A Waterfall

When pressure is released the heart will see the truth that surrounds the existence of man. I shall reveal the simple in life at the moment trust is engaged. For if you send love and truth the earth will reveal the plan from the start and if you release lies and deceit the earth will rumble in pain for the plan here engaged at the cross of truth shall always be effective from Calvary to you. I send my love in a form known to man and the earth is the result of happiness in this plan. So look for a way to sustain life by doing a random act of kindness to release joy in your heart. A wave will send a ripple of love if you agree to release my plan. Amen.
