Sitting alone in the dark , wishing someone was there who cared about who you are , what you want to do and in your heart you wonder , why canât someone just see that your wanting attention and to be respected, you donât want to get infected with all that media bullshit about how your supposed sit , act and talk all that shit just pisses you off. You think about ending it all and taking a fall to ease the pain that you feel running threw you with every emotion you ever knew goes through your mind and you lose track of time. Without reason or rhyme you think this world would be better off without you. Let me tell you that isnât true.

It gets better man, I know right now that life seems so bland , and someday youâll find that one thing that makes life worth living , worth sinning , worth giving everything that you can bring to the table and if you are able to make it through the here , now and the present , I can promise you that it will pleasant later on in your life , you may even have a wife and kids. So before you put that bullet in the gun and cock it and pull it , think about the one person you want to be , the things you want to see before your life is through, and I promise you , it gets better man.

When you think youâve tried the best you can and you know that you should go and that your time on earth should be through , let me tell you, what about your family and friends? Would they like how this all ends?

What about the person who finds you man, do you think that all those people will understand? You can write a note and Iâm sure everyone will read it, but they wonât believe it. If seeing is believing , then what they see is what theyâll believe so tell them how you feel , be real with them. If no one will listen then find someone that will. Someone that gives a damn about how you think , feel and act, someone thatâs got your back. If no oneâs around and all you hear is the sound of your own voice echoing into the bliss, remember this

It gets better man, I know right now that life seems so bland , and someday youâll find that one thing that makes life worth living , worth sinning , worth giving everything that you can bring to the table and if you are able to make it through the here , now and the present , I can promise you that it will pleasant later on in your life , you may even have a wife and kids. So before you put that bullet in the gun and cock it and pull it , think about the one person you want to be , the things you want to see before your life is through, and I promise you , it gets better man.

Know in your heart that itâs ok to cry , itâs ok to sigh and take a deep breath and let it out slow. I want you to know that real men cry like a baby when no one is looking. Life is worth living no matter what hand your given. And that were every your path may lead you can succeed if you know one thing.

It gets better man, I know right now that life seems so bland , and someday youâll find that one thing that makes life worth living , worth sinning , worth giving everything that you can bring to the table and if you are able to make it through the here , now and the present , I can promise you that it will pleasant later on in your life , you may even have a wife and kids.
