Regressive Schizophrenia

Sometimes there is no where else to hide

So I regress inside my mind, my head

There I suppress the untouched memories

My mind contains it all

My imagination doesn't shut its face

It is fully human now

My creation

Inside My Head

Here I find a network of safety

A balance of gravity

Between the good and the evil

Which continually disrupts my day

However in my mind there is balance

Zanadoo and silence

I may be swaying back and forth

But my mind tells me the others aren't there

Nothing to be scared of says Mr. Imagination

He is there to protect my mind from the doings of this world

The dystopian world no longer exists and

The Utopia can only be found in my mind

There are things in which I can not deal

There's making money and managing my love

Complicated unpredictable undesirable love

Love that suppresses my boyfriend and admits another love

Regressive Schizophrenia

Money more money and things in which I can not be dealt
So I regress oppress and undress to escape the world
And disappear inside my head where
There is no more going here or there
A time where no responsibility exists
A place only I can access
A creation of passion of my mind
I own and your access is denied
But I so strongly fear that I shall go there and never return
Sometime I fear If I stay in this zanadoo too long
They will come to take me away
They will find a way to access the most private of thoughts
They the outsiders are always there
To scare me and my insanity away
I can't even own my insanity
My mind is of someone else's control
How if I can't express my philosophy
It is identified as beezle bub
My best friend
It can't express
So an ending to my life perhaps would be better than
The needles the screaming the lasting embarrassment of my despise
The forever robe of my disguise
I regress inside my head
