Love's Mystery

I would teach you of life and love, show you what I'm made of,
but you've sealed the part,
to your precious heart.

Oh, love of mine,
pray please be kind,
can you not see,
love's mystery?

I would instruct you how to sing, grant any wish, give anything, but you don't seem to understand, a touch is not just with the hand.

Oh, love of mine,
pray please be kind,
can you not see,
love's mystery?

I would be there right by your side, from morning's dawn, till eventide, but you still fight those things you feel, can you not see this love is real?
