I'll Always Love You

all the time that i spent i never knew what all this meant id been waiting on you.
id been wishing for you.
but then when it came the time i wanted nothing more than to call you mine.
you walked towards me and i started to cry as i realised how much time had passed by.
but as much as i missed you, and i missed you a lot i think all the love we shared had been forgot i no longer wish to call you mine and i had thought i wanted you until the end of time but our paths are so different, yours and mine and i think that the silence between us is a sign.
ill always love you, i promise its true i guess it just wasnt meant to be me and you.
