Stain Glass Heart

Copyright (c) Victor Darnell Hadnot

You are filled with the obvious manifest

While charm is wasted tears of Eve

Blasted in emotional floods of passion

Shape will vanish the green coronal

Expressions while bake the memories

May flame and resist the sacred

But lower the heart of commonness

The stilly twilight pours weeping through

Our love so stormy itâs broken past

Flowers and grass unlike me when

I crumble at your blinding beauty

That clime divine yesterday in despite

Your perfect lips upon mine so bitter sweet

The giant shadow the whirling dust

A hint of souls random depart

Thy pure breath the faint dying

Quest of my stain glass heart
