

The last day.

The last day.

By : coolkatz0

A song/poem i wrote just now about the last day i was genuinely happy.

The last day.

The last day.

before total despair consumes, love must flee first and all my love has left, leaving me feeling the worst i feel empty, like i have no heart i have no idea how it all started i dont know when the day came the day that it all began, back before you left my heart in two
the last day when i still felt the same the last day i was happy was the last day you held me in your arms when i surrendered to your charm and believed every single one of your lies before my heart died.

The last day.

The last day.

The last day.
