What Feeling Remains?

What feeling remains,
after all the notes refrains have caused the loss of fears and a stream of endless tears?

The feeling left is love the thing composers write of all the magic and tragedy each note replayed eternally.

What feeling always endures and offers worthwhile cures for those who have felt the pain and have tried once again?

The feeling I speak of is the power of pure love the feeling which understands continues to grow and withstands.
