A Snowflake passed this way

Fragile is the mind

That has lost a friend

Fragile too is the snowflake

Seeking sanctuary on my window sill

Both are anonymous to the world

Fragile is the dreamer

Who knows the snowflake well

Pure as an angels tear

Complex as the heavens above

For Within its crystal, there is a place

That reminds us of summer days

A garden where the soul can laze

Where Friends are bees

Who pollinate life?

With love and laughter

Fragile is the life

Searching for answers

Sharing a snowflakes fate

Brothers of nature

Beautiful and Unique

A Snowflake passed this way

A Snowflake passed this way

Born to melt away

In the heat of time

For it is an honour to know a life that others did not

A memory for my garden to keep

Fragile too are we who love this life

Whose lives are touched by those we meet

Who gather the things that make us complete

Friends and Snowflake memories

My happiness in this fragile life

A Snowflake passed this way
