the trio

his story is long

so he made it short

easy to read

its not sweet

nor was it ever mean

she was his life he loved

so very much

but it wasn't enough as an artist

so he fell

once more

with a women he liked

and never loved

they had children

and so he left

he fell once more with

a women he admired

not to love

it was not tragic

in the end

when he died

not long after his first true love hung herself to be with him forever

and in the end

the trio

can you feel me

for all to come to a stand

he found that love

itself was his life that took two for the price of one....

and forever was the story

held at such a gloom.

can you feel me

can you feel me
