

Something for John Quixote to Wear

By : Mistress of Word Play

I am giving my friend John this gift, because he fills my days with laughter and smiles. I hope he likes it half as much as I enjoy his stories.

Something for John Quixote to Wear

â Oh no!â John cried, â I have nothing to wear.â
In a panic and frenzy he searched everywhere.
He asked his sister and his mother, too.
They couldnâ t help him so he felt blue.

He asked his girlfriend but she said, â Not me.â
He was all in a tizzy by a quarter past three.
Then he messaged a friend from Booksie.
She offered to help and laughed with glee.

Susan presented him an outfit he might adore
something that would make John hard to ignore.
A note was added and a big curly red bow
I hope John likes it, please let me know.

For you John I found this just hanging around and it had your name all over it.
Thank you for all the joy you bring. Susan
