

Poem: Out of the Mouths of Idiots...

By : Mike Stevens

Something I said, that I would give ANYTHING to have back

Published on Booksie

booksie.com/Mike Stevens

Copyright © Mike Stevens, 2015
Publish your writing on Booksie.com.

Poem: Out of the Mouths of Idiots...

Out of the Mouths of Idiots...

Oh, I wish I could learn to keep my mouth shut

Still wake up in a cold sweat when I think I shouldn't have, but, plowed right ahead; didn't heed the warning call

Really shouldn't have said anything at all, but I flapped my face, and said something I now regret

Now I have to live with a memory, I'd just as soon forget

It was a result of my head injury, the guilt I couldn't take

Even a fleeting thought made me look for an escape

And escape meant telling that person; my thoughts on everything

As a result, a lot of pain I did bring to someone I cared about, probably too much

Yes, I really struck out in the clutch!

For what I said proved too much for her to bear

It pushed her away from me, and it just wasn't fair

I had to work things out, with 1/2 my brain tied behind my back!

All because of a fleeting thought and the intelligence I lacked

Poem: Out of the Mouths of Idiots...

Poem: Out of the Mouths of Idiots...

Created from Booksie.com

Generated: 2015-02-01 13:13:09