Konichiwa!! hahah. just kidding! hello booksie writers! well as you see im making this book come alive by writing it. of course i wouldn't have done this, and would be continuing with My Roommate, but since i have decided to join in on the fun and do the contest Cera Seren is holding! im doing Prompt # 2!! well its about "if you put two people who hate eachother in a cab, what would/could happen?" hahaha... it's given me a thought! but anyways the summary! -----Venus(main character) has to live with a man, Zane for two whole years.

The weird thing is though that they both hate eachother! they set up a contract and rules for the house/apartment they are renting. And one of them is to not fall in love with each other! the reason! ahh, the reason as to why they are living together! i can't tell you yet! hehe... hope you guys like!

Rule #3

“Just saying, no need to do this stupid contract.” Zane said slowly, as he was pulling a cigarette out.
“because, for sure I am NEVER going to break any of these stupid conditions,”

“Sure sure, but neither am I. Just watch, sooner or later you will be heads over heels for me in less than two years!” I said laughing, trying to piss him off even more.

“Don’t you mean, that your going to fall for me.” Zane said smirking back at me.

“Who, will fall for you pervert.” I said to him as I blew out his flame that was going to light his cigarette.

“Someday, I am going to torture you” Zane said in a cold voice glaring at me with his dark blue eyes.

“Good luck doing that!” I laughed back at him as I grabbed my phone and folded the contract placed it in inside pocket of my leather jacket and stood up. “Well, now that we’ve got this done I will be going!” I said cheerfully.

“Home?” Zane said staring out of the window.

“Well it is a Friday! no I won’t be going back to the house. If it wasn’t a Friday, then yes. But since it is a Friday I won’t be back until tomorrow morning!” I said to Zane as I stared at my phone.

“BEEP! BEEP! BEEP!”

“Ah! Avery is calling me!” I said excitedly. “Hello,” I answered.

“Venus!!” Avery screamed.

“Hey bro,” I said back smiling.

“You coming tonight?” Avery asked loudly through the phone.

“I was, but maybe not anymore.” I said calmly.

“What, why?” Avery said in a sad voice.

“First, you need to chill down ok! And second I might be late, tell that to everyone ok!” I said in a cheerful voice.

“I’ve got your order down, bro!” Avery said excitedly.

“Ok, I gotta go and get ready! I will be at the usual place!” I said laughing.

“Ok, see you in an hour!” Avery said.

“Yea, see you in an hour!” I said back and hung up on her.

“Well, I will be going!” I said to Zane. “I will be back by tomorrow to have breakfast and lunch ready if you need it.”

“Take your time!” Zane said calmly.

Rule #3

“Oh, I will.” I said smiling back as I exited the bar. I walked over to my motorcycle, and placed my helmet over my head with my hair tucked inside. Of course though, I didn’t just drive any old plain motorcycle. I drove a street sport motorcycle, a Kawasaki Ninja ZX6R 2013! I turned the engine on and drove out of the parking lot and headed towards home.

I arrived in front of home in ten minutes. I unlocked the door and entered, I walked toward my bedroom and on over to my closet. I took out my phone and the contract out of my jacket and placed it on the bed. I unzipped my jacket and hung it back on a hanger and placed it in its original place. I slid a black long sleeves shirt on, and kept my black leggings on. I took off my black wedge booties and slipped on a pair of black toms. Before I left the house I braided my long hair tightly so it wouldn’t get in the way when we did what we always did on Friday nights. I marched down the stairs that lead the way out and in to the apartments. I got onto my motorcycle that was still running, and left for the usual place we hung out.
