This one goes out to the one

This one goes out to the one

This one goes out to the one who hung themselves out of shame for something they did so wrong in the past,

This one goes out to the one who was killed either over something stupid or killed out of hatred from another being,

This one goes out to the one who cries at night over the secrets they have to live with,

This one goes out to the one who never gets a second chance or a second glance,

This one goes out to the one who cries over a broken heart,

This one goes out to the ones who are too weak to fight back,

This one goes out to the one who is judged daily for what they have gone through,

This one goes out to the one who is never listened to,

This one goes out to the one who will always wander alone in the world,

This one goes out to the one who only needs just one friend in their life.

.Please hear me when i speak up and say the words as loud as i can, I am sorry

This one goes out to the one
