ALLIGATOR

the second of july

way back in 1843
they had a big tornado down in charleston SC although there are no reptiles that are blessed with gear to fly that day an alligator simply fell out of the sky some times it's raining cats and dog and though that makes no sense a snarling toothy gator is a new experience if visiting in charleston when wild winds fill the sky perhaps you'd better be on guard for gators on the fly
