Love gave up

One night i woke heart-broke
I really wanted your love but there's no hope
Sat around , smoking trying to cope
But that only provoked pain it really drove me insane
But i had to let her go
All these different feelings inside
Its always been hard to hide
But i guess it was never meant to be i just wanted a little more time for her to see But that never happened ,perhaps then Ill have to go sometime with out love
I lost hope of the big guy above
Its easy to fall in love but its hard to climb out
