

The World Of The Sky

By : Jonathen Baker

Someone asked me to write a happy poem for once.

The World Of The Sky

The grass

Soft against my skin

The warm sun

Mixing with the cool air

For once i feel peace

I gaze up at the clouds

My mind drifts

Oh how wondrous that world is

The world of the sky

I imagine myself in that world

In the world of the sky

Happiness is palpable

Joy surrounds me

In the world of the sky

I see love

It's beautiful

Indescribable

It fills me up

In this moment i am complete

In the world of the sky

I travel

Complete as i am

Whole

To the pool of serenity

The World Of The Sky

The World Of The Sky

Colors dance

A rainbow of emotions

I die my head

Into the blessed waters

The emotions fill me

In the world of the sky

I fall

Breaking the water

Feelings Overflow

I sink

To the bottom of the pool

Further

Through the sky

Weightless

The cold air soothes my face

The warm sun heats my back

In my body i land

The ecstasy

Now a lingering memory

I gaze up at the clouds

I smile

I reminisce on the journey

Oh how wonderful that world is

The world of the sky

The World Of The Sky

The World Of The Sky
