Dylan, I miss you! I'm sorry for everything, I'm sorry but you won't forgive me...

Let Go of Him

Let Go of Him

As I sat there

I must of

cried out your name

a thousand times

I breathe in all of the memories that

come flooding back again

This is a nightmare that will always come back in the end

My tears fell down like rain

I can't stand the pain

of this question

lingering in my head

Should I,

let go of him?

Should I,

just move on

and live?

Or should I,

just give up and

breakdown again?

and should I,

never let go

Let Go of Him

Let Go of Him

of him?

I've thought through this

many times before

But right now

you shut the door

I'm scared of living life alone

because you left me

all on my own

I drown in these

memories

of you and I

I feel like

I'm going to die

I still think that

there's still some

strength left in me

but everyone sees

that I'm too weak

and the one question

that lingers around me

Should I,

let go of him?

Should I,

just move on

and live?

Or should I,

just give up and
breakdown again?
and should I,
never let go
of him?
I feel the pain
start to suffocate me
I feel the tears
fall down slowly
I just can't believe the question that has
wrapped around my body;
Was it you,
who let go of me?
Was it you,
who decided to move on and live?
Is it only me,
that will never let go of how we used to be?
Will it only be me,
who never lets go of these memories?
