No goodbyes (poetry)

He is worthless
Worthless as a dull penny
He broke her heart
He will never have someone so special as her
She was like sunlight that never dies out
She had feelings for him
Why did he let her go
And he will never give a thought of it
While she drowns in tears
With fears that she will never love again
While she sits without him by her side
She never has a smile on her face
So sad and so heart wrenching
If only I could help
With no tears left of her
She lets her life pass away
Without any goodbyes..
