Three friends

Dear FRIEND,

I wrote you a little story for you. Itâs a story about the friendship between three friends.
Warning: you are not allowed to correct my grammar.

Once upon a time there lived three girls in a small village, named ke, ell, and tom. They were the only kids in the village so they would never fight and always played together. As time fly, so did the kids, they changed, ell loved video games, ke loved reading, and tom loved playing but that didnât change their friendship, well until he came to our village. His name was dean he was as pretty as a women but manlier than any man. Ke has fallen in love. It wasnât long before she found out ell and tom fallen for him too. One night ell and ke started to fight over dean. Tom tried to stop them but they wouldnât. Tom just wanted everything go back and this problem to disappear so they can have the fun days again. Tom has made a plan to make everything alright again. The next night tom invited dean, ell, and ke to go camping. They played tag, they fished, and sang songs. Everyone fall asleep by the camp fire but tom was while awake. Tom reached inside her bag and got out a knife, tom went closer to dean and touched deanâs face and she jumped and started to stab ell. Ke woke up from the blood that flowed on her face and ke was speechless. Tom started to go closer to ke and said âI did it for youâ. Ke couldnât say anything or even move. Tom hugged Ke, ke feel something cold on her back. It was a knife, tom was stabbing her from the back! Ke died before she realized what has happened. Tom left everything and grabbed dean and disappeared into the woods. They were never seen again. The end.
