I quit.

I quit.

I'm a mistake born in a sand dune a single rose with it's head down facing the harsh weather alone.

At the moment I'm so Down I never dreamt of such a thing as up.

Nothin ever seem to go my way selfish in my own ambition but whom is not.

You were a mistake also the bee sting of realization hurts right!

Sometimes I wish I could shrivel up and die hoping everyone forgets me I have no friends so how hard can it be.

It times like this that I think of the future and I get angry which give sense to such a meaningless life

Whats the meaning of life.. I guess something's can't be explained.

The demons came knocking at my door and I'm afraid I've let them in praying everyday I don't commit the Ultimate Sin.

The words I write are just a humble view of my life in truth I never wanted to be here either such unclear thoughts do you hear the Demons singing.

The tomorrow's of tomorrow's are my worst fear how do I sleeping knowing there's none how shall I continue.

I've always shrouded my self in some kind of fantasy to escape real life.

Stumbling around the world on hope and dreams.

It true I dream and I hope I hope and i dream.

I quit.

I quit.
