Winners of Susan's the Same But Different Challenge

The winners of Susan's the Same But Different Challenge are as follows:

After reading everyone's poems it was hard for me to determine a winner so all that entered have won this challenge. I found things in all of the poems that were just amazing and to say I loved this one more than that would be a lie.

Each of you has won so here is my prize. If I am not your fan let me know. I will do that because you all deserve it. Second I will read 5 poems, stories, or chapters you have up. Let me know which ones I have not read. You will each be placed on my profile because of your excellent writing skills.

I hope this is okay with everyone who was involved in my challenge. As you all know I always try to be fair and honest. So I just want to say congratulations to the winners.
