Together We Walk

Life is full of twists and turns with hardship along the way
Friends and lovers exist as one we are always here so stay
No matter what life throws at you remember I am always here
Together through the darkest times we shall overcome the fear
I don't want to be isolated and walk this path alone
So take my hand and walk with me I am waiting to be shown
I need to make the right decision be certain of the path that I will take Hoping that this time it's true and say goodbye to the fake
