent said as he stumbled back from Zack

"You know what man, fuck you!" Zack said and grabbed my arm as he stomped down the path dragging me with him.

The Sirens Of Devils Triangle

"See you at school" Brent yelled

"Yeah whatever" Zack said and continued to hold my arm and drag me down the path.

I glanced around realising that I had found my way into Ryker's bedroom again and I sat on the edge of the bed letting out a heavy sigh. When I heard water... like someone was in the bathroom.

I got up and walked over to the curtain and pulled it back slowly and peeked in, just as Ryker was coming out of the bath water running down from his wet hair down his god like shoulders over his chest and down the plains of rope after rope muscles of his stomach, then down lower. I resisted the over whelming urge to run to him and fasten my tongue to one of the streams of water and follow it up over his body.

"Isabella" My name shot through me like a bullet as I yanked my eyes away from his excellent golden tanned body and fixated them to his eyes.

"Where.... have you been?" I asked as my eye battled for their chance to sink lower than his face but I refused them that access.

"I was out patrolling"

"For days?" I asked and he nodded as he started towards me, I couldn't move my feet even if I wanted to they were glued to that spot as he came closer, then closer.... Standing about a foot away as his arm reached out and he grabbed .... a towel.....

Wait...

"you said there were no towels!" I said outrage hinting at my voice.

"I just got them today" .... was it a lie? I wasn't sure my eyes narrowed in suspicion but soon my train of thought roamed to his bare chest then further south as a certain part of his anatomy was starting to stand on end point to his stomach as he watched my gaze lower, and as I accidentally bit my bottom lip.

"I ...should ....go" I said slowly as I started to back away my feet unwilling to move anywhere.

"So soon?" he asked and took a step towards me, I could feel the heat coming off his body, feel the moisture floating through the air.

"yes... I do not think me being here is a good idea..." I said as I tried making my exit but a warm hand grabbed my wrist and yanked me back and his mouth soon claimed mine and a moan crawled up my throat and out between my lips, as he pulled me hard against his body.

I felt the edge of the bed against my legs as we tumbled backwards and I was met with the soft silk of his bed.

His body weight on top of me pinning me to the bed. I felt his hand snake up my body and I felt his fingers wind around the necklace and I also felt him yank it off and all my clothes coming off as well with it but I didn't pull away as his mouth mated with mine, claiming it as his own. His body hot on mine skin to skin, I brought my leg up and hooked it on his thigh pulling him closer to me.

"Sir we have a situation..... oh....shit...." a small scream bubbled out of my mouth as I frantically looked at the door way and saw Jefferson.

The Sirens Of Devils Triangle

"This better be fucking important brother!" Ryker snapped a growl low in his voice, for being interrupted yet a second time.

"The kraken is here, his army is coming and will breach our gates within the day" Jefferson said and Ryker groaned, well growled as he stood and pushed himself up and off of me. Armour started to cover his body and by the time he left the room he was completely covered, I grabbed the necklace off the bed and placed it around my neck willing my clothes back to me.

Chapter 6

I walked down the hall ways, it was silent, too silent. I got to a room that was very large and as I peered off into the water I could faintly see the shimmer of armour and swords as they clashed, I watched in horror of the war that was raging, I couldn't tell who was who from the mixture of bodies but as the fighting continued the water around them started to turn red from the spilled blood.

"Terrifying isn't it" I jumped and turned around to see a man standing there, one I had never seen before. His sandy blonde hair and eyes that were so ice blue they almost looked white, he was the just as devilish handsome as the siren brothers, but I had a sinking feeling he wasn't someone good, the feeling grew heavier as I watched as the corner of his lips turn up in a smile that sent a cold shiver down my spine.

"Who are you?" I asked trying to make my voice strong but as his smile deepened I knew I had failed.

"Come on darling you have no idea?" he said in a taunting voice as he stepped closer and I backed up but felt the cool translucent wall behind me.

"No, I think if you are part of this then you should be out there with the rest of them, who are fighting." I stated and watched his expression change into full on humor.

"Why would I do that when the one thing right now that Ryker is so intent on saving... is right here in front of me" He said and took two long strides towards me and placed his hand over my mouth as I opened it to scream "now now darling don't go ruining the surprise, I have big plans for you" he said and he glanced towards the wall behind me he wrapped his other hand around my waist pulling me to him then we were passing through the wall. The cold water hit me like a brick wall, the pressure was too much we were too far down for my lungs to hold air.

"K let Isabella go!" I heard my name as the kraken turned around and standing a few feet away was Ryker, his sword out and his chest heaving, but my vision was becoming blurry, I needed air my lungs screamed.

"I wouldn't waste time with the chit chat Ryker, your little play thing here is going to need air here in a second" He said his hand still hard over my mouth and plugging my nose, I struggled in his grasp, I could see the room we were just in, my living breath just a few feet away.

"For god sake give her a breath, please" Ryker said dropping his sword and it fell to the bottom and sank into the sand slightly as he took a slight step towards us.

"Oh why should i?" The Kraken asked and I started pulling at his hand my body taking over my responses as it was screaming for air.

"Please" Ryker said he was begging

"I will give her a breath but in return I want my palace back!" He growled

Ryker gritted his teeth together and his jaw went tight.

"Okay okay not my palace, fine it don't really care for it anyways, fine in return I want one of your mermaids"

The Sirens Of Devils Triangle

"I will go" I heard her voice before I was turned around and his lips claimed mine and I felt my lungs suck in a much needed breath of air and as he deepened the kiss I breathed my lungs drinking in every breath he was giving me.

I swallowed one last time and I felt sick, he tasted of strong salt and the deeper he kissed me my skin began to crawl, my muscles clenching hard spasming.

"See you soon darling" he whispered as he pulled back and the last thing I saw was Shyra swim over to him and he grabbed her hands roughly clasping them together with his grip then they disappeared into the dark water. Ryker pulled me to him and we went through the wall to the room again and I sucked in more air and coughed slightly.

"Why did you let him take her!" I said when I was breathing again

"I couldn't ...."

"you know what I don't care, we have to get her back!" I said and yanked my arm from his hand

"We can't"

"You tell John that!"

"tell me what?" John asked from the doorway as he came in, right on cue.

"Shyra.... she went with K" Ryker said and I watched as the horror set in across Johns face, the other brothers started to come in, and each on took in the situation and the faces and everyone of them knew something was wrong, but it was Romeo who spoke.

"We will get her back" He said to john and placed a hand on his shoulder, John shrugged it off and walked out of the room without a word.

"Isabella I need to speak with my brothers can you go to my room and wait for me there" Ryker said and it wasn't a suggestion it was an order

I gritted my teeth, I wouldn't argue.... not this time anyways but I didn't want him getting use to the fact he could boss me around and I would listen!

I wondered down the halls again and as the sadness started to sink in... the guilt did as well, and I started to cry tears ran down my face as I neared the bedroom.

"Miss?" I glanced to my right when a blonde woman came out of a doorway wearing a black dress, she was beautiful. "I was just cleaning, Miss .... I was told to give you this ... He said it would make you feel better" She said and handed me a small red tube.

"What is it?" I asked as I took it and felt how warm it was in my hand.

"Mr Ryker said it would make you feel better Miss. He said he would come to you after his meeting"

"Ok..... " I glanced down at the tube and closed my fingers over it "thank ....you" she was gone nowhere to be seen so I continued my way down the hall to Ryker's bedroom.

The Sirens Of Devils Triangle

The bed was comfortable and I was tired, so why was I tossing and turning? I couldn't sleep not when the guilt was hard and hot in my gut.

I sat up and grabbed the red tube off the night stand and looked at it, Ryker said it would make me feel better... I trusted him... For the most part anyways....

I popped the cork off the top and brought the vile to my nose it didn't smell like anything I frowned then shrugged and brought it to my lips and poured it between my lips, the taste was electrifying! But the heat spreading over my body hit me hard and the world went black.

"Isabella?" my eyes snapped open and I looked in the darkness for the person who called my name... Ryker...

"I am here" I said and I crawled to the edge of the bed as he stepped closer, he stood at the edge of the bed and he looked upset.... but I didn't care.... lust was weaving its way through me as I took him his scent as I neared.

"look Isabella I know you are upset about-" he stopped talking as his eyes met mine as I went up on my knees and placed my hands on his bare chest.

"Isabella, what is... wrong?" He asked but I watched as his eyes changed and as they slid over my naked body, and then met my eyes again. His mouth was on mine in an instant, demanding and hot and I pulled him closer.

His weight on top of mine was crushing but in a delectable way as I brought my leg up and attached it to his hip.

"Something isn't right" he breathed as he trailed hot slow kisses down my neck, a soft moan came from my lips and that urged him to push more intimately against me and I didn't stop him.

Nothing felt wrong just the strong urge to be with Ryker to be skin to skin with him.

Ryker groaned and rolled onto his back pulling me with him so I was on top of him his strong hands gripped my thighs and pulled me closer to him. He pushed himself up higher on the bed so he came to rest on the pillows as he drew back his head the little tube was in his grasp he pulled it close to his face and frowned.

"What is this Isabella?" he asked and I shrugged it didn't matter anymore

"doesn't matter" I muttered as I leaned forward and started kissing his jaw and grinding myself against him.

He moaned and pulled my mouth to his sliding his tongue with mine in a sensual dance.

"Where did you get this" he said placing his hand on my chest pushing me back slightly

"A girl gave it to me, after you told her to what does it matter" I purred leaning back to him and running my tongue up his chin

"Focus!" he grunted out and slid his hand up my throat and held me there

"what?" I asked frustration coming

"I didn't tell anyone to give you anything" I listened but it took a few moments for his words to sink in

"Then what did I drink?" I asked looking at the tube again

The Sirens Of Devils Triangle

Hi Guys so sorry i havnet updated but i have been busy, also it doesnt seem a whole bunch of people are liking this novel but i will keep writing. I have posted another novel also so make sure to check it out! (Fighting the Darkness)

thx

Chapter 7

I paced back and forth in the dining room, I paced back and forth muttering things. If someone saw me they might think I was insane!

Hours passed, Ryker was sure to come back wasn't he? The question led my thoughts into another direction, the thought of his hands, his skin, his mouth on mine, the way I was fire in his hands.

Did I want him? Yes was it that simple? No.

"well well well, see I told K that Ryker was to smart for the simple little love potion" the high pitched girls voice snapped my attention to the doorway as the same blonde girl came in, she was wearing black leather, tight black leather and her eye makeup was so dark she was slightly frightening for being so short.

"Who are you?" I asked and she smiled and then slammed her black nail polished fingers onto the table that was there and then slid her finger across the shiny surface keeping her dark eyes on me.

"I'm K's secret weapon!" she chimed and stepped towards me her hips rolling like a cats.

"I'm not scared of you" I stated trying to waste time

"How do you know?" She whispered coyly and looked up to the ceiling and when she looked back at me her eyes were white and her hands started to glow a dark purple as she flung her hands forward, the purple came off as an orb and hit me in the chest, I tasted poison it made me cough and I fell to the floor.

"If you are going to kill me just do it already I'm not afraid to die" I choked out heaving air that tasted of sulfur

"But why would I kill you when you can suffer?"

"That's enough sister" I knew that voice and when I glanced up K was there walking towards me wearing a well tailored suit and his hair perfectly kept.

"but I was just having some fun" she whined

"I said enough! Your voice irritates me to no end!" he snapped at her and she rolled her eyes and sat on the corner of the table as he came over to me knelt and lifted me up.

"Ignore my sister she is still petty and going through her jealous stage" he muttered as he tucked my hair behind my ear.

"Why are you here again?" I asked he had made a deal to leave if he was given a mermaid and Shyra had gone with him!

"did you seriously think I would just leave?" he placed his thumb under my chin lifting my face to look at his

"oh please you can be serious" the blonde complained but K never even shot her a glance his attention was on me as he rubbed his thumb over my bottom lip.

The Sirens Of Devils Triangle

"I am very sorry that you are the one who has to be stuck in the middle of this ... but you see Ryker was responsible for my Jessica to perish, I have taken from him yes but I have never killed anyone, my secret you might be wondering... I send people to the surface"

"Please don't" I said as things were starting to click

"My dear you have to go to the surface he must think you are dead..... and I am also afraid that you will have to bleed for him to believe that as well" he yanked the dagger out of my grasp and dragged it over my arm, I would have screamed but my body was frozen in one spot, I couldn't move I couldn't scream... as the blood flowed out of my arm and wrist falling to the floor.

"You are going to let her live?" His sister screeched

"I am no murderer like you sister!" he snapped

"Its bad enough you keep that mermaid locked away feeding and taking care of her when she should just be put to the surface and burned!" she hissed

"You open your mouth again sister and I will remove your tongue!" K yelled and she shut her mouth.

"Now Isabella, goodbye" he whispered and placed a kiss to my frozen mouth and as I felt the hold on me slip I was on the beach.

"oh my god miss you need a ambulance!" a woman said coming over to me, my arm was still bleeding and only now was the pain starting to sink in.

the world started to get fuzzy from the blood loss and my head started to spin, blackness took over as I weaved in and out.

"Miss what is your name?" a man in a white coat asked

"Isabella Cruz" I moaned as I went under again.

I woke slowly opening my eyes to a hospital room.

"Honey?" my mothers voice pushed through the haze and her warm embrace made me start to cry.

"Mom" I cried and wrapped my good arm around her hugging her back

"we thought we had lost you!" she said her too crying.

"where the hell did you go sis?" Zack asked and held my hand I found my father's face at the end of the bed and I saw fresh tears in his eyes as well

"I missed you guys" I muttered but something wasn't right I felt it, something was wrong but what was it?

A few days passed and my apartment felt strange it was all exactly how it was but I still had the feeling that I wasn't supposed to be here.

Three days passed, I was falling back into my main routine of life.

The Sirens Of Devils Triangle

"What is your sudden fascination with the water?" Zack asked walking up and standing beside me on the beach in front of the family home.

"I don't know, I always have loved the water"

"yeah but now you are constantly down here fingers on that necklace of yours and starring off in a trance or something" he said and I felt the very slow click of my brain working, registering something, I pulled the necklace away from my neck and looked at it, it was beautiful... where had I gotten it?

"I just feel.... lost" I told him and he nodded slowly

"mom and pops don't want to admit it but there is no way you could have survived in the middle of the water for that long.... you know the stories Gran use to tell you?"

"Please don't tell me you believe them?" I said and laughed for the first time in nearly two weeks

"then please tell me how you survived being out there? What happened to your arm isa?" he was prying and I was getting frustrated.

"I don't know"

"I'm just saying there is a reason and maybe you feel lost because you weren't suppose to come back" he placed his hand on my shoulder gave a squeeze then walked away from me. Where had I been? I tried thinking back I remembered going out into the triangle and I remember drowning.... but the days after that were blank.

I squeezed the necklace pendant and sighed walking away from the shoreline and back up to the house where my parents were throwing a party for my return.

I stepped into the living room from the patio and as the white curtains blew in the wind things slowed and I got a whiff of strong salt from the water, and then my name on the breeze I turned but nothing was there.

"Honey are you okay?" my mother asked and I nodded "then lets talk to others yes, they are all here for you!" she said with a smile giving me a tight hug.

Something was missing.... Someone was missing....

Chapter 8

Days passed, more days things were falling into place but still felt different... wrong.

I sighed and placed the tea kettle on the stove as I slid my hands over my kitchen marble counter top and my eyes closed as images flashed through my head, a group of guys smiling and then a single face looking at me then away as a smile spread across his face. Then my voice rang out in my head a misty memory.

"I want to go home" when had I said that? Who had I said that too?

I grabbed the phone and dialed the number I promised myself never to again but I needed to know something and Grandmothers younger sister was gifted.

"Well hello Isabella I was expecting your call, get the door for me" she said and I dropped the phone back on the receiver and went to my front door and opened it for the tall witchy woman and she pushed passed me and went to my kitchen table placing a few scattered candles about and lighting them.

"Sit dear"

I sat and placed my hands palms up on the table, she placed her hands in mine and closed her eyes, but removed her hands as if I had burned her.

"well?" I asked pushing her, I knew she had to say something I knew she knew something by the grim line of her lips and the wrinkles on her cheeks deepening from the frown creasing her brows.

"My dear..... All I can tell you is what you seek lays in the heart of Devils triangle" I got to my feet and before I could walk away she grabbed my wrist "if you make this journey child you will not come back"

"I understand" I stated and she nodded, I couldn't contain myself I had to go I had to search and find what I was missing it was a strong force pulling me and I couldn't deny it.

I wrote a quick letter to my parents and brother saying I loved them and that I would always remember them but I had to do something and I might not come back, not to look for me as I was fine but to remember me too.

I slipped it under the front door of the house and then went to the marina and went to the family boat.

"So running away are we?" Zacks voice scared me and I jumped

"I'm not running away" I argued

"Fine fine, where can I drop you off?" he asked and I studied his face for a long while

"The triangle" I said sternly and he pursed his lips and nodded slowly then grinned

"Her stories were true weren't they sis?" he asked and I shrugged

"I really don't know I just know that I have to go down there or die trying"

The Sirens Of Devils Triangle

"He better be a hell of a guy Isa" he said as he started to prep the boat, fifteen minutes later we were heading towards the triangle and the salty air was thick and I closed my eyes again picturing his face the strong jaw the midnight blue eyes and my heart leapt my pulse quickened as I heard the thunder from the storm ahead.

Zack cut the engine just outside the triangle and came onto the deck with me

"You don't have a wet suit this time Isa, you are going to freeze before you get anywhere"

"have a little faith Zack I have been diving all my life, I will just make sure to get a good breath before diving in"

I kicked off my sandals and pulling off my light coat so that I was just left in my jean shorts and t-shirt.

"Isa..... don't die okay?" Zack said and I turned and wrapped my arms around him feeling the tears come to my eyes

"I wont I promise, tell mom and dad that I love them and to live don't wait on me"

"I will make sure they know you aren't dead someplace"

"thank you, I love you Zack" I said hugging him tighter

"Love you too sis" he let me go and I wiped the tears from my eyes and then stepped onto the ledge of the boat and looked back only once as I took a deep breath and jumped into the water, the water was cold but my determination was stronger as I swam into the triangle and when I no longer could see the boat and as the waves crashed all around me I looked to the sky to see the lightening strike violently across the sky.

I sucked in a deep breath and dove into the water pushing myself further down, further from the life saving air. All I could see was the bottom the sand and creatures, there was nothing but the floor and my lungs were already begging for air, screaming with want as I withheld air from m body.

All of a sudden the pendant started to glow and float towards the right I followed it pushing my arms kicking my legs, as I went deeper into the water.

A small silver stone lay on the sand and as my vision started spotting and my lungs heaved my finger tips grazed it, water moved quickly around me pulling me in every direction and knocking any air I had left in my lungs out and I inhaled water. I fell onto something hard and coughed violently and looked around I was in a room, with a whirling tunnel above me, a whirlpool spinning water and sand together quickly.

I pushed myself up slowly and when I was on my knees I heard footsteps approaching and then a mans face came into view, shock covered his face then he grinned

"He isn't going to believe this!" he said then came over to me pulling me up on my feet and hurrying me off someplace.

We entered a room full of battle gear, the walls were covered and piles on the floor the room was huge!

"Where is Ryker?" the man asked the others who were fighting with swords and laughing having a great time it seemed, that is until all their eyes turned to me and one by one their mouths fell open and they all pointed to the far door of the massive room.

The Sirens Of Devils Triangle

I was hurried over to it and pushed through it, then the door was shut and I stood there alone as I followed the sound of falling water. I peered around a marble corner and spotted a man under a heavy down pour of water, running from the spout like a waterfall, steam rose around him and off his bronze skin, I swallowed hard as my tongue felt swollen in my mouth and my throat dry. His head snapped up and his midnight blue eyes hit mine with the force of a truck and I almost stumbled backwards as mixed emotions ran over his face.

"Isabella?" My name on his lips sent shivers down my spine as I took a small step towards him, he took two large ones towards me and as soon as I was in arms reach he pulled me to him hard and pushed me up against the wall and searched my face. "Are you a trick?" he asked his voice almost non-existent.

"No" I whispered before his mouth claimed mine and I moaned as memories started flooding my head, every touch every moment flooding consuming me as his hot wet skin molded to me.

His hands pushed up my shirt and pushed down my shorts in a few seconds, and he lifted my leg holding it to his hip, I supported my weight on the clear wall behind me, the blue hue of the water making his bronze skin look pale and glow slightly.

The thick rigid shaft of steel was wedged tightly against me and as he grinded himself against me I moaned out again my hands clutching his shoulders and neck as I lifted myself up higher on him and in the next second I was impaled on him, we groaned together as he rested his forehead on mine and then started moving his hips slowly.

He carried me back to the shower he was under a few moments ago and the hot water hit my back before he rested my spine against the cool wall again and adjusted so the pour of water was lined up to fall between us and run smoothly over my clit and it made my tighten around him as he moved inside me faster now.

"I love you" I whispered and his mouth claimed mine in a fierce kiss before he drew back and looked me in the eyes

"and I love you Isabella Cruz"

I was coming apart in his hands, hot wet and on fire, my climax was climbing quickly and was about to bubble over, my thighs gripped his hips and I felt Ryker's hands grip my thighs harder, as he thrust into me faster and deeper, pulling me down onto him.

I moaned out as ecstasy claimed me and he groaned soon after, I rested my forehead on his shoulder letting the waves pass over me.

"I thought you were dead" he said his breathing just as hard as mine.

"I don't die that easily" I joked and we both smiled but his faded quickly

"how did you get away" he asked as he lowered me to the floor and turned me around running kisses along my shoulder and neck.

"He didn't kill me he did try to" I told him and his lips slowed

"He just sent you to the surface?" he didn't sound like he believed me

"Yes" he turned me back around so I was facing him and I watched as his shoulders squared as his doubt flooded his features.

The Sirens Of Devils Triangle

"Who else has he sent to the surface?" he asked and grabbed my arms roughly and I realized it wasn't doubt but the sick sinking in feeling of who he had lost a long time ago.

"He hasn't ever killed anyone... he sent her to the surface too" I said and his jaw went tight and he got out of the shower and walked out of the room, I ran after him vaguely aware of the fact clothes started fitting over my body as I took each step.

"Ryker please!" I said as I entered the battle room and my voice echoed, he didn't stop as he walked towards the exit.

"She didn't come back I did" I yelled after him and his feet slowed and I knew it was unfair of me to say. The brothers all placed their weapons down and left the room in haste.

"It was a long time ago Isabella it doesn't matter anymore" he growled out but still hadn't turned to look at me

"Then what is wrong?" I asked begging him to tell me to let me in

"Nothing" he spat out

"That's a lie" I said and walked forward but he was still a fair ways away from me but he looked over his shoulder at me and closed his eyes and sighed

"I... I wished her dead... so that I didn't have to worry about her coming back now that I do not love her anymore... I know it is a foolish thought as it has been a very long time and she has probably grown old and has passed on but I wished her dead!"

I walked slowly to him and touched his arm slowly turning him around to face me

"She was lucky to have you but not everyone gets their happy ending... she probably married had children and grand children she most likely had a good life.... No wishing her dead was wrong but it was a fleeting moment... just know that you loved her and that you can remember her"

Chapter 9

I looked at the cards laid out in front of me and the frustration increased.

"I give up I cannot play this damn game!" I said groaning and placing my head in my hands.

It was a game to do with numbers and wits, and something about magic but I couldn't play it was just too hard and I didn't understand it.

Ryker laughed and smiled

"Come on its easy" he said standing and coming over to where I was sitting and stood behind me leaning down so his head was beside mine as he looked at my cards in my hands.

"Not easy" I argued

"it is, look, you use one of your cards to spell the other one it is simple, so if you place this card with the red heart onto the steam what do you get?" he asked

"heartburn?" I suggested and he laughed again

"No, you get lust" he pulled the card out of my hands and placed it over the card with the whirling rising steam. Ryker groaned and I was unsure what was wrong I glanced at him and he grabbed his cards from his side of the table then placed something that resembled a half eight onto the card that looked like a lightning strike and the room dimmed and lightening went across the ceiling.

He pointed to the card that had a heart intertwined with another one and then pointed to the heart I had already played I placed it on the table and felt the magic shoot up my arm and deep into my system as lust filled me and the desire for sex overrode the desire to play the stupid game.

"Now Isabella the point of the game is to deny the magic to win by not giving in" he said as a grin crossed his face as I turned to him and slowly started to rise in my seat.

"I don't care for this game anymore" I said and with that he pushed the game to the floor and leaned me back against it running his mouth along my neck and kissing my lips hard. But as he pulled back it wasn't Ryker who I had been kissing it was K and he gave a wicked smile and licked his lips as he pushed his hips forward and grinded on me privately and to my astonishment I moaned.

I sat up in bed and looked around, it was dark in the room, Ryker was gone the bed empty beside me but as my eyes searched the darkness I found a figure in the corner.

"Awake finally?" K said sounding bored "It really was too easy to slip into your dreams and take control, you were having such an erotic wet dream too, Have you even played that game?" he asked and I pulled the blanket up around my naked chest as my necklace was missing. "I didn't want you running off on me" He said and held up my necklace between his fingers.

"Why are you here?" I asked and he came forward.

The Sirens Of Devils Triangle

"I sent you to the surface, and you come back! What part of I want him to suffer do you not understand?" he asked, he stood right next to the bed and I could see the tension in his jaw and the hate in his eyes as he glared down at me.

"I didn't know what I was doing when I came back" I said and swallowed hard as he tisked his tongue at me

"I want you to do something for me" he said and held out his hand to me with my necklace on it I reached for it and he yanked his hand back "not until you agree"

"What do you want me to do?" I asked and he smiled

"I want you to take this drink it and go to Ryker" he said but as he looked over his shoulder something flashed over his features but it was gone too fast for me to see it properly he handed me a small vile with a shiny green liquid inside and I hesitated

"and it I don't?" I asked and he frowned

"I will slit his throat" he snapped I took the vile and brought it to my lips. And poured it in and swallowed.

"What are you doing here Irania?" I heard but my body started to tingle my skin started to tighten and the K by the bed started to shift bones breaking and cracking noises filled the air as he turned into a small petite blonde girl as she let out a low growl of a moan as her face finished changing.

"What did you give her?" the real K asked as he came over to me and laid me down as I was feeling odd, not right but I couldn't pin point it.

"Green sea" she hissed and then giggled as she climbed up on the bed and on top of me as she straddled my hips forcing me hard onto the bed and she placed her hands on either side of my face looking into my eyes

"Why do you insist on giving her sex magic" growled K and she giggled again

"because it is so much fun.I fixed this one, I added a bit of kraken in it" she whispered and cocked her head to the side and gave her brother a smile.

"that means..." K trailed off as he too looked into my eyes and then frowned slightly but a slow smile crossed his face and he shook his head, Irania took his hand and then they were gone.

I laid there as my skin tightened further, my breasts tingled and pussy started throbbing tightening more and more, something wasn't right.

"Ryker!" I screamed but it came out as a moan

It only took him a few seconds before he was in the room and he looked at me concern crossed his face as he came over to me and his eyes caught mine.

"What happened?" he asked and I gave him the bottle that was still grasped in my hand

"Irania gave it to me and ... I drank it" she said and he dipped his pinky finger into the opening then brought it to his mouth and tasted it and all but growled out his anger as it flared.

"How long ago?" he asked dead serious

The Sirens Of Devils Triangle

"About fifteen minutes" I moaned again and arched my back off the bed.

"Don't move I will be right back" he said and left quickly.

He returned with Romeo on his heels but he stayed out of the room as he handed Ryker a bottle of something pink.

"Hope you make it bro" he said and then left Ryker came over to me and pulled the blanket down, slowly and the touch of it over my skin was electric.

"Now listen to me, The potion you drank is a strong one, it wont harm you ... really... it pretty much put you in extreme needing... if we don't have sex you will be like this forever, it has to be .. for a lack of a better word pounded out of your system"

"Do it!" I almost screamed " why do you look so worried" I asked my voice begging and urgent

"because.... because this potion makes you tight.... really tight and bloody hell you were already fucking tight" he groaned as he grabbed onto my ankle and his mere touch sent a shiver over my skin. "I might hurt you sweetheart" he said and I was already shaking my head, I didn't care the need was increasing.

"what did Romeo give you?" I asked as his hand slid up my calf to my knee as he pulled me towards him slightly

"don't worry about that" he cooed as he kissed the inside of my knee gently and my hips bucked

"just fuck me already!" I groaned and he actually chuckled slightly as he pulled me closer so he was between my trembling thighs and I felt him nudge the head of his cock against me and I shivered again.

"I want you to take a deep breath" he said and I nodded as he started to push forward, curses being muttered under his breath as he pushed forwards more and it started stinging as he pushed forwards more.

"stop" I said as the pain increased

"I cant" he said and pulled my hips towards him fast and hard then didn't move as my pussy clenched and tightened around him hard and a shiver ran over his shoulders

"I want you to drink this" he said handing me the pink bottle

"what is it?" I asked

"it will make things easier" he said and I nodded drinking it down and it faintly tasted like bubble gum as he started to move his hips slightly but everytime he did I tightened and he couldn't move. After a few minutes the need was replaced with desire and he started moving his hips again pulling almost all the way out and slamming back into me and pushing a moan out of me each and everytime.

"harder" I practically screamed as he flipped me over and in one swift motion had me on my knees as he pumped from behind.

"when you cum I want you to hold it as long as you can that way it will be powerful enough to knock you out and you should be fine after that" he said quickly and only part of me heard him but I nodded as his hand reached for something but I closed my eyes loving the feeling of him sliding into me. "don't jump it's a special pearl" he whispered and he reached around me and his finger rubbed my clit a couple of times which almost put me over the edge, then something cool and hard was placed where his fingers were and it started vibrating hard and I moaned loudly my arms giving out as he started picking up his pace of his thrusts.

"hold it" he grunted and my breaths started to come out short as my chest contracted and my legs trembled.

"I cant" I moaned

"I'm not fucking around hold it!" he groaned and his hands held my hips hard

I held it as long as I could my legs shook and I couldn't breath but I couldn't hold it any longer as I cried out but Ryker didn't let up and the pearl increased pressure and vibrating on my clit as each explosive wave hit me over and over, each wave of pleasure causing the pearl to grow more intense until I couldn't suck in an air into my lungs.

"Ryker!" I said his name as came apart, my vision spotted and everything went black.

I came to and Ryker was brushing my hair behind my ear.

"You okay?" he asked and I nodded "good thank god I don't think I could of held off any longer" he said a smile on his face

I was slightly embarrassed with what just happened as he reached over me and grabbed a small white pearl

"what's this?" I asked and he dragged his finger over it as he placed it in my palm and it buzzed to life.

"These belong to the sea fairies they are very powerful and a pretty perfect cure for the magic you drank from Irania"

"I see" I glanced away from his face, he was so stunningly handsome and it almost hurt my pride to know I wasn't any match for him.

"Do not look away from me Isabella you are a beautiful creature one I intended to explore fully, every little inch of you" he purred and brought my hand to his lips and placed a kiss to the inside of my wrist.

"I am just a bit.... embarrassed that all"

"Don't be, but I do suggest to stop drinking things that could pose harm to you" he stated and I nodded.

"now how about a bath?" he asked and picked me up walking with me to the bathroom.

We both slid into the hot water and I nearly moaned out loud as the hot water warmed me and almost penetrated all my muscles.

Ryker gave me a slow lazy smile as I opened my eyes to find him looking at me, then he sank deeper into the water and disappeared out of my site, I frowned unsure as to what he was doing when I felt his hands grab both my ankles and pull me down, I managed to get a breath in before my face went under the water.

"swim with me" he said and like before I could hear him perfectly under the water, he came over to me and kissed me and I was able to suck in a breath through him.

The Sirens Of Devils Triangle

"breathe" he said and I shook my head we were underwater "trust me" I took in a very small inhale and was surprised to find that I could breathe

"My secret now swim with me, I want to show you something" he grabbed my hand and we started to swim deep down into the water, as the water spread out and turned into the wide span of nothing but blue I was shocked once again, the bath tub just was connected to the outside world.

"The ruins you are about to see are what I protect, no one can touch them except the sirens or it would mean very bad news for the world" he spoke clearly as he pulled me deeper into the water and giant rocks came into focus, they had marking all over them and glowed slightly, I wanted to touch them I really did but I resisted.

"go ahead Isabella touch, feel what the ancestors think of you"

I gave him a bewildered face, he just finished saying he was the only one to touch them

"no evil is allowed touching them" I said and I nodded, he took my hand and pushed it towards the ruin, his finger stayed on mine as my palm came to rest on the hot surface. Light flooded my vision and I was thrust into a dream like state as voices drifted through the now milky water.

"She is magnificent"

"she will make your son happy over the years"

"Ryker my son I am happy you have found love"

"don't trust her just yet, I don't trust anyone who isn't siren"

"she has good child bearing hips"

"god what I would give to be back among the living"

"My son ignore them they have been in here too long and have not seen the likes of a beautiful woman for some time, she must mean a great deal to you for you to show her the ruins, but now you have also put her in more danger then she had been in, you understand that she is only mortal, that sooner or later a choice will have to be made"

Like that things snapped back and Ryker pulled my hand away

"come on" he said and pulled me away from the rocks that were seemingly heating the water, I swam quickly trying to keep pace with Ryker but it was nearly impossible he swam much faster as if he were angry.

I followed him out of the opening for the bath and as I broke the surface he was getting out

"Ryker what's wrong?" I asked and he turned, was he crying?

"I had no idea" he stated

"what?"

"that my father was among them"

The Sirens Of Devils Triangle

I went over to him hugging him and his head dropped to my shoulder and I could hear the hum of the blood rushing in his veins as he wrapped his arms around me and the hot blood male part of his brain kicked in and he pulled me snugly against him.

"Ryker you in there?" John's voice sounded off

"yes" Ryker responded and left the bathroom

I followed after I dressed. He was pacing as John spoke

"we need to get her back you don't know what they are doing to her down there" John spoke of Shyra and I felt guilty for not remembering but I did now and he was right we had to get her back.

"We have to get her, he is right" I spoke and both men looked at me and Ryker shook his head

"there is no we Isabella this doesn't concern you"

"it sure the hell does, she went in my place and I'm going to get her back!" I snapped at him and he shook his head

"I will lock you in the god damn room if I have to but you are not leaving this palace"

"you can't stop me" I countered and stepped right in his face

"I will tie you to the bed and you will not move!" he yelled back

"that's abuse!" I shrieked

"maybe on land but down here what I say is what happens and I'm telling you no!"

"and I'm telling you, you can't boss me around like you do your brothers!"

"woman you infuriate me" he said and I watched as John left the room slowly backing away as if we were going to explode.

"You are pig headed and annoying!"

"calling names is not nice Isabella"

"yeah well neither is telling me I cannot help!"

"I'm not having you anywhere near them again! If his sister even catches a wiff of ruin on your skin she will have you so fast I won't be able to stop her, she uses magic I cannot go against her in a battle she tricks and doesn't play fair"

"just let me help you" I said defeated but he shook his head

"I won't be able to concentrate on a fight if I'm trying to figure out if you are alright"

I sighed and walked over to the bed I was spent and I laid down. I would think more clearly after sleeping I was tired of arguing and the fact was I hated to fight with him I hated to get his blood boiling and I hated my anger getting in the way with his point of view.

So I would sleep on it.

Chapter 10

I had slept on it and didn't feel any different, I was going and that was that and no one was going to tell me differently!

"For god sakes Isabella you are keeping your ass here, even if I have to tie you to the bed or chair or any other furniture that will keep you here!" Ryker snapped while he slid his sword into its holster and it made a loud clank sound.

"I hope you are going to keep that promise because you are not stopping me from coming!"

Romeo glanced at both of us along with the other brothers and all at the same time took a step backwards as Ryker turned towards me and grabbed my arm roughly and in a flash had me up and over his shoulder. I beat on his back and kicked trying to get away but he didn't budge and made a point of how he was in control as he slid his hand over my ass.

"Let me go!" I screamed

He dropped me onto the large chair in the lounge room and Romeo handed him Gold rope and he tied me down.

"You are not leaving this palace and that's that!" he tied the last knot and then him and his brothers walked out of the wall into the water without me.

I wiggled and squirmed until the ropes loosened and I got my hands free, I pulled out of the restraints completely and then ran to Ryker's office and dug through papers trying to find a clue as to where K was keeping Shyra.

A large picture caught my attention and I studied it. The large palace then a darker place covered by the rocks, I ran my hand over the canvas and let out an uneasy breath.

I grabbed a small dagger off the wall and proceeded to the same wall Ryker had left, I took in a big breath of air then walked through it, I tested to see if I could still breathe and as I drew in water into my mouth I smiled as I didn't start aspirating on the water.

The swim took longer than I had expected before I found the caves.

I swam into the first entrance I found and fell hard onto the rock ground, pain sliced through my arm and when I looked at it deep crimson had stained my skin. Great.

I snuck forwards through the caves, they were lit by candles and water dripped from every surface.

I heard talking and stopped peering around the corner.

"Sister, we need to get out of here" K said and her shrill laughter echoed through the mass cave

"Brother, have you forgotten why we are here? You brother are going to take her and she will have your son"

The Sirens Of Devils Triangle

"she isn't who you said she was going to be, to take her I must force her into it and I don't want that, I'm not like you"

I watched as she grabbed K around the throat and slammed him against the wall hard

"you will do this for our father, you will fuck that little bitch, and you want to know something brother, the moment she likes it will be the moment that will rip apart poor Ryker" she hissed she dropped him and he glared at her

"I'm not forcing her into anything"

"well how did you think this was going to play out! She was going to fall in love with you and you two would live happily ever after?" she spoke harshly

He was silent for a moment

"I'm not forcing her" K muttered but sounded defeated

"you will" she said and placed her hand on his chest and I watched as a deep purple glow came from her hand and spread across his chest which heaved.

"She is here" he spat out

"yes I can smell her as well, go find her and make your son so we can raise the army against the sirens!"

"yes sister"

I ran down the nearest hall trying to hide. Ryker knew this, this is why he didn't want me here.

I came to a room with cages and bright red hair caught my attention

"shyra?" I whispered and her head snapped towards me she looked sick and pale

"you shouldn't be here" she whispered back and grabbed onto one of the bars

"Ryker is here with the guys they came to get you, I couldn't stay and wait for them to return I had to help"

"She has a horrible plan Isabella you need to leave!" she hissed her features twisting into pain as she pulled herself so she stood there.

"Not until I get you out of here" I grabbed the set of keys off the ground and went to the lock and got it open on the first try and yanked open the heavy barred door.

"I need the water, I'm drying out" she coughed

We went through the halls but everything looked the same, nothing was open for us to get out, it was just cave hall after cave hall.

After a long while we found a hole big enough for us to squeeze through, I pushed Shyra up so she could wiggle through first she got out into the open water and then she reached back inside to help me through, I pulled myself up.

The Sirens Of Devils Triangle

Arms wrapped around my waist and I was yanked away from the exit, Shyra tried pushing herself through again but she was too big now with her tail and so she was half way through and she looked at me.

"go mermaid, find Ryker and bring him here, so he can watch me take his bride" K hissed and Shyra hissed back at him her voice high pitched

"he will kill you" and with that she was gone.

K was strong I would give him that as he pulled me through the halls and too a vast cave space looked like the dining room as there was a large wood table in the middle of it.

"good brother"

How had she become the boss? Things weren't right.

K slammed me down onto the table and his sister climbed on the table as well and grabbed my wrists holding them down hard so I couldn't move.

"Please don't do this" I cried to K but his eyes were glazed over.

"Shut up Isabella your voice annoys me" she snapped

"when did you take over the power?" I asked as K stood there looking at me, looking at me with a hunger I didn't like.

"when he sent you to the surface, he let you go when you were suppose to be here spread out like this for him to fuck. He tried sending me away but I'm stronger then he thought and I overtook him"

K pulled me towards the end of the table so my legs hung over and I struggled harder but between the two of them I was helpless, I had no power to move. He pulled off the necklace and my clothes disappeared.

K got between my legs and his very large shaft bumped against me and I tried jerking away but both of them held me in place.

"Get away from her!" I turned my head towards the sound and Ryker stood there with his brothers sword in hand and seething.

"your too late" K said and pushed forward with his hips, burying himself deep inside me and I slammed my eyes shut as tears sprang to my eyes. His sisters started laughing as K started thrusting hard against me, hard enough to push me up the table so he had to keep pulling me back towards him.

There was a roar of anger and I saw Ryker and his brothers rushing forward.

"Stay where you are sirens or I slit her throat!" K's sister warned and let go of my wrists placing one hand over my neck something sharp poked my skin. They stopped.

K leaned down over me his lips by my ear.

"I'm sorry" his breathing was hard and his breath hot on my skin "when I let your leg go kick me as hard as you can and slip out of her grasp, she wont kill you she wants you alive" he spoke hushed barley loud enough for me to hear

Note- So i knwo it has been a while but i have been a bit stuck with the novel, so i am sorry this chapter well really sucks! Now that the sister is dead im not sure how many chapters are going to be added mabey a couple.

I have been working on a teen supernatural romance so will post that here soon, i might also upload another story but it wont be supernatural more like "Just another walk in the park"

Thanks => K

Chapter 11

Things seemed to be going better, almost a happy ending.

I wanted this to be the happy ending but something was nagging it was pulling everyone the wrong way. Pushing us all, it wasn't anything in particular just something was off. Not to mention everyone avoided me like the plague, it had been almost a month since that night and it wasn't as bad as everyone was thinking, yes it scared me and yes it wasn't something I enjoyed ... But I wasn't dead.

Ryker has barely touched me, he no longer hardly looks at me and I am stuck as to what to do.

"Shyra it just is he wont even look at me!" I said sitting on her bed and she sighed

"Men are ... difficult that way, They think we are the damsels and when we stand up to what goes wrong and face it they no longer feel needed"

"But I do need him!" I groaned and she laughed slightly

"He knows that too, but when men see what other men can do... it damages their pride, it is all very confusing I know, you just have to grab him and show him that you wont break that you are not made of glass and that you love him"

"I tried the other night you know what he did? I sat up and put my hands on my knees "he got out of bed making a bullshit story how he needed to talk to his brothers"

She came over to me and rested her cool hands on my bare shoulders

"I will help" she gave a small squeeze. "but! You have to promise me that you will show that man the time of his life"

I nodded and she grinned then pushed me out of her room and waved to me as she shut the door

It wasn't long before I knew Shyra was up to something. No one was in the palace not a soul, the brothers were nowhere to be seen and in every inch of the hallway candles were set on the floor lining the halls , I smiled to myself.

I glanced towards the water as red hair caught my eye she poked her head through the wall and smiled her hair dripping water onto the floor.

"So everyone is out, he should be in the library... I kinda locked him in there... after knocking him out.... with wine... that was enchanted... anyways he is in there go and get that boy up! Make sure you be irresistible, change your outfit to be a bit more.... black lacy that will drive him mad!"

"Thank you"

"No problem now go and get him before he wakes up and breaks down the door"

I smiled and nodded, I headed towards the library and I flipped the lock of the door and walked in side scanning the area for him... he was on the floor on his back.

Kneeling beside him I stroked his face

"Ryker?" he groaned something "Ryker? Hey what are you doing on the floor?" I asked knowing full well what had happened

"I'm going to kill her!" he spat out shoving himself to his feet knocking me backwards "shit sorry" he knelt beside me helping me to my feet again but slowly this time.

"Who are you killing?" I asked not letting his hand go even as he tried to pull it from mine

"Shyra, she gave me enchanted wine!" he spat

"are you sure?" I spoke softly

"Yes I am sure, she was the one who gave it to me, when is the last time she was nice to me?" he grumbled and grabbed the glass of spilled wine and smelled it frowning.

"maybe she had a good reason too"

"like what? And where the hell is everyone I cannot hear anything"

"not sure, looks like just us"

"well I should go and see where they are" he started to walk away and I pulled on him

"why not stay here?" I asked slowly concentrating on switching my outfit so it was black and lacy just like Shyra told me to do

He turned slowly and his jaw went tight as he looked at me

"Isabella, I cant" he said pulling his hand again

"No!" I said louder then I intended

"I cant, you have been through-" I placed a finger on his lips silencing him

"I'm not made of glass, I will not break" I whispered and he groaned closing his eyes

"they did -"

"shh, please Ryker please I just want you to touch me I'm not asking for us to do anything else I want you to hold me to touch me please I'm begging you!"

"Isabella, i...." he stopped as I trailed his hand up my arm and his eyes watched the movement as I continued over my bare shoulder and up the side of my neck. I stepped closer to him and placed my hand on his chest and he sucked in a breath.

"This is all I'm asking for" I murmured.

He gave a defeated groan and his eyes closed as my hand slid up his chest further then feather light over his shoulder down his arm to his hand and tangling my fingers with his. I felt him twitch and then he pulled me too him and his mouth crushed mine his tongue parting my lips as it demanded access and yet he was still holding back I could feel it in his tense hands as he held my hand and neck, not moving.

I pulled his hips towards me by the top of his pants and his hands scrapped up my side pulling the lace up with them his fingers finding the necklace as he toyed with it for a moment before pulling it off my neck, clothes coming off in an instant and his hands came up to cup my breast each thumb brushing over the hardened bud and a slight moan came from my lips.

"tell me to stop and I will" he said, but before I could say anything his mouth covered mine again in a hungry demanding kiss that had my legs turn to wet noodles and my heart beat faster.

He grabbed my waist and lifted me up my back side coming to rest on top of the library table the cool gold chilled my skin as his clothes disappeared as well and I smiled as I looked at his glorious body.

He picked me up again and almost roughly slammed me against the bookshelves mumbling a sorry as his mouth followed the trail of my jaw down my neck to my shoulder, I wrapped my legs around his hips holding myself to him, his hands holding me up as well.

"you ready?" he asked and I nodded breathlessly as he reached in between us and grabbed his thick long shaft and with one hard thrust was buried deep inside me and I moaned loudly as he started moving his hips.

I wrapped my arms around his neck as we moved together in the times oldest sensual dance.

It wasn't long before both of us were panting and both of us covered in a fine sheen of sweat, I was close and he was too.

The world exploded into bliss as I came hard and held myself as best I could to him as he came too with a loud grunt and his body pushed mine harder into the bookshelves.

"you tempt with fire Isabella"

"I know full well what I'm playing with and it certainly isn't fire" I mumbled as I kissed him hard pulling his mouth closer to me with my hands, my arms wrapping around his neck to pull him closer again. I could feel his need rising and hardening once again as he kissed me back harder.

"You Isabella sure be the siren not I" I smiled and placed my lips back to his.

He carried me out of the library, but I didn't care where he was taking me.

We found his room and he rushed me to the bed dropping me there, but his body covered mine quickly his weight crushing me but it was the best feeling as he sheathed himself once again inside of me and started thrusting hard, in slow precise strokes.

I placed my hands above my head to stop myself from moving up the bed from Ryker's powerful thrusts.

"God Isabella you are so tight" he groaned and his hand snaked its way up from my ribs, over my breast and up still until it found my wrist and he held me there.

"I love you" I said breathless and he kissed me sweeping his tongue over my bottom lip, then touching mine softly.

After another earth shattering orgasm we laid silent with my head on his chest and his arm around me, both of us savoring this moment.

"I have a question for you" he murmured and trailed his fingers up and down my arm

"hmm?"

"Would you, live down here with me forever?"

"you know the answer, I love you I'm not going anywhere"

"then you must drink from me, a sirens blood will keep you young and alive forever, as long as I am alive you will be too"

"your blood?" I asked sitting up

"just a drop" I nodded

He grabbed his sword off the floor and brought it to his hand, sliding the blade down his finger, crimson blood spilled out. I hesitated only for a second before bringing it to my mouth and licking the drop off.

"you are bound to me forever Isabella Cruz"

I smiled and kissed him gently

Five years later

"Darling where are you?" I called down the hall

"I'm here mommy" my Daughters voice rang through the hall, I followed it to the arena

"What are you doing in here sweet heart?"

"Daddy, I could hear him... calling me" she spoke with a slight sob in his voice

"Well then lets go find him!" I said picking up my three year old daughter

Ryker was sitting in the dining hall with his brothers who grinned when I walked in

"What's wrong sweet pea?" Ryker asked taking Briden from me

"I could hear the song" she whispered and the room went silent

"What song?" Ryker asked softly

"The song of the sirens"

"Gifted kid" Romeo said standing and taking his niece from Ryker and walking out of the room with him

"Lets go play monsters" I heard him say before they were both gone

"What does that mean Ryker?" I asked and he sighed

"it means she is a siren, and she is developing faster than normal. She may be the leader when I am gone"

I frowned "don't worry, that won't be for a very long time, not when I have you in between my sheets every night" He grinned and I slapped his arm

"Fine lets go play monsters, then you can explain exactly how you plan to keep me in between your sheets"

We laughed as we walked down the hall, he wrapped his arm around my shoulders and I smiled. I was happy , this was my life and I loved every part of it.

The end
