Reasons For War

Standing there, gun in hand

The reason for this war hasn't been told

So long it has gone on

The reason fo fighting has been forgotten

And yet it goes on

And for all time it will

Because nobody stops hating

And where there is hate

There will be war, bloodshed, and death

Single bullet-hole through the head

Or massacred by more than one

Now, as the first shot is heard

And your body falls to the ground

You lay there, gun in hand
