grieve, sorrows, hurt, pain, heartaches, sadness, lust and sin, corruptions, horror, misconception, outside and within, don't ask or tell for whom the bells tolls for, where here today, and gone tomorrow, like the wind strike terra though the thickness, of the forest. Dark torchered souls, tormented, depress, and condemn, an outcast death is like a friend you never had, just waiting with an evil grin like sin, dark and torchered souls, doom to hell, wasted time, that can never come back, too late to repent, black magic spells, tears and cheers, boos and rancors, rebellion in the millions cold hearts, victimizations, that makes us shiver and tremble with fear. the end is near, a thick cloud over shadows the skies, howling sounds of sad souls as they cried, dark torchered souls, in the middle of the night, screams for a drop of water, a thirst like never before in the end of the world, blood on the moon, death has come at noon, tomorrow is so soon. his spirit has come home, free at last,

WELL COME HOME. dark torchered soul ur free
