

You Are Here

You Are Here

By : L A Gardner

I wrote this for all those who have lost faith, for those who have had their hearts broken, for those who need a helping hand.

You Are Here

You Are Here

The sun deceives
and the air is chilled.
I am left in the mud
holding my heart in my hands.

I cannot help but wonder

if you were here
would I be here to?
Would you and I
stand together
against the world?
It is neither here nor there but I still feel the sting of being left in this place
by myself in an unknown world.
