living for the moment

Time quickly passes by like a horse with wings, it flies. Then comes Spring and Fall suddenly dies

Summer quickly turns into Autumn and sadly said goodbye. Winter's decided to stick around, its wrath is all over the town, or so cold, and snow everywhere,

You can imagine the rush in the supermarkets, grocery stores and malls, food and drinks, coming off the walls. its last call, We live for the moment then die forever

Time never waits for no man, woman or child, neither does the weather, so never say never, no. Everything is just for a while, Oh but There goes sadness, trying to take away gladness, underneath it all we can still smile, cuz we live for the moment, life is short, love is heaven send, to you and i.

Yet we yearned for just a little ray of sunshine, in our lives, maybe a song, a rhythm, a rhyme. As we breathe the fresh Summer's breeze, the feeling of love is in the air its yet another chance again for us to live, love and dance away our pain and sorrows, blame it on tomorrow, But oh how time flies like the wind. we live for the moment.

but die forever, lets live for love, and die in love. cuz we live in the moment, and die forever, lets live and, love like its the last, AS TIME PAST QUICK AND SWIFT LIKE THE WIND, LIVING FOR THE MOMENT, CUZ DIEING IS FOREVER.
