A Blessing

He never looks for lauds
He's never one to boast He just goes on quietly working For those he loves the most.

His desires are seldom spoken His wants are very few
And most of the time his worries
Will go unspoken too.

He would correct you time and again for you to form a corner in brain to amass in you sagacity, he would fetch all the preeminent entity.

He's at hand with a firm foundation through all our storms of life a sturdy hand to hold tight in times of stress and strife.

A true friend we can turn to When times are good or bad
One of our greatest blessings,
The man whom we call Dad.
