Cursed Flowers

Cursed Roses

Cursed roses that bloom at midnight
Catches passers eyes at first sight
Glowing in color; so red so bright
Don't be fooled by its enchanted light
Growing by others suffering and pain
Not needing even a single drop of rain
Cures the ill and those in vain
Dipping it in enemies' blood to stain
Deadly roses living in the darks
With thorns that will leave marks
Not on their hands but on the hearts
Unlocking secrets that were mysteries from the start
Scented roses from the dead
Take to the heart all I have said
