Marvelled at Nature

Marvelled at Nature

When I went ice fishing, I pulled up a rusty coat hanger, and oh my heavens, that shouldn't be People throw their garbage, they really think all this stuff is good for the sea

I put the coat hanger on a bank, near a great beaver's dam

I quickly left for lunch, later back to fish with my good friend Sam

When we reach the spot, I was so amazed, truly, a beaver can be very smart

Because that same coat hanger was perfectly shaped into a lovely heart

I turned to my friend, "Can this be real, did a beaver make a heart for some fun?"

We now see the beaver holding a sign,

Always recycle, young and old, everyone!

Happy Valentine's Day, Feb.14, 2012.
