

The Dragon Elements. A brief history

By : LaceyGerardMonroe

This is my novel. I am posting this as a raft draft. Please note that none of the names nor the name of the book is for certain yet but overall this is where I want to begin. I'll love your opinion on this please would love to know if this needs more work or if I can start writing the first chapter...

The Dragon Elements. A brief history.

5 Million years ago 4 gods and 1 goddess decided to use their elemental powers to create a world filled with people of different sorts and creatures such as centaurs, trolls, Truns and Gonda. The six main peoples were called Men, Elves, Goblins, Orcs, Dwarfs and Eaglonians. Each differs from the other in sense of looks, desires and abilities.

¶

The elves gained immortality, but the dwarfs gained ages up to 800 years old so the decision was made that one group of men will be called the Nomaty tribe. They will as well gain immortality. Men only grow to 90 at most.

¶

The Goblins gained a life span of 500 + years and the orcs as well. Eaglonians also gained immortality and along with the Elves a rare form of wisdom.

¶

This world consisted out of 4 elements: Earth from the god Eon.

Water from the god Peslecto.

Fire from the god Eshnur

Wind from the goddess Ria.

All of this was overlooked and controlled by the king of gods, Osarli.

The gods, not wanting to be continuously irritated by the peoples, decided to give the world a gift that will keep all of it at piece. The gods so doing made sure of no religion and tried to ensure that they will never have to help this world maintain a balance.

They created 7 sirens in the form of men women. These sirens also gained immortality, but if one should fall to sickness or a blade another shall be soon after born. They gained the gift of magic and the power of the 4 elements. Also they received intelligence and wisdom not even matched by the elves or eaglonians. They were the piece keepers and also the keepers of nature's balance. In each war their hand across all nine oceans.

20000 Years ago a great war between kingdoms of men and realms of elves broke out. The eaglonian tribe Wartlats finally saw a chance to gain the wealth that the kingdom of Etra had and attacked. Goblins and orcs joining their armies attacked the dwarfs for they wanted the mines the dwarf clan Uancia had. The world broke out into war having other creatures dragged in.

The Dragon Elements. A brief history

¶½

A couple of creatures and people decided that they wanted no part of this unnecessary war and in the heart of the forest Liara they started building farms and houses. They stayed there and not minding all. This they called the Woodland.

¶½

The sirens out of which 4 were still originals sworn them and all sirens to follow to Woodland. As the gods see this they knew that their world will fall. The sirens shall keep the forest growing and expanding while they stop caring about the world.

¶½

So they each created a dragon The wind dragons, fire dragons water dragons and elemental dragons. These dragons soon restored balance but retreated themselves to their own worlds.
