The Storm and Me

Thereâs lighting outside
Flashing quickly like life
Clouds are closing in
Cold and grey like my life right now
And water begins to fall
Almost like the tears slipping from my eyes
Then thunder comes in
Loud like the pounding in my head
The wind rushes in
Like the questions being asked
Leaves and branches begin to fall
Almost like the pieces of my heart
Suddenly a rainbow appears
Funny, cause thatâs not the ending in my life
